The Note Books of Samuel Butler is an intriguing compilation that offers profound insights into Butler's intellectual musings and philosophical reflections on a diverse range of subjects including art, science, and society. The literary style is characterized by Butler's sharp wit and keen observational prowess, often presented in the form of aphorisms and succinct commentary which invites readers to engage critically with his thoughts. This collection acts as both an autobiographical window into the mind of a 19th-century Victorian intellectual and a broader commentary on his contemporary society, revealing the tensions between tradition and modernity that permeate his work. Samuel Butler was a polymath, a novelist, essayist, and social critic known for his iconoclastic ideas, especially towards Darwinism and Victorian values. His discontent with societal norms and traditional beliefs, stemming from his own unique experiences including his stay in New Zealand, shaped his unconventional worldview. These influences are palpable in his note books as he navigates both personal introspection and societal critique, melding philosophies and experiences into a rich tapestry of thought. This illuminating collection is highly recommended for readers interested in the interplay of art, philosophy, and social critique during the Victorian era. Butler's notes not only reflect his creative genius but also serve as a thought-provoking commentary that remains relevant in today's conversations about individualism and societal expectations.

Excerpt from The Note Books of Samuel Butler: Butler achieved for himself and the one which these Note Books so fully and singularly exemplify. There is a kind of man whose sensations come at the double who must take them down as they fly by or lose them eternally. Butler's note books were not kept for such a purpose. It was not his senses that were imperious for a scribe; it was his ruminations, his ideas. He was painter and musician as well as writer, and he was writer in the most general interpretation, but his chief characteristic was not so to speak sensuous impressionability. It was an incessant intellectual activity. He had the principle of stopping everywhere and anywhere to put down his notes, as the true painter will stop anywhere and everywhere to sketch, but the notes were not wild or woodland; they were memoranda in his endless discovery of wisdom. Occasionally the spectacle of the world urged him to record emotion, and he observes that from the age of twelve the music of his well-beloved Handel was never a day out of his head. But it was the opinions and ideas he derived from experience that stirred him to write in his Note Books. Experience did not so much enamor him as stimulate his mind.
