Over more than two centuries the development of economic theory has created a wide array of different concepts theories and insights My recent book Capital and Knowledge Zhang 1999a shows how separate economic theories such as the Marxian economics the Keynesian economics the general equilibrium theory and the neoclassical growth theory can be examined within a single theoretical framework The Capital and Knowledge constructs an economic theory to account for the phenomena explained by the main economic theories of national economies in a unified manner It tries to draw together the disparate branches of economics into a single organized system of knowledge This book is a part of my economic theory with endogenous population capital knowledge preferences sexual division of labor and consumption institutions economic structures and exchange values over time and space Zhang 1996a As an extension of the Capital and Knowledge which is focused on the dynamics of national economies this book is to construct a theory of international trade We are concerned with dynamic relations between international division of labor division of consumption and determination of prices structure in global economy We examine dynamic interdependence between capital accumulation knowledge creation and utilization economic growth price structures and international trade patterns under free competition Our theory is constructed on the basis of a few concepts within a compact framework
