Five Insights for Avoiding Global Collapse Gaya Herrington, 2022-10-13 Looming environmental and social breaking points like climate change and massive inequalities are becoming increasingly apparent and large in scale In this book Gaya Herrington puts today's key societal challenges in perspective Her analysis rooted in her research on a 50 year old model of the world that forecasted the onset of global collapse right around the present time brings some structure to what otherwise might feel like the overwhelming task of achieving genuine societal sustainability Herrington's research first published in 2020 in Yale's Journal of Industrial Ecology went viral after it revealed empirical data tracked closely with the predictions of this world model which was introduced in the 1972 best seller The Limits to Growth Her book Five Insights for Avoiding Global Collapse contains an exclusive research update based on 2022 data and is written in a more personable and accessible style than the journal article Herrington also elaborates more in this book on the many interlinkages between our economic environmental and social predicaments and on what her findings indicate for future global developments Herington lays out why business as usual is not a viable option for global society and identifies the root cause of this unsustainable path Most importantly her book teaches us what systemic changes humanity still has time to make to achieve a better tomorrow A future in which society has transformed beyond the mere avoidance of collapse and is truly thriving You can read more about the question if we are on the Verge of Global Collapse here

Professional Care for the Elderly Mentally Ill Liz Matthew, 2013-11-11 Services to older people with mental health problems have gone through radical change in recent years Legislation has had a profound effect by dictating how care to older people is delivered both within hospital and within the community The recent government agenda emphasizes cost effectiveness value for money and accountability This too is an important driving force in re evaluating the service although not everyone would agree with many of the proposed strategies and there are clearly different views as to the appropriateness of many of the services One thing is certain however the move towards interdisciplinary working is here to stay Not all change has been led by legislation and many innovations have been founded in the day to day practices in the care of older people with mental health problems A service of course does not become integrated merely by imposing joint working on a number of professionally based disciplines and in many ways this may not be desirable At its worst it produces duplication where people from different background are all doing the same job This is not the intention of joint working instead it should attempt to improve the quality of service by a rich mix of skills and experience from a number of related disciplines
