Nothing To Declare Memoirs Of A Woman Travelling Alone:

Nothing to Declare Mary Morris, 1999 Traveling from the highland desert of northern Mexico to the steaming jungles of Honduras to the seashore of the Caribbean Mary Morris confronts the realities of place of poverty of machismo and of self One gutsy woman and one fantastic writer Cosmopolitan Nothing to Declare Mary Morris, 1988 Communication and Tourism Michael Tsangaris, 2024-06-04 The nexus of human mobility and communication is intricate and this volume uncovers the deep rooted significance of tourism and media From antiquity to modern day Western communication systems have artfully crafted the allure of destinations making places irresistible to the travellers At its core this book proposes that the impetus for travel is a primal human necessity rooted in our inherent need for movement consciousness expansion and cultural development Featuring Greek civilization as a case study the book reveals how the rich cultural capital of modern Greece long admired and assimilated by many global cultures has immensely contributed to Greece s contemporary tourism imaginary Readers are challenged to look beyond prevailing practices where tourism management and marketing are the driving force for commercial exchange but to encompass its broader essence as a vital human function leading to richer experiences It will be of interest to academics within areas related to tourism studies mobility studies mass media communication and cultural studies Selves at Risk Ihab Hassan, 1990 In this era of supersonic jets ubiquitous McDonalds and pervasive Panasonics in our coddled jacuzzi culture our cybernetic society of acronyms and first names does the spirit of quest endure Indeed from rain forests across oceans steppes savannahs and saharas to the peaks of the Andes or Himalayas American writers still test the limits of human existence They test spirit flesh marrow and imagination in a timeless quest for meaning beyond civilization at the razor edge of mortality And they return with sun cracked skin and gazes honed on horizons to tell us the tale Ihab Hassan s new book on quests turns out to be a quest of his own He takes us through an invigorating range of today s American writers as they test themselves against the far corners of our tattered planet Hassan shows us how their quests and incidentally his own entwine risks commitments and desperate exercises in belief how their aspirations are human but uniquely American This is a book everyone interested in American culture can learn from and enjoy Hassan s voice is one of graceful wisdom and passionate elegance a refreshing landfall in today s turgid sea of criticism Norman N Holland University of Florida Going Places Robert Burgin, 2013-01-08 Successfully navigate the rich world of travel narratives and identify fiction and nonfiction read alike with this detailed and expertly constructed guide Just as savvy travelers make use of guidebooks to help navigate the hundreds of countries around the globe smart librarians need a guidebook that makes sense of the world of travel narratives Going Places A Reader s Guide to Travel Narratives meets that demand helping librarians assist patrons in finding the nonfiction books that most interest them It will also serve to help users better understand the genre and their own reading interests The book examines the subgenres of the travel narrative genre in its seven chapters categorizing and describing approximately 600 titles according to genres and broad reading interests and identifying hundreds of other fiction and nonfiction titles as read alike and related reads by shared key topics The author has also identified award winning titles and spotlighted further resources on travel lit making this work an ideal guide for readers advisors as well as a book general readers will enjoy browsing

The Lifeguard Mary Morris, 1998-04-15 Combining her consummate craft as a storyteller with her gift for dramatic travel writing Morris presents a powerful collection of ten short stories

The River Queen Mary Morris, 2013-05-03 This story of a middle aged woman's odyssey down the Mississippi River is a funny beautifully written and poignant tale of a journey that transforms a life In fall 2005 acclaimed travel writer Mary Morris set off down the Mississippi in a battered old houseboat called the River Queen with two river rats named Tom and Jerry and a rat terrier named Samantha Jean who hated her It was a time of emotional turmoil for Morris Her father had just died her daughter was leaving home life was changing all around her It was then she decided to return to the Midwest where she was from to the river she remembered where her father had played jazz piano in tiny towns Morris describes living like a pirate and surviving a tornado Because of Katrina oil prices and drought the river was often empty a ghost river and Morris experienced it as Joliet and Marquette had four hundred years earlier As she learned to pilot her beloved River Queen without running aground and made peace with Samantha Jean Morris got her groove back reconnecting to her past More important she came away with her best book a bittersweet travel tale told in the very real voice of a smart sad funny gutsy and absolutely appealing woman

Carnivalizing Difference Peter I. Barta, Paul Allen Miller, Charles Platter, David Shepherd, 2013-06-17 It has seemed at times that there is no neutral territory between those who see Bakhtin as the practitioner of a kind of neo Marxist or at least materialist deconstruction and those who look at the same texts and see a defender of traditional liberal humanist values and classical conceptions of order a conservative in the true sense of the term Arising from a conference under the same title held at Texas Tech University Carnivalizing Difference seeks to explore the actual and possible relationships between Bakhtinian theory and cultural practice The introduction explores the changing configurations of our understanding of Bakhtin's work in the context of recent theory and outlines how that understanding can inform and be informed by culture both ancient and modern Eleven articles spanning a wide range of periods and cultural forms then address these issues in detail revealing the ways in which Bakhtinian thought illuminates sometimes obfuscates but always challenges
