Severed States Dilemmas Of Democracy In A Divided World:

Exile and Return Ann M. Lesch, Ian S. Lustick, 2008-10-28 The Israeli Palestinian and American contributors to this volume consider the catastrophic failure of the Oslo peace process and the years of bloody violence that ensued The Ashgate Research Companion to Secession Peter Radan, 2016-03-23 Secession is a detachment of a territory from an existing state with the aim of creating a new state on the detached territory Secession is usually an outcome of the political mobilization of a population on the territory to be detached and as a political phenomenon is a subject of study in the social sciences Its impact on inter state relations is a subject of study in international relations But secession is also subject to regulation both in the constitutional law of sovereign states and in international law Following a spate of secessions in the early 1990s legal scholars have proposed a variety of ways to regulate the international responses to attempts at secessions Moreover since the 1980s normative justification of secession has been subject to an intense debate among political theorists and moral philosophers This research companion has the following three complementary aims First to offer an overview of the current theoretical approaches to secession in the social sciences international relations legal theory political theory and applied ethics Second to outline the current practice of international recognition of secession and current domestic and international laws which regulate secession Third to offer an account of major secessionist movements past and present from a comparative perspective In their accounts of past secessions and current secessionist movements the contributors to this volume focus on the following four components the nature and source of secessionist grievances the ideologies and techniques of secessionist mobilization the responses of the host state or majority parties in the host state and the international response to attempts at secession This provides a basis for identification of at least some common patterns in the otherwise highly varied processes of secession Partitioning Palestine Penny Sinanoglou, 2019-11-22 Partitioning Palestine is the first history of the ideological and political forces that led to the idea of partition that is a division of territory and sovereignty in British mandate Palestine in the first half of the twentieth century Inverting the spate of narratives that focus on how the idea contributed to or hindered the development of future Israeli and Palestinian states Penny Sinanoglou asks instead what drove and constrained British policymaking around partition and why partition was simultaneously so appealing to British policymakers yet ultimately proved so difficult for them to enact Taking a broad view not only of local and regional factors but also of Palestine's place in the British empire and its status as a League of Nations mandate Sinanoglou deftly recasts the story of partition in Palestine as a struggle to maintain imperial control After all British partition plans imagined space both for a Zionist state indebted to Britain and for continued British control over key geostrategic assets depending in large part on the forced movement of Arab populations With her detailed look at the development of the idea of partition from its origins in the 1920s Sinanoglou makes a bold contribution to our understanding of the complex interplay between internationalism and imperialism at the end of the British empire and reveals the legacies of British partitionist thinking in the broader history of decolonization in the modern Middle East Bosnia After Dayton Sumantra Bose, 2002 Bose comparative politics London School of Economics and Political Science explores the political dimensions of the internally led reconstruction process in the Balkan country since the late 1995 Dayton Peace Agreement He argues that the post war experience of Bosnia Herzegovina is important and relevant for its own sake but also as a highly visible testing ground for post Cold War interventions in general and specifically the agendas of Europe transatlantic security organizations and development agencies Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Palestine and the International Criminal Court Seada Hussein Adem, 2019-04-05 This book deals with the possible investigation and prosecution by the International Criminal Court ICC of crimes allegedly committed in the Israeli Palestinian conflict In light of the Rome Statute and the Practice of the Office of the Prosecutor of the Court among others it examines the route possible outcomes and challenges that may arise were the Palestine situation to be brought before the ICC The subject matter is approached using the route the Prosecutor of the Court would generally employ to deal with situations The publication offers a step by step procedure by which to conduct the preliminary examination and investigation of the situation in Palestine and deals with matters of jurisdiction followed by a discussion of the fundamental concepts of complementarity and gravity to determine the admissibility before the ICC Alleged crimes particularly unique to the Israeli Palestinian conflict such as the construction of settlements forced displacement house demolitions the expropriation of land the crime of apartheid and the blockade of Gaza are dealt with in light of the Rome Statute and international law On the basis of the established theories of transitional justice the possible impacts of an ICC investigation and prosecution on the conflict are analysed and a number of insights are shared with regard to the impacts of the ICC on combatting impunity fostering Palestine s statehood peace negotiations and the stability of the region Due to the politicisation of the conflict and the various interests at stake the impact of the ICC s involvement on the credibility of the ICC itself is also reviewed Recognizing the numerous impacts of the conflict on the existence of the two nations and the multitude of causes for its perpetuity it does not limit itself to the ICC but also provides other conflict resolution alternatives that could enable reconciliation and sustainable peace in the region This book provides an array of opinions and a crucial input for researchers and practitioners alike while it is also useful to those investigating and possibly involved in prosecutions regarding Palestine or other similar situations before the ICC Seada Hussein Adem obtained a PhD from Humboldt University of Berlin Germany an LLM from the University of the Western Cape South Africa and an LLB from Haramaya University Ethiopia div Methods and Nations Michael J. Shapiro, 2004 Annotation Methods and Nations critiques one of the primary deployments of twentieth century social science comparative politics whose major focus has been nation building in the Third World often attempting to universalize and render self evident its own practices International relations theorists unable to resist the cognitive imperialism of a state centric social science have allowed themselves to become colonized Michael Shapiro seeks to bring recognition to forms of political expression alternative modes of intelligibility for things people and spaces that have existed on the margins of the nationhood practices of states and the complicit nation sustaining conceits of social science      The Bengal Borderland Willem van Schendel, 2005 The Bengal Borderland constitutes the epicentre of the partition of British India Yet while the forging of international borders between India Pakistan Bangladesh and Burma the Bengal Borderland has been a core theme in Partition studies these crucial borderlands have remarkably been largely ignored by historians      Geographies of Liberation Alex Lubin, 2014 Geographies of Liberation The Making of an Afro Arab Political Imaginary      Modernity with a Cold War Face Xiaojue Wang, 2020-05-11 The year 1949 witnessed China divided into multiple political and cultural entities How did this momentous shift affect Chinese literary topography Modernity with a Cold War Face examines the competing converging and conflicting modes of envisioning a modern nation in mid twentieth century Chinese literature Bridging the 1949 divide in both literary historical periodization and political demarcation Xiaojue Wang proposes a new framework to consider Chinese literature beyond national boundaries as something arising out of the larger global geopolitical and cultural conflict of the Cold War Examining a body of heretofore understudied literary and cultural production in mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and overseas during a crucial period after World War II Wang traces how Chinese writers collected artistic fragments blended feminist and socialist agendas constructed ambivalent stances toward colonial modernity and an imaginary homeland translated foreign literature to shape a new Chinese subjectivity and revisited the classics for a new time Reflecting historical reality in fictional terms their work forged a path toward multiple modernities as they created alternative ways of connection communication and articulation to uncover and undermine Cold War dichotomous antagonism

Burned Bridge Edith Sheffer, 2014 Examines Burned Bridge the intersection between two sister cities in East and West Germany and reveals how the daily adjustments of anxious residents shaped the barrier that divided them      A Companion to Border Studies Thomas M. Wilson, Hastings Donnan, 2016-01-19 A Companion to Border Studies Taking into consideration all aspects this book has a very important role in the professional literature of border studies Cross Border Review Yearbook of the European Institute Summing Up Highly recommended Upper division undergraduates and above Choice This book with its interdisciplinary team of authors from many world regions shows the state of the art in this research field admirably Ulf Hannerz Stockholm University This volume will be the definitive work on borders and border related processes for years into the future The editors have done an outstanding job of identifying key themes and of assembling influential scholars to address these themes David Nugent Emory University This urgently needed Companion edited by two leading figures of border studies reflects past insights and showcases new directions a must read for understanding territory power and the state Dr Nick Vaughan Williams University of Warwick This impressive collection will have a broad appeal beyond specialist border studies Anyone with an interest in the nation state nationalism ethnicity political geography or indeed the whole historical project of the modern world system will want to have access to a copy The substantive scope is global and the intellectual reach deep and wide Simply indispensable Richard Jenkins University of Sheffield Dramatic growth in the number of international borders has coincided in recent years with greater mobility than ever before of goods people and ideas As a result interest in borders as a focus of academic study has developed into a dynamic multi disciplinary field embracing perspectives from anthropology development studies geography history political science and sociology Authors provide a comprehensive examination of key characteristics of borders and frontiers including cross border cooperation security and controls migration and population displacements hybridity and transnationalism A Companion to Border Studies brings together these disciplines and viewpoints through the writing of an international collection of preeminent border scholars Drawing on research from Africa Asia the Middle East Europe and the Americas the contributors argue that the future of Border Studies lies within such diverse collaborations which approach comparatively the features of borders worldwide

Encyclopedia of Violence, Peace, and Conflict ,2008-09-05 The 2nd edition of Encyclopedia of Violence Peace and Conflict provides timely and useful information about antagonism and reconciliation in all contexts of public and personal life Building on the highly regarded 1st edition 1999 and publishing at a time of seemingly inexorably increasing conflict and violent behaviour the world over the Encyclopedia is an essential reference for students and scholars working in the field of peace and conflict resolution studies and for those seeking to explore alternatives to violence and share visions and strategies for social justice and social change Covering topics as diverse as Arms Control Peace Movements Child Abuse Folklore Terrorism and Political Assassinations the Encyclopedia comprehensively addresses an extensive information area in 225 multi disciplinary cross referenced and authoritatively authored articles In his Preface to the 1st edition Editor in Chief Lester Kurtz wrote The problem of violence poses such a monumental challenge at the end of the 20th century that it is surprising we have addressed it so inadequately We have not made much progress in learning how to cooperate with one another more effectively or how to conduct our conflicts more peacefully Instead we have increased the lethality of our combat through revolutions in weapons technology and military training The Encyclopedia of Violence Peace and Conflict is designed to help us to take stock of our knowledge concerning these crucial phenomena Ten years on the need for an authoritative and cross disciplinary approach to the great issues of violence and peace seems greater than ever More than 200 authoritative multidisciplinary articles in a 3 volume set Many brand new articles alongside revised and updated content from the First Edition Article outline and glossary of key terms at the beginning of each article Entries arranged alphabetically for easy access Articles written by more than 200 eminent contributors from around the world

Terrorism in Asymmetrical Conflict Ekaterina A. Stepanova,2008-03-13 The book s main focus is on extremist ideologies and structural capabilities of violent non state actors that employ terrorist means Ideologies and organizational patterns are seen as the main comparative advantages of such groups in an asymmetrical confrontation at all levels from the local to the global Resolution of the key issues of the armed conflict is seen as essential but this is not sufficient to undermine the foundations of terrorism generated by that conflict unless the structural capabilities of militant groups are fully disrupted and the role of extremist ideologies in driving their terrorist activities is neutralized With its central focus on Islamist terrorism the book argues that the quasi religious supra national ideology of violent Islamism especially in its most ambitious transnational forms cannot be effectively counterbalanced at the ideological level either by Western democratic secularism or by the use of moderate versions of Islam itself The author concludes that unless transnational violent Islamism is first nationalized and second transformed in organizational terms through its being coopted into a more regular political process it is unlikely to become amenable to persuasion or any external influence let alone to be destroyed by the repression on which it thrives The study also proposes an original typology of terrorism based on the overall level of a militant group s goals and the extent to which its terrorist activities are linked to a broader armed conflict It combines qualitative research with the analysis of available data on trends in modern terrorism and the use of primary sources and writings

Place and Postcolonial Ecofeminism Shazia Rahman,2019-08-01 While news reports about Pakistan tend to cover Taliban attacks and bombings and academics focus on security issues the environment often takes a backseat in media reportage and scholarship In particular Pakistani women s attachment to their environment and their environmental concerns are almost always ignored Shazia Rahman traces the ways in which Pakistani women explore alternative environmental modes of belonging examines the vitality of place based identities within Pakistani culture and thereby contributes to evolving understandings of Pakistani women in relation to both their environment and to various discourses of nation and patriarchy Through an astute analysis of such works as Sabiha Sumar s Khamosh Pani 2003 Mehreen Jabbar s Ramchand Pakistani 2008 Sorayya Khan s Noor 2006 Uzma Aslam Khan s Trespassing 2003 and Kamila Shamsie s Burnt Shadows 2009 Rahman illuminates how Pakistani women s creative works portray how people live with one another deal with their environment and intuit their relationship with the spiritual She considers how literary and cinematic documentation of place based identities simultaneously critiques and counters stereotypes of Pakistan as a country of religious nationalism and oppressive patriarchy Rahman s analysis discloses fresh perspectives for thinking about the relationship between social and environmental justice

Ethnic Cleansing and the European Union L. Tesser,2013-05-14 This book offers the first multi case analysis of the politics of ethnic remixing in an expanding EU including studies on Central Europe the Balkans and Cyprus Tesser explains the politics of minority return in a post national Europe with particular attention to the long term aftermath of minority removal as a conflict resolution policy

The Literature of Northern Ireland M. Ruprecht Fadem,2015-01-08 Through close readings of texts by playwright Anne Devlin poet Medbh McGuckian and novelist Anna Burns this book examines the ways Irish cultural production has been disturbed by partition Ruprecht Fadem argues that literary texts address this tension through spectral bordered metaphors and juxtapositions of the ancient and the contemporary

Postcolonial Disaster Pallavi Rastogi,2020-04-15 Postcolonial Disaster studies literary fiction about crises of epic proportions in contemporary South Asia and Southern Africa the oceanic disaster in Sri Lanka the economic disaster in Zimbabwe the medical disaster in South Africa and Botswana and the geopolitical disaster in India and Pakistan Pallavi Rastogi argues that postcolonial fiction about catastrophe is underpinned by a Disaster Unconscious a buried but mobile agenda that forces disastrous events to narrate themselves She writes that in disaster fiction a literary Story and its real life Event are in constant dialectic tension In recent disasters Story and Event are tied together as the urgency to circulate information and rebuild in the aftermath of the disaster dictates the flow of the narrative As the Story acquires temporal distance from the Event such as the seventy three years since the partition of India in 1947 it plays more with form and theme to expand beyond a tale about an all consuming tragedy Story and Event are in a constant dance with each other and the Disaster Unconscious plays the tune to which they move Rastogi creates a narratology for postcolonial disaster fiction and brings concepts from Disaster Studies into the realm of literary analysis

Social Movements and Global Social Change Robert K. Schaeffer, 2014-02-06 Social Movements and Global Social Change teaches students not only about how social change occurs but also how social movements can contribute to this change The book links two concepts in sociology that are often related in real life but that can seem disconnected in traditional approaches to teaching these courses The book examines different types of social movements including those often ignored in social change textbooks such as riots migration and disorganized protest It also looks at citizens rights and inequality in connection to social movements and change The book features global perspectives and examples throughout

A Treatise on Northern Ireland, Volume I Brendan O'Leary, 2019-04-04 This first volume in A Treatise on Northern Ireland illuminates how British colonialism shaped the formation and political cultures of what became Northern Ireland and the Irish Free State Contrasting colonial and sectarianized accounts of modern Irish history Brendan O Leary shows that a judicious meld of these perspectives provides a properly political account of direct and indirect rule and of administrative and settler colonialism The British state incorporated Ulster and Ireland into a deeply unequal Union after four re conquests over two centuries had successively defeated the Ulster Gaels the Catholic Confederates the Jacobites and the United Irishmen and their respective European allies Founded as a union of Protestants in Great Britain and Ireland rather than of the British and the Irish nations the colonial and sectarian Union was infamously punctured in the catastrophe of the Great Famine The subsequent mobilization of Irish nationalists and Ulster unionists and two republican insurrections amid the cataclysm and aftermath of World War I brought the now partly democratized Union to an unexpected end aside from a shrunken rump of British authority baptized as Northern Ireland Home rule would be granted to those who had claimed not to want it after having been refused to those who had ardently sought it The failure of possible federal reconstructions of the Union and the fateful partition of the island are explained and systematically compared with other British colonial partitions Northern Ireland was invented in accordance with British interests to resolve the hereditary animosities between the descendants of Irish natives and British settlers in Ireland In the long run the invention proved unfit for purpose Indispensable for explaining contemporary institutions and mentalities this volume clears the path for the intelligent reader determined to understand contemporary Northern Ireland      The breakup of India and Palestine Victor Kattan,Amit Ranjan,2023-08-15 This book is the first study of political and legal thinking about the partitions of India and Palestine in 1947 The chapters in the volume authored by leading scholars of partition draw attention to the pathways of peoples geographic spaces colonial policies laws and institutions that connect them from the vantage point of those most engaged by the process political actors party activists jurists diplomats philosophers and international representatives from the Middle East South Asia and beyond Additionally the volume investigates some of the underlying causes of partition in both places such as the hardening of religious fault lines majoritarian politics and the failure to construct viable forms of government in deeply divided societies
