Prejudice, Discrimination and Racism against Africans and Siddhis in India Ibrahima Diallo, 2020-04-03 Africa and India have a long history of people to people contact as well as cultural educational and economic exchanges based on mutual interests They also share imperial and post imperial experiences The longstanding relations between the two continents experienced a new twist and a giant leap forward following the Africa India summit in 2008 However recently a series of violent incidents against the growing sub Saharan African communities in India has taken centre stage and made global news headlines the Indian and international media have portrayed violent and deadly assaults on sub Saharan Africans in India as prejudice discrimination and racism This book provides a collection of studies that examine prejudice discrimination and racism towards Blackness in India with a special focus on the lived experiences of sub Saharan Africans and Siddhis Afro Indians In addition the topics in this volume cover ideological cultural and linguistic affinities between Africa and India The volume is divided into four parts of two chapters each the first two chapters introduce the focus of the book on sub Saharan Africans living in India These are followed by two contributions that examine prejudice discrimination and racism towards Africans and Siddhis Two further essays theorise prejudice and racism in India and the ways they are experienced by sub Saharan Africans and Siddhis The final two chapters of the book explore ideological linguistic and cultural affinities between India and Africa The volume also features contributions by two prominent Africanists The Foreword is written by Professor Souleymane Bachir Diagne the Director of the Institute of African Studies at Columbia University Professor Diagne was awarded the Edouard Glissant Prize for his work in 2011 and the Frantz Fanon Lifetime

Achievement Award in 2018 The Afterword is authored by Professor Aparajita Biswas the former Director of the Centre for African Studies at the University of Mumbai and the current President of the African Studies Association of India Professor Biswas is one of India's most respected Africanists with an extensive publication record on African topics and numerous teaching research and fellowship positions in universities across the world

International Action against Racial Discrimination Michael Banton, 1996-05-23 This is the first book to provide an inside account of how a United Nations human rights treaty body actually works At the same time it is an introduction to the international law of racial discrimination The book focuses on the practical operation and implementation of the International Covenant on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination emphasising throughout the relationship between the law and politics The book takes account of current issues in international race relations from the process of dismantling apartheid in South Africa to recent horrors and genocides in the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda Michael Banton's latest work will be crucial reading for anyone interested in eliminating racial discrimination on an international level About Michael Banton Michael Banton is Chairman of the UN Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination 1996 98

The UN Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination Natan Lerner, 2024-08-19 Implicit Racial Bias Across the Law Justin D. Levinson, Robert J. Smith, 2012-04-23 This book explores how scientific evidence on the human mind might help to explain why racial equality is so elusive Through the lens of powerful and pervasive implicit racial attitudes and stereotypes it examines both the continued subordination of historically disadvantaged groups and the legal system's complicity in the subordination

The Anatomy of Racial Attitudes Richard A. Apostle, Charles Y. Glock, Thomas Piazza, Marijean Suelzle, 2023-04-28 Racial tension divides American society Racial equality remains a distant goal Although the position of Black Americans has improved in recent years the widespread enthusiasm for the Civil Rights movement has waned Why has progress slowed What makes racial problems in America so difficult to solve A principal cause according to The Anatomy of Racial Attitudes is the way in which white Americans explain or account for the social conditions in which most black Americans find themselves A substantial proportion of whites believe that stereotypes that Black Americans are relatively less well off because blacks do not try hard enough to better themselves or because of the difference due to genetics or to God's plan Whites who hold such views have relatively little sympathy for programs designed to improve the social conditions In contrast whites who believe that Black Americans are kept back either by deliberate discrimination or by the accumulated social results of past discrimination are much more receptive to policies designed to help blacks Using qualitative and quantitative data this book explores the variety and extent of these explanations for social differences it also describes how each explanation or combination of explanations influences a person's views on policies designed to bring about greater racial equality This study promises to influence not only the course of future academic research on race relations but also the formulation of public policy to deal with racial problems It reveals that the resistance of many whites to policies favorable to racial equality are not isolated phenomenon but instead is part of a comprehensive view of how society works If strides toward racial equality are to be made in the foreseeable future the insights provided here must be considered seriously by policy makers and be incorporated into their strategies This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1983

Measuring Racial Discrimination National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Methods for Assessing Discrimination, 2004-07-24 Many racial and ethnic groups in the United States including blacks Hispanics Asians American Indians and others have historically faced severe discrimination pervasive and open denial of civil social political educational and economic opportunities Today large differences among racial and ethnic groups continue to exist in employment income and wealth housing education criminal justice health and other areas While many factors may contribute to such differences their size and extent suggest that various forms of discriminatory treatment persist in U S society and serve to undercut the achievement of equal opportunity Measuring Racial Discrimination considers the definition of race and racial discrimination reviews the existing techniques used to measure racial discrimination and identifies new tools and areas for future research The book conducts a thorough evaluation of current methodologies for a wide range of circumstances in which racial discrimination may occur and makes recommendations on how to better assess the presence and effects of discrimination

Racial Discrimination Masoud Kamali, 2010-08-18 This multidisciplinary text identifies and investigates the variety of practices that make up the complex phenomena of racism and xenophobia In systematically analyzing these problems Kamali contributes to a deeper understanding of the forces underlying xenophobia and racism and to generating more effective anti racial and integrative policy making

The International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination Patrick Thornberry, 2016-07-14 The Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination is the centrepiece of international efforts to address racial discrimination defined in broad terms to include discrimination based on skin colour descent ethnic and national origin Victims of discrimination within the scope of the Convention include minorities indigenous peoples non citizens and caste or descent groups Virtually all national societies are diverse in terms of ethnicity or race and none is free from discrimination making it one of the great issues of our time Against the background of international human rights standards and mechanisms to counter racial and ethnic discrimination this book provides the first comprehensive legal analysis of the provisions of the Convention on an article by article basis The book addresses the place of the Convention within the broader framework of United Nations action against discrimination The different chapters analyse and discuss broad topics of race ethnicity and international law the genesis and drafting of the Convention the aims and objectives of the Convention in light of its preamble and principles of non discrimination and equality In particular the book includes a critical appraisal of the contribution of the Convention to the eradication of racial discrimination It also reflects on whether there is scope for modification of the substance or procedures of the Convention in light of challenges arising from enhanced transnational population movements the intersection between discrimination on the ground of race and discrimination against religious communities and the intersection of racial and gender based discrimination

Rethinking the Color Line Charles A. Gallagher, 2021-12-16 Rethinking the Color Line is a collection of theoretically informed and empirically grounded readings on race and race relations that illustrate how race and ethnicity influence aspects of social life in ways that are often made invisible by culture politics and economics

Racial Resentment in the Political Mind Darren W. Davis, David C. Wilson, 2021-12-27 A thought provoking look at how racial resentment rather than racial prejudice alone motivate a growing resistance among whites to improve the circumstances faced by racial minorities In Racial Resentment in the Political Mind Darren W Davis and David C Wilson explore the idea that racial resentment rather than simply racial prejudice alone is the basis for the growing resistance among whites toward efforts to improve the circumstances faced by minorities The authors argue that there is a growing sentiment among whites that they are losing out and being cut in line by Black people and other minorities as reflected in an emphasis on diversity and inclusion multiculturalism trigger warnings and political correctness an increase in African Americans occupying powerful positions and the election of Barack Obama The culprits as many white people see it are undeserving people of color who are perceived to benefit unfairly from and take advantage of resources that come at whites expense This rewarding of unearned resources is seen as a challenge to the status quo Yet as Davis and Wilson reveal such reactions may not stem only from racial prejudice or hatred instead they may be a defensive posture resulting from threats to whites sense of justice entitlement and status Their research finds racial resentment stemming from beliefs about justice fairness and deservingness makes ordinary citizens appear racist Informative and thought provoking Racial Resentment in the Political Mind adds a much needed dimension to a timely topic

The Scar of Race Paul M. Sniderman, Thomas Piazza, 1993 Attempts to define the issue of race in the 1980s and 1990s and whether or not there is a new racism more subtle and covert than that of a generation ago

Racism and Free Speech
 Anshuman A. Mondal,2025-01-23 Free speech has become central to discussions about racism and is increasingly weaponised against anti racist movements This book argues that the weaponization of free speech across the political spectrum particularly by the far right alt right has been central to the resurgence rehabilitation and normalisation of racism within the mainstream politics of western liberal democracies in the last decade The dilemma then for anti racist movements is how to respond to such a challenge for if free speech allows racism then it follows that the elimination of racism is not possible Anshuman A Mondal argues that liberalism has made it look as if there is something called free speech when in fact speech is enabled by the structures of power within which we are all embedded These structures determine who gets to say what and whose voices are heard They create and sustain racism and anti racism should look beyond the mythology of free speech and focus instead on creating expressive regimes that foster racial and social justice by reshaping social discourse and transforming racialized structures of power
