Gardiner, Julian Jason Haladyn, 2016-10-04 Boredom Studies is an increasingly

rich and vital area of contemporary research that examines the experience of boredom as an important even quintessential condition of modern life This anthology of newly commissioned essays focuses on the historical and theoretical potential of this modern condition connecting boredom studies with parallel discourses such as affect theory and highlighting possible avenues of future research Spanning sociology history art philosophy and cultural studies the book considers boredom as a mass response to the atrophy of experience characteristic of a highly mechanised and urbanised social life The Homiletic Monthly, 1884 Metropolitan Pulpit and Homiletic Monthly, 1884 Preacher and Homiletic Monthly, 1884 Albert Camus J. McBride, 2016-04-30 This book marks a major new reassessment of Camus's writing investigating the nature and philosophical origins of Camus's thinking on authenticity and the absurd as these notions are expressed in The Myth of Sisyphus and The Outsider It shows that these books are the product not only of a literary figure but of a genuine philosopher as well Moreover McBride provides a complete English language translation of Camus's Mythique chrétienne et Noplatonisme and underlines the importance of this study for the understanding of the early Camus Zara Yacob's Inauguration of Modernity and Cardiocentrism Teodros Kiros, 2024-10-02 For too long the human heart has been treated as no more than a physical organ that pumps blood Recently scientific evidence has emerged to show the heart is so much more Zara Yacob's Inauguration of Modernity and Cardiocentrism adds to the groundbreaking argument that the heart is also a thinking organ a function that is always attributed to the human brain The argument is marshalled with evidence and spiritual comportment Following an insight from seventeenth century Ethiopian philosopher Zara Yacob and in conversation with both Kemetian ancient Egyptian thought on the philosophical status of the human heart and contemporary discussions on the hard problem of consciousness Teodros Kiros argues that the heart is both a physical organ that pumps blood and a spiritual organ that originates thoughts which it shares with the brain Together they empower us to be compassionate empathetic generous and sincere
