Transformative Sustainability Education Elizabeth A. Lange, 2023-03-28 This book lays out the principles and practices of transformative sustainability education using a relational way of thinking and being. Elizabeth A. Lange advocates for a new approach to environmental and sustainability education that of rethinking the Western way of knowing and being and engendering a frank discussion about the societal elements that are generating climate environmental, economic and social issues. Highlighting the importance of Indigenous and life-giving cultures, the book covers educational theory, transformation stories of adult learners, social and economic critique and visions of changemakers. Each chapter also has a strong pedagogical element with entry points for learners and embodied practices and examples of taking action at micro, meso, macro levels woven throughout. Overall, this book enacts a relational approach to transformative sustainability education that draws from post-humanist theory, process thought, relational ontology, decolonization theory, Indigenous philosophy and a spirituality that builds a sense of sacred towards the living world. Written in an imaginative storytelling manner, this book will be a great resource for formal and nonformal environmental and sustainability educators.

Black on Earth Kimberly N. Ruffin, 2010 American environmental literature has relied heavily on the perspectives of European Americans, often ignoring other groups. In Black on Earth, Kimberly Ruffin expands the reach of ecocriticism by analyzing the ecological experiences, conceptions and desires seen in African American writing. Ruffin identifies a theory of ecological burden and beauty in which African American authors underscore the ecological burdens of living within human hierarchies in the social order, just as they explore the ecological beauty of being a part of the natural order. Blacks were ecological agents before the emergence of American nature writing, argues Ruffin, and their perspectives are critical to understanding the full scope of ecological thought. Ruffin examines African American ecological insights from the antebellum era to the twenty-first century, considering WPA slave narratives, neo-slave poetry, novels, essays and documentary films by such artists as Octavia Butler, Alice Walker, Henry Dumas, Percival Everett, Spike Lee and Jayne Cortez. Identifying themes of work, slavery, religion, mythology, music and citizenship, Black on Earth highlights the ways in which African American writers are visionary ecological artists.
