Race and Educational Reform in the American Metropolis Dan A. Lewis, Kathryn Nakagawa, 1994-12-23 Faculty Work in Schools of Education William G. Tierney, 2001-01-01 A full bodied robust discussion of issues of concern to faculty in schools of education Constructing School Success Hugh Mehan, 1996-05-31 How can we bolster the academic success of low achieving students and provide a more egalitarian classroom setting This book describes the process of untracking an educational reform effort that has prepared students from low income linguistic and ethnic minority backgrounds for college Untracking offers all students the same academically demanding curriculum while varying the amount of institutional support they receive Helpful institutional scaffolds teach the hidden curriculum of the school allowing students to develop an academic identity and build bridges between high school and college There have been many plans and attempts to reform schools but few detailed investigations of such efforts This book is a highly readable account of a successful school reform effort It provides systematic research results concerning the educational and social consequences of untracking previously low achieving students The Curriculum Landon E. Beyer, Michael W. Wong, Francis X. Shen, Dorothea Anagnostopoulos, Stacey Rutledge, 2007-10-22 In 2002 the No Child Left Behind Act rocked America's schools with new initiatives for results based accountability But years before NCLB was signed a new movement was already under way by mayors to take control of city schools from school boards and integrate the management of public education with the overall governing of the city The Education Mayor is a critical look at mayoral control of urban school districts beginning with Boston's schools in 1992 and examining more than 100 school districts in 40 states The authors seek to answer four central questions What does school governance look like under mayoral leadership How does mayoral control affect school and student performance What are the key factors for success or failure of integrated governance How does mayoral control effect practical changes in schools and classrooms The results of their examination indicate that although mayoral control of schools may not be appropriate for every district it can successfully emphasize accountability across the education system providing more leverage for each school district to strengthen its educational infrastructure and improve student performance Based on extensive quantitative data as well as case studies this analytical study provides a balanced look at America's education reform As the first multidistrict empirical examination and most comprehensive overall evaluation of mayoral school reform The Education Mayor is a must read for academics policymakers educational administrators and civic and political leaders concerned about public education Sailing Against the Wind Kofi Lomotey, 1997-01-09 Experienced American educators discuss the impact of social inequalities created by racism and sexism on the U S educational system Preparing for College William G. Tierney, Estela Mara Bensimon, 1996-07-03 Articulates salient problems of tenure track faculty especially women and faculty of color Offers a new paradigm to delineate ways in which the academic community can help socialize younger faculty and honor differences more readily Putting Choice Before Democracy Emily Hauptmann, 1996-07-03 In this critique of rational choice theory Emily Hauptmann explores the idea central to the theory namely that democracy can best be explained in terms of an economic conception of choice Her argument turns on the claims that the choices we face as citizens are not reducible to the choices we face as consumers and that democracy cannot be reduced to a series of choices economic or otherwise Expanding Opportunity in Higher Education Patricia Gándara, Gary

Orfield, Catherine L. Horn, 2012-02-01 The dream of public higher education in America is to provide opportunity for many and to offer transformative help to American communities and the economy Expanding Opportunity in Higher Education explores the massive challenges facing California and the nation in realizing this goal during a time of enormous demographic change The immediate focus on California is particularly appropriate given the size of the state it educates one out of every nine students in the country and its checkered political record with respect to civil rights and educational inequities The book includes essays not only by academics looking at the state's educational system as a whole but also by those within the policy system who are trying to keep it going in difficult times The contributors show that the destiny of California and the nation rests on the courage of policymakers both within the universities and within the government to move aggressively to reclaim the hope of millions of students who can make enormous contributions to this society if only given the chance Urban Education in the United States J. Rury, 2005-05-16

Ryan, 2012-03-01 This book describes the struggles in which inclusive minded administrators find themselves when they promote equity initiatives Administrators routinely struggle when they attempt to include all members of their school communities teachers students and parents in the various aspects of schooling Given the presence of a host of obstacles setting right the injustices associated with racism classism sexism ableism homophobia and other exclusive practices is not an easy thing to do Resistance from colleagues who fail to recognize exclusive practices when they see them and from others who do recognize them but see no harm too few resources exclusive policies personal uncertainties or insecurities and conflicted priorities are just a few of the phenomena that get in the way of these efforts This book explores these struggles It looks at the contexts within which these encounters occur the various challenges that inclusive minded administrators encounter and the strategies that they employ to meet these tests Employing the results of original empirical studies surveys of current research recent theoretical literature and personal experiences this book seeks to provide school leaders with a sense of what it is like to promote inclusion and equity in the contemporary neoliberal context Among other things it looks to provide educators of an understanding of the obstacles that stand in the way of inclusion the nature of the struggles that await them and ideas for what they might do Among other things the book concludes that in relation to the pursuit of inclusion 1 exclusion continues to be part of contemporary schools and communities 2 struggles for inclusion transcend individual educators students and parents 3 administrators are sometimes part of the problem of exclusion 4 administrators struggle with issues of difference 5 administrators struggle with circumstances they inherit people with whom they work and with themselves and 6 administrators have resources to employ in their struggles for inclusion Community Colleges as Cultural Texts Kathleen M. Shaw, James R. Valadez, Robert A. Rhoads, 1999-09-02 Community colleges are positioned to play a critical role in the process of upward mobility in American society Yet despite the open door accessibility of these institutions the question remains as to whether or not community colleges enhance the social mobility of working class and minority students The contradictory and often paradoxical nature of research on community colleges suggests that making generalizations about the sector as a whole is perhaps misguided This book takes an important step toward developing a more nuanced understanding of the rich and varied cultures inherent in community colleges The contributors approach this task by examining community colleges as cultural texts using critical qualitative frameworks to address the question of whether and how community colleges confront the challenges of diversity and provide real opportunities for upward mobility Contributors include Marilyn Amey Eusebio Diaz Stanford T Goto Berta Vigil Laden Dennis McGrath Laura I Rend n Robert A Rhoads Kathleen M Shaw Armando Trujillo James R Valadez and Bill Van Buskirk
