The Psychology of Leadership David M. Messick, Roderick M. Kramer, 2004-09-22 In this book some of the world's leading scholars come together to describe their thinking and research on the topic of the psychology of leadership Most of the chapters were originally presented as papers at a research conference held in 2001 at the Kellogg School of Management of Northwestern University The contributions span traditional social psychological areas as well as organizational theory examining leadership as a psychological process and as afforded by organizational constraints and opportunities The editors goal was not to focus the chapters on a single approach to the study and conceptualization of leadership but rather to display the diversity of issues that surround the topic Leadership scholars have identified a host of approaches to the study of leadership What are the personal characteristics of leaders What is the nature of the relation between leaders and followers Why do we perceive some people to be better leaders than others What are the circumstances that evoke leadership qualities in people Can leadership be taught And so on The contributions to this book examine these important questions and fall into three categories conceptions of leadership factors that influence the effectiveness of leadership and the consequences and effects of leadership on the leader All in all the chapters of this volume display part of a broad spectrum of novel and important approaches to the study of the psychology of leadership We hope that they are equally useful to those who are or would be leaders and to those who study the topic As recent events have served to remind us it is too important a topic to be ignored by psychologists

Stop Wasting Your Time and Start Doing What Matters Most Jeffrey L. Krug, 2012-10-01 People who believe that they have no time and who lack the awareness of values time management and goal setting tend to be followers They procrastinate they usually don't care to contribute to the higher good and they live in a comfort zone with no vision or plan for a better future They live their lives in a blurry world where opportunities are missed and the promise of success is blocked In Stop Wasting Your Time if you are willing to start doing what matters most and if you want to leave a legacy of power synergy and higher values to the children of humanity then this is the book for you This is your wake up call for true leadership The way you determine your values and organize your priorities determines everything you achieve as a leader and this book gives you a wonderful blueprint to do just that Brian Tracy author of How the Best Leaders Lead

The Monroe Doctrine

Lorraine Monroe, 2003-07-21 Leadership is the key to excellence And leadership can be learned Thank goodness because many people who fall into managerial positions haven't the foggiest notion how to lead They don't feel driven to attain the competencies of a boss much less a great boss Lorraine Monroe is a born leader She caught the bug early as secretary of the student council in the fourth grade at P S 157 in Central Harlem She went on to found the Frederick Douglass Academy in Harlem a remarkably successful and innovative public school and became one of the most respected education reformers in America Now Monroe translates her extensive experience in New York City public schools into the Monroe Doctrine to show other education and business leaders how to create and maintain high achieving organizations The Monroe Doctrine offers readers concrete lessons in the craft of leadership Its brief catchy lessons and anecdotes will help potential leaders tap into their natural gifts and harness those gifts to lead seemingly by instinct Monroe's personal story of conquering the most overwhelming challenges will inspire leaders of all types to try new ideas to enrich their lives and the lives of their organizations With The Monroe Doctrine by their side readers will be able to lead any organization whether a hospital a house of worship a sorority a family a school or a business with renewed passion and results

Reflective Practice of Multi-Unicultural School Leaders Dr. Roberto F. Casas, Dr. Paul A. Rodríguez, 2012-02-21 We have written this book because of our unique and real concern for improving education for children who are at risk of school failure Whether these students are of different ethnicities or speak different languages the students are not failures but have difficulty maneuvering in a system we call school In order to improve education we have to improve schools and the practices of school leaders This transformation of schools requires change and improvement of individuals in school leadership positions In order to change school leaders and their practices toward improvement we must replicate what is working for kids through reflective practice Osterman and Kottkamp 1993 offered this perspective We believe that reflective practice an approach to educational improvement that is both situational and places the professional in the very center of the attempt to create improvement not only stands in contrast to most other current ideas but has the greatest potential of any approach improving individuals and through them schools and education p vii The book was written because we share professional practices and intellectual interests in reflection and reflective practice We are passionate that reflection has the best hope and significant change in how leaders examine their personal beliefs values and behaviors in such a way that members of the school community realize that it is they who must adapt their practices to meet the needs of students at risk and the diverse communities they serve However before we discuss the importance of reflective practice we need to arrive at a definition of reflective practice Schon 1983 defines reflective practice as the capacity to reflect on action so as to engage in a process of continuous learning Similarly Bolton 2010 stated that reflective practice involves playing critical attention to practical values and theories which inform everyday action by examining practice reflectively and reflexively This leads to developmental insight Another idea by Boud et al 1985 states Reflection is an important human activity in which people recapture their experience think about it pull it over and evaluate it It is this working with experience that is important in learning As for education Larrivee 2000 argues Reflective practice refers to the process of the educator studying his or her own teaching methods and determining what works best for students It involves the consideration of the ethical consequences of classroom procedures on students
