Stelzig,2014-07-14 This masterful synthesis of criticism and biography surveys all of Hermann Hesse s major works and many of his minor ones in relation to the intricate psychological design of his entire life history Eugene Stelzig examines what it means to be an autobiographical writer by considering Hesse s fictions of the self as an exemplary instance of the relationship between life and art and between biography and autobiography In a graceful and inviting style he frees this major confessional writer from the confines of German culture and the status of cult figure of the 1960s and situates him in the tradition of world literature and in a variety of literary psychological philosophical and religious contexts Three introductory chapters on autobiography and Hesse set the stage for a chronological study Then follows a penetrating analysis of the balance between biographical fact and confessional fantasy in Hesse's long career from the failed autobiography of his first literary success Beneath the Wheel through the protracted midlife crisis of the grotesque Steppenwolf period to the visionary autobiography of his magisterial fictional finale The Glass Bead Game. Originally published in 1988, The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905.

Encyclopedia of the World Novel, 1900 to the Present Michael David Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2015-04-22
Praise for the print edition: a useful and engaging reference to the vast world of the novel in world literature. Hermann Hesse Harold Bloom, 2003 Hermann Hesse's introspective lyrical writing won him praise from the literary world while his sense of estrangement from industrialized civilization and endorsement of pacifism brought him wide popular approval. Winner of the Nobel Prize for The Glass Bead Game, Hesse renders life's callings in a way that has called readers to a renewed sense of purpose and possibility. Columbia Dictionary of Modern European Literature Jean Albert Bédé, William Benbow Edgerton, 1980 With more than 1800 critical entries on the writers and literatures of 33 languages, this work presents the entire range of modern European writing from the symbolist and modernist works rooted in the last decades of the nineteenth century through the avant garde and existentialist movement to Barthes, Blanchot, Breton, and continental thought pertinent today. The Novel as Archive Ehrhard Bahr, 1998 Goethe's novel defined as a key work anticipating modernist novels of 20th century. A fresh study of one of the most perplexing and daring novels ever written, one that was largely misunderstood when it first appeared and which has emerged only in the last two decades as a work that pointed forward stylistically and structurally to the modernist novels of the twentieth century. Bahr shows how Goethe subordinated the role of the author/narrator, making use of a variety of sophisticated narrative devices such as the archive, the interpolated novella, some of whose characters appear as real figures in the novel itself to distance himself from the work, thus ironizing its apparent meaning.

German Literature of the Twentieth Century Ingo Roland Stoeck, 2001 Traces literary developments in the German speaking countries from 1900 to the present. This study of German literature in the past hundred years sets its subject clearly in the artistic and political context of developments in Western Europe during the century. It begins with the turn of the century aestheticism and visions of decay led by Schnitzler, Hofmannsthal, and other Austrian writers, and the quite different explosion of new artistic energy in the Expressionist and Dada movements. These movements are succeeded by the rise of Modernism, culminating in the interwar years: the poetry of Rilke, Brecht's epic theatre, and novels by Thomas Mann, Kafka, Hesse, Musil, Döblin, and Broch. The influence of Nazism on literary production is considered. The study of developments after 1945 reflects the struggle to establish a post-Holocaust literature and to deal with the questions posed by the political division of Germany Finally the convergence of East and West German literature after unification is addressed Ingo R Stoehr teaches literature at Kilgore College Texas and is editor of the bilingual journal of German literature in English translation Dimension2      After Innocence Terry Otten,2010-11-23 The fear of falling the awareness of lost innocence lost illusions lost hopes and intentions of civilization in decline these are the themes which link literature to theology both concerned with the shape of human destiny Otten discusses the continuing viability of the myth of the Fall in literature He relates a wide variety of romantic and modern works to fundamental issues in modern Christianity
