Johannesson Eric O. Johannesson, An International Annotated Bibliography of Strindberg Studies 1870-2005: Autobiographies, novels, poetry, letters, historical works, natural history and science, linguistics, painting and the other arts, politics, psychopathology, biography, miscellaneous, dissertations Michael Robinson, 2008 This copiously annotated bibliography documents and examines the whole range of commentary on Strindberg's works and activity in many fields besides the plays for which he is internationally best known These include his prose fiction and poetry his work as an historian and natural historian and his relationship to the other arts most notably his painting It is concerned with both lasting works of literary and dramatic criticism as well as reviews of his books and plays in the theatre and some more ephemeral material all of this in several languages Organised generically and by subject and individual work the bibliography enables the reader to trace the changing impact of Strindberg and his works in various countries and during different periods It is thus very much a study in reception as well as a bibliographical record of published material It traces the developing image of Strindberg and his writing both during his lifetime and in subsequent years and with frequent cross reference offers a comprehensive overview of a literary and existential project that has rarely been matched for its multifaceted diversity The bibliography is published in three parts Volume 1 General Studies 978 0 947623 81 4 and Volume 2 The Plays 978 0 947623 82 1 are also now available Michael Robinson is Emeritus Professor of Drama and Scandinavian Studies at the University of East Anglia Norwich The Cambridge Companion to August Strindberg Michael Robinson, 2009-09-24 August Strindberg is one of the most enduring of nineteenth century dramatists and is also an internationally recognised novelist autobiographer and painter This Companion presents contributions by leading international scholars on different aspects of Strindberg's highly colourful life and work The essays focus primarily on his most celebrated plays these include the Naturalist Dramas The Father and Miss Julie the experimental dramas with which he created a true modernist theatre To Damascus and A Dream Play and the Chamber Plays of 1908 which like so much of his work exerted a powerful influence on much later twentieth century drama His plays are contextualised for what they contribute both to the history of drama and developments in theatre practice and other essays clarify the enormous importance to these dramas of his other work most notably the autobiographical novel Inferno and his lifelong interest in science the occult sexual politics and the visual arts The Continental Novel Louise S. Fitzgerald, Elizabeth I.

Kearney, 1983 The Novel-Essay, 1884-1947 S. Ercolino, 2014-04-08 The novel essay emerged in France in the last quarter of the nineteenth century and reached its highest formal complexity in Austria and Germany during the interwar period Here Ercolino argues that it is crucial for a renovated understating of the history of the novel in modernity

Following the Animal Ann-Sofie Lönnngren, 2015-09-10 Literary transformations from human to animal have occurred in myths folklore fairy tales and narratives from all over the world since ancient times and have always provided a narrative space for depictions of power agency and the radical nature of change In Following the Animal these transformations are analysed with regards to their use in modern literature from northern most Europe with specific attention being paid to the insights they provide regarding the human animal relationship both generally in the industrialized West and against the background of more specific circumstances in the Nordic area In three analytic chapters focusing respectively on Swedish author August Strindberg's novel Tschandala 1887 Finnish author Aino Kallas's novel The Wolf's Bride 1928 and Danish author Karen Blixen Isak Dinesen's short story The Monkey 1934 along with discussions of a range of other authors and texts the reader is introduced to several traditions of literary production that both connect to and differ from Anglophone and other literature in fascinating ways In addition to the insights it provides concerning the uses of human animal transformations in modern Nordic literature and their significance in relation to the question of the animal Following the Animal also offers literary scholars and students alike a series of useable and transferable strategies for approaching texts from a more than anthropocentric human animal studies perspective In phrasing and employing the interpretational method of following the animal over the text's surface up metaphorical elevations down material wormholes and in constant dialogue with previous research this book contributes greatly to both human animal literary studies specifically and to the field of literary scholarship generally in both an international and northern European context The 20th Century O-Z Frank N.

Locating August Strindberg's Prose Anna Westerståhl Stenport,2010-01-01 The setting of a novel is more than just an anonymous interchangeable backdrop In Locating August Strindberg s Prose Anna Westerståhl Stenport argues that spatial setting is a key though often neglected tool for exploring the fundamentals of European literary modernism Stenport examines the importance of location by exploring the prose of Swedish exile August Strindberg 1849 1912 challenging previous studies of the author that have focused on identity and subject formation Strindberg wrote in both Swedish and French situating his stories in various places across Europe from Berlin to the French countryside the Austrian Alps and Stockholm to purposely destabilize concepts of national belonging language and literary history Close readings of Strindberg s prose find that his boundary challenging narratives redefine and rewrite the meaning of a marginal literary identity By contextualizing Strindberg against other early modernists including Kafka Conrad Rilke and Breton Stenport emphasizes the burgeoning transnationality of literature at the turn of the last century Mimesis, Desire, and the Novel Pierpaolo Antonello, Heather Webb, 2015-10-01 Fifty years after its publication in English Ren Girard's Deceit Desire and the Novel 1965 has never ceased to fascinate challenge inspire and sometimes irritate literary scholars It has become one of the great classics of literary criticism and the notion of triangular desire is now part of the theoretical parlance among critics and students It also represents the genetic starting point for what has become one of the most encompassing challenging and far reaching theories conceived in the humanities in the last century mimetic theory This book provides a forum for new generations of scholars and critics to reassess challenge and expand the theoretical and hermeneutical reach of key issues brought forward by Girard's book including literary knowledge realism and representation imitation and the anxiety of influence metaphysical desire deviated transcendence literature and religious experience individualism and modernity and death and resurrection It also provides a more extensive and detailed historical understanding of the representation of desire imitation and rivalry within European and world literature from Dante to Proust and from Dickens to Jonathan Littell

English Language Criticism on the Foreign Novel: 1965-1975, 1989 Critical interest in foreign novels especially the Latin American and African novel has burgeoned in the past two decades The purpose of this reference bibliography is to provide easier access to the criticism produced from 1965 to 1975 on novels published in Africa Latin America Europe Asia Canada Australia and the middle East A second volume will cover criticism between 1976 and 1985 Throughout this work the term foreign novel includes novels and other longer works of fiction produced in all countries other than the United States and the United Kingdom Coverage ranges in time of writing from Apuleius Metamorphosis first century A D and Murasaki's Tale of Genji 11th century to Garcia Marquez's 100 Years of Solitude 1967 and Margaret Atwood's Surfacing 1972 The 277 journals chosen primarily because of their wide circulation and 584 books indexed for relevant material contribute to the 13 000 bibliographic citations on 1 500 authors This is a reference tool which is surely essential for any library or world literature scholar Studies in Contemporary Jewry Ezra Mendelsohn, 1997-01-30 Literary Strategies Jewish Texts and Contexts collects essays on Jewish literature which deal with the manifold ways that literary texts reveal their authors attitudes toward their own Jewish identity and toward diverse aspects of the Jewish question Essays in this volume explore the tension between Israeli and Diaspora identities and between those who write in Hebrew or Yiddish and those who write in other non Jewish languages The essays also explore the question of how Jewish writers remember history in their search for a useable past From essays on Jabotinsky's virtually unknown plays to Philip Roth's novels this book provides a strong overview of contemporary themes in Jewish literary studies Great Lives from History: Rou-Z Frank Northen Magill, 1990
