Love Has a Face Michele Perry, 2009-09-01 Termites for dinner Bombs in the backyard A nation torn by decades of war still on the brink Can one life really make a difference Born without her left hip and leg Michele Perry is no stranger to seeming impossibilities So when she arrived in war torn Southern Sudan with little more than her faith in God's promises she did what everyone told her was crazy she opened a home for orphaned children in the middle of guerilla warfare territory and has now become mama to over one hundred little lives With a deft pen she recounts unforgettable stories of life in the bush stories that capture the reader with the stark realities of living in a war zone and the power of God's love to transform them Her own story is just as compelling as the ministry she is living From working in the slums of India to finding her home in war ravaged Africa Michele's life has been a journey deeper into the supernatural power of God Readers will be swept up in one woman's poignant spellbinding captivatingly honest journey of love and the glimpses of God's tender grace and mercy in the midst of a broken and hurting world

Works of Love Robert L. Perkins, 1999 To claim that Works of Love is an important philosophical essay is to assume hazardous burden of proof The book's title is an allusion to the Bible's injunction that we should love our neighbor as we love ourselves a far cry far instance from Diotima's ladder of erotic desire up which we climb from the love of bodies until we catch a vision of that single sea of beauty beauty itself Plato Symposium This contrast given that some of some of our neighbors may not be particularly likable or one may even be a determined enemy suggests immediately to some that a book with such an obviously religious title must be excessively moralistic and at best full of sermon helps for the harried clergy or at worst laden with rules for the unlearned laity A casual perusal of a few paragraphs however shows these put down views of the book to be unfounded

Love as Common Ground Paul S. Fiddes, 2021-09-23 This book explores the way in which the study and practice of love creates a common ground for different faiths and different traditions within the same faith For the contributors common ground in this context is not a minimal core of belief or a lowest common denominator of faith but a space or area in which to live together consider together the meaning of the love to which various faiths witness and work together to enable human flourishing Such a space the contributors believe is possible because it is the place of encounter with the divine This book is the fruit of a Project for the Study of Love in Religion which aims to create this space in which different traditions of love converge from Islam Judaism and the Christianity of both East and West Tools employed by the contributors in exploring this space of love include exegesis of ancient texts theology accounts of mystical experience philosophy and evolutionary science of the human Insights about human and divine love that emerge include its nature as a form of knowing its sacrificial and erotic dimensions its inclination towards beauty its making of community and its importance for a just political and economic life
