Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond Mark Fitzgerald, John O'Flynn, 2016-04-29 Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond represents the first interdisciplinary volume of chapters on an intricate cultural field that can be experienced and interpreted in manifold ways whether in Ireland The Republic of Ireland and or Northern Ireland among its diaspora s or further afield While each contributor addresses particular themes viewed from discrete perspectives collectively the book contemplates whether music in Ireland can be regarded as one interrelated plane of cultural and or national identity given the various conceptions and contexts of both Ireland geographical political diasporic mythical and Music including a proliferation of practices and genres that give rise to multiple sites of identification Arranged in the relatively distinct yet interweaving parts of Historical Perspectives Recent and Contemporary Production and Cultural Explorations its various chapters act to juxtapose the socio historical distinctions between the major style categories most typically associated with music in Ireland traditional classical and popular and to explore a range of dialectical relationships between these musical styles in matters pertaining to national and cultural identity The book includes a number of chapters that examine various movements and moments of traditional music revival from the late eighteenth century to the present day as well as chapters that tease out various issues of national identity pertaining to individual composers performers art music popular music and their audiences Many chapters in the volume consider mediating influences infrastructural technological political and or social categories class gender religion ethnicity race age in the interpretation of music production and consumption Performers and composers discussed include U2 Raymond Deane Afro Celt Sound System E J Moeran Samus Ennis Kevin O Connell Stiff Little Fingers Frederick May Arnold Ireland Beyond Boundaries Liam Harte, Yvonne Whelan, 2006-11-20 This is an authoritative up to date account of the development of Irish Studies over the past two decades The authors examine the key debates that have underpinned recent scholarship and analyse critical concerns that have shaped the subject s remarkable growth They trace the institutional fortunes of Irish Studies in Ireland the USA Canada Australia and Britain and features in depth critical accounts of specific trends and themes within Irish historiography literary criticism religion migration music cultural geography sport and media culture Blackness and Transatlantic Irish Identity Lauren Onkey, 2011-02-09 Blackness and Transatlantic Irish Identity analyzes the long history of imagined and real relationships between the Irish and African Americans since the mid nineteenth century in popular culture and literature Irish writers and political activists have often claimed and thereby created a black identity to explain their experience with colonialism in Ireland and revere African Americans as a source of spiritual and sexual vitality Irish Americans often resisted this identification so as to make a place for themselves in the U S However their representation of an Irish American identity pivots on a distinction between Irish Americans and African Americans Lauren Onkey argues that one of the most consistent tropes in the assertion of Irish and Irish American identity is constructed through or against African Americans and she maps

that trope in the work of writers Roddy Doyle James Farrell Bernard MacLaverty John Boyle O Reilly and Jimmy Breslin playwright Ned Harrigan political activists Bernadette Devlin and Tom Hayden and musicians Van Morrison U2 and Black 47

Space and the Irish Cultural Imagination Gerry Smyth, 2001-07-18 This book reconstitutes the category of space as a crucial element within contemporary cultural literary and historical studies in Ireland The study is based on the dual premise of an explosion of interest in the category of space in modern cultural criticism and social inquiry and the consolidation of Irish studies as a significant scholarly field across a number of institutional and intellectual contexts Besides a methodological theoretical introduction and extended case studies the book includes an auto critical dimension which extends its interest into the fields of local history and life writing Ireland and Empire Stephen Howe, 2000 Many analyses of Ireland's past and present are couched in colonial terms For some it is the only framework for understanding Ireland Others reject the label This study evaluates and analyzes the situation

Postcolonial and Gender Perspectives in Irish Studies Marisol Morales Ladrón, 2007 This book represents an attempt to tackle questions related to fragmented and often conflicting ideologies within Irish studies Although a collective outcome with contributions in English and Spanish its unifying concern has been the appliance of postcolonial and gender perspectives to the analysis of Irish literature prose drama and verse and cinema as well as to the aesthetic production of both the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland Along the volume while some authors have chosen to delve into the broad theoretical debate concerning the position of Irish studies within postcolonial and feminist theories others offer detailed examinations of specific literary pieces and authors that fit in this panorama All in all the chapters are wide and diverse enough to trace a spatial and temporal map of the evolution of these paradigms within contemporary Irish studies North and South of the border The Dynamics of Conflict in Northern Ireland Joseph Ruane, Jennifer Todd, 1996-11-13 This book offers a uniquely comprehensive account of the conflict in Northern Ireland providing a rigorous analysis of its dynamics and present structure and proposing a new approach to its resolution It deals with historical process communal relations ideology politics economics and culture and with the wider British Irish and international contexts It reveals at once the enormous complexity of the conflict and shows how it is generated by a particular system of relationships which can be precisely and clearly described The book proposes an emancipatory approach to the resolution of the conflict conceived as the dismantling of this system of relationships Although radical this approach is already implicit in the converging understandings of the British and Irish governments of the causes of conflict The authors argue that only much more determined pursuit of an emancipatory approach will allow an agreed political settlement to emerge

Kirkland,1999-03-15 Ireland and Cultural Theory is a unique and timely collection offering the first major assessment of how theoretical readings of Ireland and Irish culture have begun to question the grounds of debate in Irish studies Contributions engage with the concept of the authentic in Irish culture through analyses of film television and literature emigration and institutional critical practice This lively and challenging volume will be of interest to lecturers and students in the field of cultural studies Irish studies and critical theory Ecclesiastes Through the Centuries Eric S. Ireland's New Religious Movements Olivia Cosgrove, Laurence Cox, Carmen Kuhling, 2010-10-12 Until recently Irish religion has been seen as defined by Catholic power in the South and sectarianism in the North In recent years however both have been shaken by widespread changes in religious practice and belief the rise of new religious movements the revival of magical devotionalism the arrival of migrant religion and the spread of New Age and alternative spirituality This book is the first to bring together researchers exploring all these areas in a wide ranging overview of new religion in Ireland Chapters explore the role of feminism Ireland as global Celtic homeland the growth of Islam understanding the New Age evangelicals in the Republic alternative healing Irish interest in Buddhism channelled teachings and religious visions This book will be an indispensable handbook for professionals in many fields seeking to understand Ireland's increasingly diverse and multicultural religious landscape as well as for students of religion sociology psychology anthropology and Irish Studies Giving an overview of the shape of new religion in Ireland today and models of the best work in the field it is likely to remain a standard text for many years to come

Your Place or Mine? Ethel Crowley, 2013-03-22 Ireland's economy is being scrutinised daily by everyone from politicians to pub goers but what about the deeper questions of Ireland's sense of identity and community Socially Ireland is in a period of rapid change is it time to get behind the numbers and look at who we really are In Your Place or Mine sociologist Ethel Crowley looks at our attitudes to home place family sexuality and community Do we still need the traditional forms of connection to home family community and locality in the highly globalised society in which we live Do we still like to stay within the heart of a familiar comfort zone or are we willing to push its boundaries Your Place or Mine captures some of the complexities of contemporary Ireland What is the impact of globalisation and multiculturalism Are community values really declining Despite a more liberal attitude to sexuality are we a liberal society Ethel Crowley mixes warm hearted biography and sociological rigour to create a set of reflections on finding our place in the world as a country and as individuals Crowley uses an exciting innovative approach to identify and describe the cultural transformations of contemporary Ireland Mixing personal memories with sociologically informed debate she provides an insightful and imaginative explanation of how Ireland has combined the local with the global Professor Tom Inglis School of Sociology University College Dublin

The Ireland Anthology Sean Dunne, 1957-08-13 Artie Cohen is a good looking New York City cop with a taste for women and jazz and no intention of looking back to the past he left behind twenty five years earlier in Moscow In Red Hot Blues he is faced with a case that leaves him no choice but to confront that past When a former KGB general is shot dead on live TV Artie is compelled to take the case the general was a friend of his father's Artie doesn't have to go far until he is led into the heart of the Brighton Beach mafia where the most lethal weapon on the street is rumored to be an elusive substance known as Red Mercury an atomic weapon that has the terrifying advantage of being pocket sized Artie stumbles upon a radioactive trail of atomic smuggling that leads all the way back to Moscow For Artie to solve this case he must reclaim his past and return to the home he left behind It is in Moscow that he finds love tragedy and the truth Jiving At The Crossroads (New Edition) John Waters,2011-10-13 In 1991 Ireland was in the midst of a devastating recession thousands of young Irish men and women had emigrated over the previous decade and divisive social and moral debates on abortion and divorce had rocked Irish society The great pillars of society politics and religion were beginning to crumble a process that continued in subsequent years as both institutions were hit by scandal A questioning of the values on which Ireland had been built had begun with an apparently unbridgeable divide opening between traditionalists and modernizers At the start of the decade the modernizers appeared to have won with the election as President of the iconic Mary Robinson Irish Times columnist John Waters captured the zeitgeist of the time with the hugely successful Jiving at the Crossroads which sold over 50 000 copies A defining book of the era its success was partly due to its remarkable blending of social cultural commentary with personal memoir At the emotional core of the book was the relationship between John and his father and the story of Ireland was intricately woven into this powerful narrative It was the first in a long line of books to question the very notion of modern Irish identity and to examine the deep rooted tensions at the heart of the Irish psyche Twenty years later much has changed in Ireland and yet Jiving at the Crossroads remains a deeply resonant book particularly in the light of the remarkable rise and precipitous fall of the Celtic Tiger and the fresh questioning of how we got where we are now This twentieth anniversary reissue of a landmark book with a new Afterword will be welcomed by those who remember it and will be a fascinating insight for a new generation of Irish people Was It For This? John Waters,2012-05-24 Ireland today stands at a defining moment The prosperity of the Celtic Tiger years has given way to the sudden crash the turbulence of the euro crisis and the loss of our sovereignty to the faceless technocrats of Europe and the IMF Our leaders seem impotent and rage bewilderment and despair have swept through Irish society Was It For This delves into the Irish psyche to answer the questions What happened to our hopes and dreams What is at the heart of the sense of betrayal that we feel In the rush to modernity did we throw away everything of true value Have we lost the ideals of nationhood and patriotism set out by those who dreamt of the Irish Republic John Waters remarkable new book sweeps through the pages of our recent history to get to the heart our political social and existential identity crisis Ranging across a vast canvas Was It For This argues that the Celtic Tiger was built on a collective delusion and that the seeds of its destruction were sown many years before it even began when we exchanged our colonial shackles for a no less destructive dependency for short term gain Ireland s sovereignty was given up long before the IMF came to town Along the way Waters ponders our love hate relationship with Fianna F il the undercurrents that ran through the 2011 presidential election why our political leaders and commentators have clung onto the remnants of 1960s revolutionary fervour long after the revolution was won how our denial of an authoritative father figure has led to a leaderless sibling society the emptiness of our youth culture and the suppression of real thought and discussion through cynicism and irony and why we have lost the very language that once enabled us to speak of Ireland with pride Nation, Empire, Colony Ruth Roach Pierson, Nupur Chaudhuri, Beth McAuley, 1998-11-22 a lively and interesting book American Historical Review These writers reveal the power relations of gender class race and sexuality at the heart of the imperialisms colonialisms and nationalisms that have shaped our modern world Topics include the mis representations of Native women by European colonizers the violent displacement of women through imperialisms and nationalisms and the relations between and among feminism nationalism imperialism and colonialism Dublin Siobhán Marie Kilfeather, 2005 Siobhan Kilfeather explores Ireland's capital city and walks the streets immortalized by James Joyce's Ulysses Kilfeather takes readers through one thousand years of Dublin's history and examines in detail its architecture statuary painting and writing Back cover
