Race On Trial Law And Justice In American History:

Race on Trial: Law and Justice in American History Annette Gordon-Reed, 2002-09-05 is a book of twelve original essays that will bring together two themes of American culture: law and race. The essays fall into four groups: cases that are essential to the history of race in America; cases that illustrate the treatment of race in American history; cases of great fame that became the trials of the century of their time; and cases that made important law. Some of the cases discussed include Amistad, Dred Scott, Plessy v. Ferguson, Scottsboro, Korematsu v. US, Brown v. Board, Loving v. Virginia, Regents v. Bakke, and OJ Simpson. All illustrate how race often determined the outcome of trials and how trials that confront issues of racism provide a unique lens on American cultural history. Cases include African Americans, Asian Americans, and Caucasians. Contributors include a mix of junior and senior scholars in law schools and history departments. Race on Trial Annette

America's Imagined Revolution Tomos Wallbank-Hughes, 2024-04-24. In America's Imagined Revolution Tomos Wallbank-Hughes explores late nineteenth and early twentieth century novels about Reconstruction in the American South, identifying a subgenre of the historical novel dedicated to narrating Reconstruction as revolutionary history. Operating at the margins of political and historical fiction, the writers studied here excavate generic and temporal registers in the historical novel that enable them to imagine revolution in ways that eschew narratives of transition designed to describe the bourgeois democratic nation-state to the exclusion of plantation societies. Despite being guided in recent years by critical paradigms focused on recovering neglected moments, spaces, and voices, literary historians have struggled to fit Reconstruction's revolutionary upheavals into their transformed narratives of the long nineteenth century. This book makes the case for the novel form as a vital source in reconstructing the historical consciousness of Reconstruction as a revolutionary experience. Arguing that the historical novel of Reconstruction gains formal coherence from the conscious attempt to theorize Reconstruction as revolution and revolution as an anachronous experience, the book offers the first formal and historical account presenting novels about the Reconstruction period as constitutive of a coherent if evanescent aesthetic genre. By analyzing works by George Washington Cable, Albion Tourgée, Frances Harper, W. E. B. Du Bois and Charles Chesnutt among others. Wallbank Hughes details how these authors experimented with narrative forms and subverted the epic conventions of the historical novel to reimagine the period's historiographical significance. By recovering a literary genre and intellectual tradition through their complex forms of time consciousness, America's Imagined Revolution argues that these novels provide a window onto the literary culture of the South's long nineteenth century in which the region became a terrain for interpreting that most un-American of phenomena, revolution. Taking seriously literary attempts to decipher revolutionary change amid the postbellum South's retrenched regimes of race and class oppression therefore enables a reexamination of Reconstruction's pull on the contemporary imagination, encouraging us to think anew about the cultural afterlives of slavery in relation to the idea of revolution.

Women and Capital Punishment in the United States David V. Baker, 2015-12-07
The history of the execution of women in the United States has largely been ignored and scholars have given scant attention to gender issues in capital punishment. This historical analysis examines the social, political, and economic contexts in which the justice system has put women to death, revealing a pattern of patriarchal domination and female subordination. The book includes a discussion of condemned women granted executive clemency and judicial commutations, an inquiry into women falsely convicted in potentially capital cases, and a profile of the current female death row population.

Encyclopedia of African American History, 1896 to the Present: J-N, 2009 Alphabetically arranged entries from J to N that explore significant events, major persons, organizations, and political and social movements in African American history from 1896 to the twenty-first century.

Awakening from the Dream Denise C. Morgan, Rachel D. Godsil, Joy Moses, 2006 Awakening from the Dream: Civil Rights Under Siege and the New Struggle for Equal Justice exposes the Supreme Court's methodical dismantling of federal laws that advance inclusion, equal membership, political participation, and economic mobility in our diverse national community. The ongoing Federalism Revolution has crippled Congress's legislative powers and made it difficult for individuals to bring suit to enforce their civil rights. Activists, law professors, public interest lawyers, and students discuss some of the Americans who have been deprived of justice by this rollback, making vivid the impact of the increasingly right-wing federal judiciary. The book, which stems from a Columbia Law School conference celebrating the birth of the National Campaign to Restore Civil Rights, is divided into five parts. Part I places the Federalism Revolution into historical perspective and explains the relationship between federalism, the struggle for power between the states and the federal government, and civil rights. Part II illustrates how the rollback of civil rights has affected the lives of all Americans: the elderly, workers, language minorities, women, the disabled, immigrants, people of color, and sexual minorities. Part III discusses how those decisions have, in addition, restricted access to courts to ensure the fair provision of government services, including education, health care, the environment, our criminal justice system, and immigration. Part IV exposes the incoherency of the Court's appeal to federalism which has veiled its campaign to dismantle federal protections for individual rights Part V offers readers hopeful approaches to revitalizing civil rights and democracy The foreword is written by Erwin Chemerinsky Dean of UC Irvine School of Law Michigan Law Review ,2003 Annual Report of the American Bar Association American Bar Association,2005 Readings in Recent American Constitutional History, 1876-1926 Allen Johnson,William Alexander Robinson,1927 The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham,2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America Book Review Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation Current Biography Yearbook ,2009 Index to Legal Periodicals & Books ,2005 The Magazine of American History with Notes and Queries John Austin Stevens,Benjamin Franklin DeCosta, Henry Phelps Johnston,Martha Joanna Lamb,Nathan Gillett Pond,1890 The Magazine of American History ,1890 The Journal of American History Francis Trevelyan Miller,1915 Cyclopædia of Political Science, Political Economy, and of the Political History of the United States, by the Best American and European Writers John Joseph Lalor,1899 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2002
