External Research List, 1957 External Research. ER List United States. Department of State. External Research Division, 1952 External Research United States. Department of State. External Research Division, 1958 In a Lonely Street Frank Krutnik, 2006-10-19 Taking issue with many orthodox views of Film Noir Frank Krutnik argues for a reorientation of this compulsively engaging area of Hollywood cultural production Krutnik recasts the films within a generic framework and draws on recent historical and theoretical research to examine both the diversity of film noir and its significance within American popular culture of the 1940s He considers classical Hollywood cinema debates on genre and the history of the emergence of character in film noir focusing on the hard boiled crime fiction of Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler and James M Cain as well as the popularisation of Freudian psychoanalysis and the social and cultural upheavals of the 1940s The core of this book however concerns the complex representation of masculinity in the noir tough thriller and where and how gender interlocks with questions of genre Analysing in detail major thrillers like The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Out of the Past and The Killers alongside lesser known but nonetheless crucial films as Stranger on the Third Floor Pitfall and Dead Reckoning Krutnik has produced a provocative and highly readable study of one of Hollywood most perennially fascinating groups of films Allen Tate Thomas A. Underwood, 2021-04-13 Despite his celebrity and his fame a series of literary feuds and the huge volume of sources have until now precluded a satisfying biography of Allen Tate Anyone interested in the literature and history of the American South or in modern letters will be fascinated by his life Poetry readers recognize Tate whom T S Eliot once called the best poet writing in America as the author of some of the twentieth century's most powerful modernist verse Others know him as a founder of The Fugitive the first significant poetry journal to emerge from the South Tate joined William Faulkner and others in launching what came to be known as the Southern Literary Renaissance In 1930 he became a leader of the Southern Agrarian movement perhaps America's final potent critique of industrial capitalism By 1938 Tate had departed politics and written The Fathers a critically acclaimed novel about the dissolution of the antebellum South He went on to earn almost every honor available to an American poet His fatherly mentoring of younger poets from Robert Penn Warren to Robert Lowell and of southern novelists including his first wife Caroline Gordon elicited as much rebellion as it did loyalty Long awaited and based on the author's unprecedented access to Tate's personal papers and surviving relatives Orphan of the South brings Tate to 1938 It explores his attempt first through politics and then through art to reconcile his fierce talent and ambition with the painful history of his family and of the South Tate was subjected to and also perpetuated fictional interpretations of his ancestry He alternately abandoned and championed Southern culture Viewing himself as an orphan from a region where family history is identity he developed a curious blend of spiritual loneliness and ideological assuredness His greatest challenge was transforming his troubled genealogy into a meaningful statement about himself and Southern culture as a whole It was this problem that consumed Tate for the first half of his life the years recorded here This portrait of a man who both made and endured American literary history depicts the South through the story of one of its treasured ambivalent and sometimes wayward sons Readers will gain a fertile understanding of the Southern upbringing education and literary battles that produced the brilliant poet who was Allen Tate Fiction in French - Fiction in Soviet British Library,2013-02-07 No detailed description available for Fiction in French Fiction in Soviet
