Seven Stories Of Modern Japan:

Modern Japanese Short Stories Ivan Morris, 2019-07-16 Modern Japanese Short Stories is a remarkable collection of Japanese stories from the pioneers of contemporary Japanese literature. This volume's twenty-five stories by as many authors display a wide range of style and subject matter, offering a revealing picture of modern Japanese culture and society. The stories in this anthology include 'Tattoo' by Junichiro Tanizaki, a large spider tattooed on the back of a young woman results in unexpected changes; 'Autumn Mountain' by Ryunosuke Akutagawa, vivid memories of a beautiful painting leads a man to wonder if it ever actually existed; 'The Priest and His Love' by Yukio Mishima, a Buddhist priest finds his path to enlightenment challenged after falling in love; 'The Moon on the Water' by Nobel Prize winner Yasunari Kawabata, a young woman who cared for her ailing first husband through most of their marriage, regrets remarrying after his death. Featuring a new foreword by Japanese literary scholar Seiji Lippit and striking woodcut illustrations by Masakazu Kuwata, the stories are translated by the editor Ivan Morris and Edward Seidensticker. George Saito and Geoffrey Sargent. This collection of short stories shows why Japanese literature is so highly valued today: it teaches not only about Japan but about the human condition and the possibilities of art.

Seven Stories of Modern Japan Leith Morton, 1991 The short stories of this collection deal with the lives of ordinary people in the context of the changes in Japanese society during the early years of rapid industrialization and later during the Pacific War and its aftermath.

The Columbia Anthology of Modern Japanese Literature J. Thomas Rimer, 2007-04-24 In Volume 2 of Columbia's comprehensive anthology of modern Japanese literature, thoughtfully selected and carefully translated readings portray the vast changes that have transformed Japanese culture since the end of the Pacific War. Beginning with the Allied Occupation in 1945 and concluding with the early twenty-first century, these stories, poems, plays, and essays reflect Japan's heady transition from poverty to prosperity, its struggle with conflicting ideologies and political beliefs, and the growing influence of popular culture on the country's artistic and intellectual traditions. Organized chronologically and by genre, within each period readings include fiction by Hayashi Fumiko and Oe Kenzaburo, poems by Ayukawa Nobuo, Katsura Nobuko, and Saito Fumi, plays by Mishima Yukio and Shimizu Kunio, and a number of essays among them Eto Jun on Natsume Soseki and his brilliant novel Kokoro, 'The Heart of Things' and Kawabata Yasunari on the shape of his literary career and the enduring influence of classical Japanese literature. Some authors train a keen eye on the contemporary world, while others address the historical past and its relationship to modern culture. Some adopt an even broader scope and turn to European models for inspiration, while others look inward, exploring psychological and sexual terrain in new, often daring ways. Spanning almost six decades, this anthology provides a thorough introduction to a profound period of creative activity.

Censorship in Japan has seen many changes over the last 150 years, and each successive system of rule has possessed its own censorship laws, regulations, and methods of enforcement. Yet what has remained constant through these many upheavals has been the process of negotiation between censor and artist that can be seen across the cultural media of modern society By exploring censorship in a number of different Japanese art forms from popular music and kabuki performance through to fiction poetry and film across a range of historical periods this book provides a striking picture of the pervasiveness and strength of Japanese censorship across a range of media the similar tactics used by artists of different media to negotiate censorship boundaries and how censors from different systems and time periods face many of the same problems and questions in their work The essays in this collection highlight the complexities of the censorship process by investigating the responsibilities and choices of all four groups artists censors audience and ideologues in a wide range of case studies The contributors shift the focus away from top down suppression towards the more complex negotiations involved in the many stages of an artistic work all of which involve movement within boundaries as well as testing of those boundaries on the part of both artist and censor Taken together the essays in this book demonstrate that censorship at every stage involves an act of human judgment in a context determined by political economic and ideological factors This book and its case studies provide a fascinating insight into the dynamics of censorship and how these operate on both people and texts As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in Japanese studies Japanese culture society and history and media studies more generally

The Oxford Book of Japanese Short Stories Theodore William Goossen, 2002 Beginning with the first writings to assimilate and rework Western literary traditions through the flourishing of the short story genre in the cosmopolitan atmosphere of the Taisho era to the new breed of writers produced under the constraints of literary censorship and the current writings reflecting the pitfalls and paradoxes of modern life this anthology offers a stimulating survey of the entire development of the Japanese short story

Representing the Other in Modern Japanese Literature Rachael Hutchinson, Mark Williams, 2006-09-27 Representing the Other in Modern Japanese Literature looks at the ways in which authors writing in Japanese in the twentieth century constructed a division between the Self and the Other in their work Drawing on methodology from Foucault and Lacan the clearly presented essays seek to show how Japanese writers have responded to the central question of what it means to be Japanese and of how best to define their identity Taking geographical racial and ethnic identity as a starting point to explore Japan's vision of non-Japan representations of the Other are examined in terms of the experiences of Japanese authors abroad and in the imaginary lands envisioned by authors in Japan Using a diverse cross section of writers and texts as case studies this edited volume brings together contributions from a number of leading international experts in the field and is written at an accessible level making it essential reading for those working in Japanese studies colonialism identity studies and nationalism

The Smile of a Ragpicker Paul Glynn, 2014-09-29. Following his acclaimed work A Song for Nagasaki in which Fr Paul Glynn told the powerful story of Dr Nagai, a Christian convert of remarkable courage and compassion who ministered to victims of the atomic bomb attack on his city, The Smile of a Ragpicker brings us the heroic story of Satoko Kitahara, a young beautiful woman of wealth who gave up her riches and comfort to be among the ragpickers in the Tokyo slums. Motivated by her newfound faith in Christ, she plunged into the life of the poor regardless of the consequences. As Satoko helped the poor with their material and spiritual needs, she also helped them to recover their self-respect and dignity. Satoko's story demonstrates how one person's life can affect so many others. Every day Satoko encountered Christ in some new and challenging way, calling the Church back to identification with the poor. Like Dr Nagai, she expressed her faith through the sensitivity and beauty of her own Japanese culture Satoko died a young woman in dire poverty Yet her death mourned by many thousands reflected her triumphant life of deep Christian faith and charity This is a powerful story of reconciliation and healing between people of different social economic and religious backgrounds inspired by a frail young woman of luminous faith Illustrated with photos The Columbia Anthology of Modern Japanese Literature: From restoration to occupation, 1868-1945 J. Thomas Rimer, Van C. Gessel, 2005 1870s continues through the years of social change preceding World War I and the bold and innovative writing of the interwar period and concludes with works written during World War II Each chapter includes a helpful critical introduction and biographical introductions for each writer

Five Modern Japanese Novelists Donald Keene, 2005-06-22 The New Yorker has called Donald Keene America's preeminent scholar of Japanese literature Now he presents a new book that serves as both a superb introduction to modern Japanese fiction and a memoir of his own lifelong love affair with Japanese literature and culture Five Modern Japanese Novelists profiles five prominent writers whom Donald Keene knew personally Tanizaki Jun ichiro Kawabata Yasunari Mishima Yukio Abe Kobo and Shiba Ryotaro Keene masterfully blends vignettes describing his personal encounters with these famous men with autobiographical observations and his trademark learned literary and cultural analysis Keene opens with a confession before arriving in Japan in 1953 despite having taught Japanese for several years at Cambridge he knew the name of only one living Japanese writer Tanizaki Keene's training in classical Japanese literature and fluency in the language proved marvelous preparation though for the journey of literary discovery that began with that first trip to Japan as he came into contact sometimes quite fortuitously with the genius of a generation It is a journey that will fascinate experts and newcomers alike Nagai Kafū's Occidentalism Rachael Hutchinson, 2011-11-01 Nagai Kaf 1879 1959 spent more time abroad than any other writer of his generation firing the Japanese imagination with his visions of America and France Applying the theoretical framework of Occidentalism to Japanese literature Rachael Hutchinson explores Kaf's construction of the Western Other an integral part of his critique of Meiji civilization Through contrast with the Western Other Kaf was able to solve the dilemma that so plagued Japanese intellectuals how to modernize and yet retain an authentic Japanese identity in the modern world Kaf's flexible positioning of imagined spaces like the West and the Orient ultimately led him to a definition of the Japanese Self Hutchinson analyzes the wide range of Kaf's work particularly those novels and stories reflecting Kaf's time in the West and the return to Japan most unknown to Western readers and a number unavailable in English along with his better known depictions of Edo's demimonde Kaf's place in Japan's intellectual history and his influence on other writers are also discussed Scripting Suicide in Japan Kirsten Cather, 2024-10-15 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Japan is a nation saddled with centuries of accumulated stereotypes and loaded assumptions about suicide Many pronouncements have been made about those who have died by their own hand without careful attention to the words of the dead themselves Drawing upon far ranging creations by famous twentieth and twenty first century Japanese writers and little known amateurs alike such as death poems suicide notes memorials suicide maps and manuals works of literature photography film and manga Kirsten Cather interrogates how suicide is scripted and to what end Entering the orbit of suicidal writers and readers with care she shows that through close readings these works can reveal fundamental beliefs about suicide and just as crucially about acts of writing These are not scripts set in stone but graven images and words nonetheless that serve to mourn the dead straddling two impulses to put the dead to rest and to keep them alive forever These words reach out to us to initiate a dialogue with the dead one that can reveal why it matters to write into and from the void
