Tucker,Nicholas B. Breyfogle,Peter Mansoor,2020-04-02 World War II was the largest and most destructive conflict in human history It was an existential struggle that pitted irreconcilable political systems and ideologies against one another across the globe in a decade of violence unlike any other There is little doubt today that the United States had to engage in the fighting especially after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7 1941 The conflict was in the words of historians Allan Millett and Williamson Murray a war to be won As the world s largest industrial power the United States put forth a supreme effort to produce the weapons munitions and military formations essential to achieving victory When the war finally ended the finale signaled by atomic mushroom clouds over Hiroshima and Nagasaki upwards of 60 million people had perished in the inferno Of course the human toll represented only part of the devastation global environments also suffered greatly The growth and devastation of the Second World War significantly changed American landscapes as well The war created or significantly expanded a number of industries put land to new uses spurred urbanization and left a legacy of pollution that would in time create a new term Superfund site Air Corps News Letter ,1967 Strategic Planning for Coalition Warfare: 1943-1944 Maurice Matloff,Edwin Marion Snell,1953 Harper's Pictorial Library of the World War Albert Bushnell Hart,1920 Victory at Sea Paul M. Brown,2018-11-30 Through a reliance on nuclear weapons President Eisenhower hoped to provide a defense strategy that would allow the U S to maintain its security requirements without creating an economic burden This defense strategy known as the New Look benefited the U S Air Force with its focus on strategic nuclear weapons The U S also required European missile bases to deploy their intermediate range ballistic missiles while efforts continued to develop U S based intercontinental ballistic missiles Deploying such missiles to Europe required balancing regional European concerns with U S domestic security priorities In the wake of the Soviet Sputnik launch in 1957 the U S began to fear Soviet missile capabilities Using European missile bases would mitigate this domestic security issue but convincing NATO allies to base the missiles in their countries raised issues of sovereignty and weapons control and ran the risk of creating divisions in the NATO alliance

The Irish and British Wars, 1637-1654 James Scott Wheeler,2003-10-03 With numerous maps and illustrations James Scott Wheeler connects the strategic and tactical levels of war with political actions and reactions and discusses how Britain and Ireland became battlegrounds in the war of three kingdoms The various stages of this period of turmoil are clearly demonstrated right through to the execution of Charles I the conquest of Catholic Ireland and the eventual death of the English Republic and provide students of history with an excellent addition to their studies Vietnam United States.
