vocabulary acquisition which has a long tradition in European research but has been somewhat neglected by English speaking researchers The methodology was pioneered in France where it developed into the Francais Fondamental project an influential approach to the vocabulary needs of learners of French It was also taken up by Spanish researchers and more recently developed by the team at La Rioja University Where English language research has focused on the frequency of words in large corpora and the implications of this feature for L2 vocabulary acquisition the lexical availability tradition takes a much more learner centred approach to L2 vocabulary skills directly reflecting learners needs and learners ability to do things with small effective vocabularies This leads to a set of research priorities that look refreshingly different from the ones we are used to Read this book It might change the way you think about vocabulary research Paul Meara Swansea University Wales UK

that cannot be prevented In short it is about extending all our capacities to the fullest so that we can better keep all those promises that we make to ourselves and others Aging is a life long process We focus here on the changes that are taking place in our selves and in our society as we age In particular we focus on what we can do to affect these changes by the choices we make and how we live This book offers primary prevention strategies for mature and older adults with the recognition that mature adulthood starts as soon as we are old enough to truly appreciate our active role in our own aging processes
