Beautiful, Bright, and Blinding H. Peter Steeves, 2017-10-27 Phenomenological analysis of beauty and art across various aspects of lived experience and culture Through a careful analysis of concrete examples taken from everyday experience and culture Beautiful Bright and Blinding develops a straightforward and powerful aesthetic methodology founded on a phenomenological approach to experience one that investigates how consciousness engages with the world and thus what it means to take such things as tastes images sounds and even a life itself as art H Peter Steeves begins by exploring what it means to see and considers how disruptions of sight can help us rethink how perception works Engaging the work of Derrida Heidegger and Husserl he uses these insights about seeing to undertake a systematic phenomenological investigation of how we perceive and process a range of aesthetic objects including the paintings of Arshile Gorky the films of Michael Haneke Disney s Beauty and the Beast zombie films The Simpsons the performance art of Rachel Rosenthal and Andy Kaufman and even vegan hot dogs Refusing hierarchical distinctions between high and low art Steeves argues that we must conceptualize the whole of human experience as aesthetic art is lived and living is an art This is a brilliant new contribution by our preeminent phenomenologist of culture It s extremely accessible illuminating original and sophisticated while being philosophically probing David Wood author of The Step Back Ethics and Politics after Deconstruction

Performance, Embodiment and Cultural Memory Colin Counsell, Roberta Mock, 2009-10-02 The subject of cultural memory and of the body s role in its creation and dissemination is central to current academic debate particularly in relation to performance Viewed from a variety of theoretical positions the actions of the meaning bearing body in culture and its capacity to reproduce challenge or modify existing formulations have been the focus of some of the most influential studies to emerge from the arts and humanities in the last two and a half decades The ten essays brought together in Performance Embodiment and Cultural Memory address this subject from a unique diversity of perspectives focusing on topics as varied as live art puppetry memorial practice cultural performance and dance Dealing with issues ranging from modern nation building to the formation of diasporic identities this volume collectively considers the ways in which the human soma functions as a canvas for cultural meaning its forms and actions a mnemonics for constructions of a shared past This volume is required reading for those interested in how bodies both on stage and in everyday life perform meaning

Choreographies of the Living Carrie Rohman, 2018-04-09 Choreographies of the Living explores the implications of shifting from viewing art as an exclusively human undertaking to recognizing it as an activity that all living creatures enact Carrie Rohman reveals the aesthetic impulse itself to be profoundly trans species and in doing so she revises our received wisdom about the value and functions of artistic capacities Countering the long history of aesthetic theory in the West beginning with Plato and Aristotle and moving up through the recent claims of neuroaesthetics Rohman challenges the likening of aesthetic experience to an exclusively human form of judgment Turning toward the animal in new frameworks for understanding aesthetic impulses Rohman emphasizes a deep coincidence of humans and animals elaborations of fundamental life forces Examining a range of literary visual dance and performance works and processes by modernist and contemporary figures such as Isadora Duncan D H Lawrence Virginia Woolf and Merce Cunningham Rohman reconceives the aesthetic itself not as a distinction separating humans from other animals but rather as a framework connecting embodied beings Her view challenges our species to acknowledge the shared status of art making one of our most hallowed and formerly exceptional activities

Life Writing in the Posthuman Anthropocene Ina Batzke, Lea Espinoza Garrido, Linda M. Hess, 2022-01-01 Life Writing in the Posthuman Anthropocene is a timely collection of insightful contributions that negotiate how the genre of life writing traditionally tied to the human perspective and thus anthropocentric qua definition can provide adequate perspectives for an age of ecological disasters and global climate change The volume's eight chapters illustrate the aptness of life writing and life writing studies to critically reevaluate the role of the human vis vis non human others while remaining mindful of persisting inequalities between humans regarding who causes and who suffers damage in the Anthropocene age The authors in this collection not only expand the toolbox of life writing studies by engaging with critical insights from the fields of posthumanism and ecocriticism but in turn also enrich those fields by offering unique approaches to contemplate the responsibility of humans for as well as their relational existence in the posthuman Anthropocene

Performing Animality Jennifer Parker-Starbuck, 2015-04-08 Performing Animality provides theoretical and creative interventions into the presence of the animal and ideas of animality in performance Animals have always played a part in human performance practices Maintaining a crucial role in many communities cultural traditions animal human encounters have been key in the development of performance Similarly performance including both living animals and or representations of animals provides the context for encounters in which issues of power human subjectivity and otherness are explored Crucially however the inclusion of animals in performance also offers an opportunity to investigate ethical and moral assumptions about human and non human animals This book offers a historical and theoretical exploration of animal presence in performance by looking at the concept of animality and how it has developed in theatre and performance practices from the eighteenth century to today Furthermore it points to shifts in political cultural and ethical animal human relations emerging within the context of animality and performance
