Service Of The Race:

Service of the Race Ronald P. Beesley,1983      Unemployment Compensation Interpretation Service United States. Bureau of Employment Security,1949      A Program for the Economic Development of Dorchester County Maryland. State Planning Commission,1950      Race and Criminal Justice Hindpal Singh Bhui,2008-12-18 The social landscape of race and ethnicity within contemporary Britain has become increasingly diverse and complex The old exclusive research emphasis in criminology on the outcomes of social inequalities and policies is now challenged by an appreciation of how race and ethnicity are constructed and other theoretical perspectives This collection of papers will introduce students to these subjects and do so usefully by addressing contemporary themes that must be given attention by criminologists Professor Simon Holdaway University of Sheffield This collection provides useful and up to date information on the response of police prosecution prisons and probation services to the challenges of increasing ethnic diversity It is an excellent source for students and practitioners concerned with reforming policy and improving practice Professor David J Smith University of Edinburgh London School of Economics This text delivers a comprehensive overview of race and ethnicity across the criminal justice system It unpacks terms such as race diversity and multiculturalism to equip students with a thorough understanding of this complex subject area Featuring chapters by leading experts Race and Criminal Justice provides a specialist introduction to each area of the criminal justice system including police prosecution prisons and probation It also features stimulating discussion of contemporary issues such as criminal justice responses to refugees and asylum seekers and the experiences of Muslims within the criminal justice system post 9 11 and 7 7 Each chapter follows a consistent structure offering an overview of key theories relating to the study of race ethnicity and criminal justice analysis of research policy and practice chapter summaries and further reading to support understanding      The New Voice in Race Adjustments Arcadius McSwain Trawick,1914      Unemployment Compensation Interpretation Service ,1949      Establish a Unified Transportation Assistance Program: Hearings Before the Subcommittee on Transportation of ..., 93-2 United States. Dettlaff,2020-11-27 This volume examines existing research documenting racial disproportionality and disparities in child welfare systems the underlying factors that contribute to these phenomena and the harms that result at both the individual and community levels It reviews multiple forms of interventions designed to prevent and reduce disproportionality particularly in states and jurisdictions that have seen meaningful change With contributions from authorities and leaders in the field this volume serves as the authoritative volume on the complex issue of child maltreatment and child welfare It offers a central source of information for students and practitioners who are seeking understanding on how structural and institutional racism can be addressed in public systems      Federal Law Enforcement Officers ,2002      Blacks and the Military Martin Binkin,Mark J. Eitelberg,2011-02-01 For much of the nation s history the participation of blacks in the armed forces was approximately in line with their proportion in the total population This changed during the 1970s by 1980 one of every three Army GIs and one of every five marines were black The reaction has been mixed Many Americans look with approval on the growth of black participation in military service since it often affords young blacks educational social and financial opportunities that constitute a bridge to a better life not otherwise available to them But for other Americans the opportunities are outweighed by the disproportionate imposition of the burden of defense on a segment of the population that has not enjoyed a fair share of the benefits that society confers From this perspective the likelihood that blacks would suffer at least a third and perhaps a half of the combat fatalities in the initial stages of conflict is considered immoral unethical or otherwise contrary to the precepts of democratic institutions Some also worry that military forces with such a high fraction of blacks entail risks to U S national security A socially unrepresentative force it is argued may lack the cohesion considered vital to combat effectiveness Others fear that such a force would be unreliable if it were deployed in situations that would test the allegiance of its minority members And some have even expressed concern that a large proportion of blacks may raise questions about the status of U S fighting forces as judged by the American public the nation s allies and its adversaries The authors of this book examine evidence on both sides of the issue in an effort to bring objective scrutiny to bear on questions that for many years have been loaded with emotion and subjective reaction They also discuss the implications for the military s racial composition of demographic economic and technological trends and the possible effects of returning to some form of conscription

Inquiry,2006-06-29 This report sets out the findings of the public inquiry into the murder in March 2000 at Feltham Young Offender Institution of Zahid Mubarek an Asian teenager Mubarek died after being attacked by another young prisoner his cellmate Robert Stewart who had a history of violence and racist behaviour The report identifies the systemic shortcomings which the attack exposed and makes 88 recommendations to reduce the risk of such an attack in the future Issues discussed include the events leading up to the public inquiry including previous investigations by the Prison Service and the Commission for Racial Equality the mental health background and custodial history of Stewart the events on the night of the attack and the wider ongoing problems at Feltham of staff shortages and low staff morale lack of resources and overcrowding poor working practices and evidence of racism by staff and prisoners Recommendations made include the elimination of enforced cell sharing should be a high priority for the Prison Service and it should publish guidelines to assist officers in the allocation of prisoners who have to share a cell taking into account issues of ethnic and religious background there should be a general rule that an unconvicted prisoner should not share a cell with a convicted prisoner full cell searches should be carried out at least once every three months prisoner councils should be set up as part of violence reduction strategies in prisons improved diversity training for prison staff and the need for a national database for security information on prisoners to improve the flow of information between and within establishments to help prisoner risk assessment procedures

Integration of the Armed Forces, 1940-1965 Morris J. MacGregor, 2020-06-18 In the quarter century that followed American entry into World War II the nation's armed forces moved from the reluctant inclusion of a few segregated Negroes to their routine acceptance in a racially integrated military establishment Nor was this change confined to military installations By the time it was over the armed forces had redefined their traditional obligation for the welfare of their members to include a promise of equal treatment for black servicemen wherever they might be In the name of equality of treatment and opportunity the Department of Defense began to challenge racial injustices deeply rooted in American society For all its sweeping implications equality in the armed forces obviously had its pragmatic aspects In one sense it was a practical answer to pressing political problems that had plagued several national administrations In another it was the services expression of those liberalizing tendencies that were permeating American society during the era of civil rights activism But to a considerable extent the policy of racial equality that evolved in this quarter century was also a response to the need for military efficiency So easy did it become to demonstrate the connection between inefficiency and discrimination that even when other reasons existed military efficiency was the one most often evoked by defense officials to justify a change in racial policy _x000D_ Morris J MacGregor Jr received the A B and M A degrees in history from the Catholic University of America He continued his graduate studies at the Johns Hopkins University and the University of Paris on a Fulbright grant Before joining the staff of the U S Army Center of Military History in 1968 he served for ten years in the Historical Division of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Journal of Rehabilitation Research & Development ,2009
