Services And Uneven Development:

Services and Metropolitan Development Peter W. Daniels, 2002-11 Explores the processes guiding both the development and the spatial impacts of services on the urban system and individual areas and describes the internationalisation of services and the effects of re structuring on urban systems

Service Worlds John Bryson, Peter Daniels, Barney Warf, 2013-04-15 As the twenty first century begins significant changes are occurring in the way that services and goods are produced and consumed One of the key drivers of this change is information and communications technology ICT It has transformed the role of space and time in patterns of economic development in the rise of globalization and in the scale and structure of organizations ICT has therefore accelerated the process of continual change and evolution that is the hallmark of both the capitalist economy and of organizations Giving a student friendly account of the diversity of theoretical perspectives this outstanding book aids understanding the evolving economic geography of advanced capitalist economies A series of detailed firm and employees case studies from Europe North America and the Asia Pacific are used to inform useful theoretical case studies which also investigate the significance of increased blurring of the lines between services and manufacturing functions in the production and consumption process

Consumer Services and Economic Development Colin C. Williams, 1997 Consumer Services and Economic Development evaluates the role of consumer services as motors for local economic development in contemporary advanced economies The contributions that specific consumer service industries are making to local economic development are analysed Tourism sports universities retailing and the cultural industries are each examined in turn Following this the roles that the consumer services sector are playing in economic regeneration are investigated in a number of different contexts a global city several contrasting urban areas and a rural locality In each case whether consumer services have taken a lead or supportive role in local economic development is surveyed and their effectiveness in promoting economic regeneration is evaluated This book dispels the common myth that consumer services are residual activities dependent upon other economic sectors for their vitality and viability Providing a comprehensive overview and evaluation of the contributions of the consumer services sector to economic development this book reveals the need for a fundamental reconceptualization of both the function of services in particular and economic development theory and practice more generally

Services and Economic Development in the Asia-Pacific J.W. Harrington, 2016-04-01 Until the 1990s industrialization was the dominant development paradigm for the Asia Pacific region Since then advanced services finance business or producer services information and creative services have become deeply embedded in the processes of economic growth and change in the region This rapid tertiary expansion is fundamentally restructuring national and regional economies and urban form in line with the introduction of advanced production systems national modernization programmes and the globalization strategies of governments Services are being actively deployed as instruments of metropolitan reconfiguration and land use change This book explores various aspects of the relationship between service industries and economic development in Japan South Korea China Taiwan Singapore India Australia and New Zealand It provides new sector oriented and regional and national perspectives on services and development

Uneven Development in the Third World A. Bhalla,1996-11-26 The book defines uneven development in terms of development strategies and their outcomes Drawing on case studies from China and India three types of strategy are discussed heavy industrialisation sectoral regional balance and economic liberalisation Also three kinds of outcomes are examined growth of output and productivity income consumption and class inequalities in three spatial dimensions intra regional inter regional and rural urban Furthermore access to and utilisation of technology health and educational services are compared Services and the Knowledge-Based Economy Mark Boden,Ian Miles,2019-07-23 First published in 2000 Over the past two decades the service sector have increased dramatically and now occupy the largest share of the economy of advanced industrial societies Certain business services are regularly cited as evidence for the emergence of a knowledge economy In this pioneering book leading researchers in the fields of service industries and innovation studies investigate the reasons for the growth of the service sectors and this emergent knowledge economy Drawing on material as diverse as macroeconomic statistics and firm level case studies the contributors demonstrate that services are often important innovators in their own right as well as contributing to innovation and economic performance in their user industries The question of how far services are special cases and what specific processes and trajectories characterize their innovative activity is treated systematically Additionally a variety of original analyses and information resources are presented This book should be of value to the student of the modern industrial society to those seeking to forge policies appropriate to the new context of economic development and to researchers who are confronting the challenges of the knowledge economy

Divided Province Greg Albo,Bryan M. Evans,2019-02-28 No government jurisdiction in Canada has so radically transformed its public policies over the past decades as Ontario and yet the province has also maintained a striking degree of political stability in its party system Since the 1990s neoliberalism has been the point of reference in constructing policy agendas for all of Ontario s political parties It has guided the strategy for governance of the dominant Liberal Party since 2003 even as it divides the province between workers and employers north and south rural and urban and racialized minorities and the majority population With a focus on the governments of Mike Harris Dalton McGuinty and Kathleen Wynne Divided Province brings together leading researchers to dissect the province s public policies since the 1990s Presenting original state of the art research the book demonstrates that although the Conservative government of Mike Harris implemented the sharpest and most profound shift towards the establishment of a neoliberal regime in the province the subsequent Liberal governments consolidated that neoliberal turn The essays in this volume explore the consequences of this ideological turn across a spectrum of policies including health education poverty energy employment manufacturing and how it has impacted workers women First Nations and other distinct communities The first book to offer a comprehensive critical account of neoliberalism in Ontario Divided Province overturns conventional readings of the province's politics and suggests that building a more democratic and egalitarian alternative to the current orthodoxy requires nothing less than a radical rupture from existing policies and political alliances Without such a decisive break political space may well open up again for the populist right

The Young, the Old, and the State Anneli Anttonen,John Baldock,Jorma Sipilä,2003-01-01 This book edited by three well known and widely respected academics reflects the diversity of social care while simultaneously striving to identify common patterns trends and underpinning philosophies It makes an important new contribution to understanding why patterns of social care differ between and within countries and the consequences of these variations In explaining contemporary patterns of social care for children and older people in the countries studied the contributors turn to historical accounts to explain the current apparent lack of coherence Underpinning the diverse patterns of social care development are the transformation of social care from a private good to a public commodity tensions between universality and selectivity and new tensions between individual rights and family responses As well as providing detailed and up to the minute accounts of the different care systems in the countries studied this book makes a major new contribution to our understanding of the complex and conflicting pressures underlying post industrial welfare states Caroline Glendinning University of Manchester UK This is a comparative account of social care services for children and older people in five key industrial nations Finland Germany Japan the United Kingdom and the United States The authors break new ground by moving beyond institutional description and seeking to understand the normative and moral qualities of welfare systems The book builds on existing theories of welfare state regimes by extending the analysis to the arena of social care A full and fascinating account is provided of the historical economic and political origins of childcare and care for older people in each of the five countries These analyses are then used as the basis for a theoretical account of the developmental trajectories of social care systems The book proposes that there are common pressures at work in all industrial nations driving their welfare systems to similar forms of organisation and structure However these trends are mediated by important differences in culture and history The Young the Old and the State is an eminently readable and accessible book and will be warmly welcomed by academics and researchers in social and public policy health and social care and welfare economics It will also be of interest to policymakers and NGOs involved in welfare and social care provision and provide a useful source for students on undergraduate and graduate programmes Adult

Social Care Law in England John Williams, Gwyneth Roberts, Aled Griffiths, 2014-07-08 Social work law is at the foundation of all social work practice from shaping professional boundaries to determining the level of intervention Every case is complex and unique and therefore requires different legal treatment this means it is absolutely vital that social workers not only understand the law but are able to critically analyse the legal framework and apply it to their practice This book provides students and practitioners with an essential guide to adult social care law It lays out the key case law core legislation and the HSPCC standards as they apply to different areas of adult social care This includes issues of capacity making an assessment supporting carers and working with vulnerable adults Designed to support learning needs the book is packed with engaging case studies and reflective exercises as well as a legal toolbox to help simplify the legal jargon Whether you are a student or practitioner this is a practical accessible guide to competent and lawful practice in adult social care The Economic Geography of the Tourist Industry Keith G. Debbage, Dimitri Ioannides, 1998-04-02 The Economic Geography of the Tourist Industry bridges the gap between tourism research and economic geography by bringing together leading academics in geography planning and tourism The authors explain tourism s definitions and examine whether tourism can be categorized as an industry They provide detailed analyses of key sectors such as tour The Evolution of Canada's Metropolitan Economies William J. Coffey, Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1994 Economic Activity and Land Use The Changing Information Base for Local and Regional Studies Michael J. Healey, 2014-10-13

Concerned primarily with statistical data this text aims to provide a guide to the nature uses availability and limitations of the main data sources for interpreting and undertaking regional studies of economic activity It also considers the methods used for the collection of this data American Foreign Policy, Current Documents, 1958 Zhu Rongji And China's

Economic Take-off John Wong, 2016-04-25 Following Deng Xiaoping s economic reform and opening Gaige Kaifang policy China experienced unprecedented high growth for over three decades Crucial in the process was the role of Zhu Rongji who was hand picked by Deng initially as Executive Vice Premier and later full Premier to carry through the needed reform and manage the critical marketization process through the turbulent 1990s when China s economy suffered many ups and downs Dubbed as China s Economic Czar Zhu tackled many thorny problems associated with the country s then half reformed economy ably and effectively thereby laying the ground for subsequent periods of greater dynamic growth Zhu was instrumental in preparing China's economy for its final take off The chapters in this volume were originally written as policy briefings for the Singapore government from 1997 to 2003 when Zhu was Premier They cover a wide variety of topics including how he had applied his own way of macroeconomic control Hongguan Tiaokong how he went about reforming taxation foreign exchange and state owned enterprises and finally his embrace of capitalism Each chapter is preceded by a detailed introduction highlighting the main issues and interpreting them from today's perspective based on updated information and additional new research The Right to Health Brigit Toebes,Rhonda Ferguson,Milan M.

Markovic,Obiajulu Nnamuchi,2014-09-05 This interdisciplinary study engages with the fields of human rights law health law and public health It analyses how the internationally guaranteed human right to health is realized by States at a national level It brings together scholars from more than ten different countries with each of them analyzing the right to health in their country or region They all focus on a particular theme that is important in their country such as health inequalities the Millennium Development Goals or the privatization of healthcare This book is relevant for scholars practitioners and policy makers in the field of human rights law health law public health and the intersection between these three fields Service

Industries in Regional Development William J. Coffey,James John McRae,1989 This document presents a broad empirical picture of the national regional and urban structure of the Canadian economy It identifies the factors which may be causing the relative shift towards employment in service industries and occupations and shows that the lack of actual data on interregional flows of service outputs effectively precludes the empirical testing of regional general equilibrium models involving service industries It concludes by bringing forth the regional policy implications embedded in the conceptual and empirical work on service industries Federal Probation ,1967 Innovation in Social Services Tomáš Sirovátka,Bent

Greve,2016-05-23 EU member states have seen high levels of unemployment in recent years especially amongst young people At the same time the fiscal crisis of welfare states has made it difficult for them to invest in new jobs and new economic growth The EU at least since the enactment of the Amsterdam treaty has had a focus on how to support member states development of an employment policy which aims for higher levels of participation lower levels of unemployment and more gender equal approaches Through exploring patterns in the recent development of financing and governance of social services and developments of social services and employment in the Czech Republic Denmark Germany and the UK this volume provides readers with new knowledge and evidence of the options regarding social innovation in social services Furthermore it provides a comparative European perspective on how the interplay between a public and private mix of social service on the one hand might help in creating jobs and on the other be a way of coping with the needs and expectations of higher level of services in the core areas of the welfare state Bpsc (Bihar Public Service Commission) Main Exam
