Employment Rosemary Crompton, Duncan Gallie, Kate Purcell, 2002-03-11 During the last two decades there has been widespread evidence of change in specific aspects of employing organizations employment and employment related institutions Changing Forms of Employment looks at the underlying trends which generate pressures towards a fundamental reshaping of social institutions in three ways changes in the organization of production particularly those associated with the growth of service dominated economics the effects of technological change particularly those associated with Information Technology the erosion of the male breadwinner or single earner model of employment and household These trends have resulted in strains and ruptures in the organization and regulation of employment and related institutions including trade unions employers and households The task of the next decade is to both reconstruct relationships and to renew institutions

Beyond Hierarchy Sarah Oerton, 2013-10-08 Since the early 1980s there has been a surge of interest in both issues of gender and sexuality in work and organizational life and in the founding and running of co operatives and collectives Since hierarchy rests on divisions which are in part gendered and sexualized and co operatives for the most part operate with flat or non hierarchical structures they could be seen as places where gender and sexuality make little difference to the experiences of workers This text takes issue with the assumption that where there is an absence of formal hierarchy in work and organizational life there is likely to be an absence of gender inequalities It argues that the matter is more complex than the simple equating of less hierarchy with greater gender equality Queer Business Nick Rumens, 2017-09-13 In this modern day and age it is surprising that managerialist perspectives practices and ideas are colonising the study of sexualities in organisation A timely intervention into the contemporary vitality of queer theories Queer Business is an innovative book length exploration of how queer theory has been used in management and organisation studies with the aim of broadening and deepening queer scholarship in this discipline Through both scholarly and original empirical research Rumens also seeks to demonstrate how queer theory has been mobilised in MOS and how it might be advanced in a field where it has yet to become exhausted and clichéd In particular this volume shows how scholars can use queer theory concepts to explore how lesbian gay bisexual and transgender sexualities and genders are understood and experienced in the workplace Challenging notions of LGBT inclusivity in the workplace through concepts such as queer liberalism and homonormativity Queer Business

In the Company of Men James Gruber, Phoebe Morgan, 2005 Despite over twenty years of discussion and study sexual harassment remains a significant problem in the workplace Current research focusing on organizational policy and women's career development often ignores the reality of male dominance prevalent in areas such as the military the police and firefighting occupations that see not only more frequent but also more severe harassment even sexual assault Meanwhile new evidence points to the fact that men are largely responsible not only for the harassment of women but for most harassment of other men as well This landmark collection of original essays investigates the links between male dominance and sexual harassment in light of new research and more complex understandings of masculinity Treated not merely as a matter of worker sex ratios but as an inherent element of workplace culture male dominance is observed from a variety of quantitative and qualitative approaches ranging from criminology and sociology to psychology and gender studies Integrating both men s and women s viewpoints research across occupational groups and studies from both the United States and Europe the chapters provide an invaluable international perspective into two inextricably intertwined problems rooted in cultural constructions of gender and institutional roles and processes
