Emerging Hispanicized English in the Nuevo New South Erin Callahan,2018-04-17 This volume provides a comprehensive overview of contemporary language shift and identity in a language community in the mid Atlantic South to offer a unique window into ethnic dialect formation and sociolinguistic processes underpinning dialect acquisition Drawing on data collected from over 100 interviews of members North Carolina Hispanicized English speakers in Durham North Carolina the book employs a quantitative approach and uses statistical software in analyzing the data collected to focus on the sociolinguistic variable of past tense unmarking to explore sociolinguistic processes at work in English language learner variation The focus on a specific variable allows for the opportunity to explore specific processes in more detail including the ways in which speakers accommodate regional and ethnic varieties of their peers and the internal and environmental factors guiding dialect acquisition Illuminating new facets to the processes of language learning language contact and ethnolect emergence this volume is key reading for students and researchers in second language acquisition and variationist sociolinguistics UPRT 2010: Empirical Studies in English Applied Linguistics , Early Learning and Teaching of English Jelena Mihaljević Djigunović, Marta Medved Krajnović, 2015-03-02 This book offers an insight into the dynamics and complexities of learning and teaching English as a foreign language at primary level Taking a Dynamic Systems Theory perspective the chapters present the findings of longitudinal research undertaken in Croatia into the development of English in young learners The book includes both qualitative and quantitative research and provides insights into internal individual learner factors and external micro and macro contextual factors which impact English learner development Importantly it tackles the unique position of English in today's globalised world in detail It therefore makes a major contribution to work on learning English by the digitalised generation and to understanding the impact of practices in the modern EFL classroom The volume will appeal to anyone interested in new ways of researching the complex and dynamic phenomenon of the early learning of English Language in Cognition and Affect Ewa Piechurska-Kuciel, Elżbieta Szymańska-Czaplak, 2013-01-30 The volume contains most updated theoretical and empirical research on foreign or second language processes analyzed from the perspective of cognition and affect It consists of articles devoted to various issues related to such broad topics as gender literacy translation or culture to mention a few The collection of papers offers a constructive and inspiring insight into a fuller understanding of the interconnection of the language cognition affect trichotomy Bengali-English in East London Sebastian M. Rasinger, 2007 An in depth study of language and language use within the Bangladeshi community in the East London borough of Tower Hamlets Based on a corpus of spontaneous speech data collected within the area the book provides the reader with an overview of the linguistic characteristics of Bengali English as well as patterns of language use A Longitudinal Analysis of English Article Acquisition in the Compositions of Japanese, Arabic, and Spanish Speakers Linda Carol Shaull, 1995 Articles in English as a Second Language Justyna Leśniewska, 2019-06-02 The aim of this study is twofold firstly to provide an overview of research findings on the acquisition and use of articles in English as a second language secondly to investigate this issue from a phraseological perspective The book also presents an examination of various linguistic accounts of the English article system with respect to their application to English language teaching In view of the growing body of theoretical and empirical studies indicating that language use is to a considerable degree phraseologically motivated this book argues for a connection between formulaicity and correct article use This possibility is explored in two studies presented in the final chapter which suggest that correctness in the use of articles depends on the frequency of the phrases in which they appear These findings support the view that frequency driven conventionality in language may play a role in the acquisition and use of articles in L2 English

This is a very important contribution to the discussion of the L2 acquisition of articles with particular regard to the L2 acquisition of English. Such a discussion is required in view of the confusing variety of opinions expressed on this matter and the unsatisfactory nature of the pedagogical advice on offer to teachers of English as an L2. Dr Le niewska's study reviews the relevant literature interestingly and fully and it proposes an approach to article acquisition in L2 English which is long overdue. Prof David Singleton, Fellow Emeritus, Trinity College.

Second Language Pronunciation Ubiratã Kickhöfel Alves, Jeniffer Imaregna Alcantara de Albuquerque, 2022-12-19 In the field of second language L2 acquisition the number of studies focusing on L2 pronunciation instruction and perceptual production training has increased as new classroom methodologies have been proposed and new goals for L2 pronunciation have been set. This book brings together different approaches to L2 pronunciation research in the classroom or in the language laboratory. 13 chapters written by well known researchers focusing on a variety of first and target languages are divided into four parts: Pronunciation development and intelligibility implications for teaching and training studies; L2 pronunciation teaching; L2 pronunciation training implications for the classroom; and Pronunciation in the laboratory. High Variability Phonetic Training. Intended for researchers in the fields of second language acquisition, phonetics, phonology, psycholinguistics, speech therapies, speech technology, as well as second language teaching, this book not only summarizes the current research questions on L2 pronunciation teaching and training but also predicts future scenarios for both researchers and practitioners in the field.

New Methodological Approaches to Foreign Language Teaching Thomas H. Schmidt, Laura Torres-Zúñiga, 2017-06-23 This volume explores how the traditional academic disciplines of linguistics, translation literature and cultural studies can contribute to or be integrated into the teaching of a foreign language by means of innovative methodologies, techniques and instruments. The book begins with a selection of essays on applied linguistics that share some significant findings in the context of second or foreign language acquisition. It then examines the ways in which linguistics, translation theory, literature and cultural studies are brought into the foreign language classroom not just as objects of study but also as vehicles for language learning. By presenting studies on four main foreign languages: English, Spanish, French and German, the collection offers to the foreign language profession an opportunity for the sharing and comparison of strategies across languages at both the secondary and higher education level. The text is a valuable resource for language teachers with a more philologically oriented background who would like to learn how to apply their research knowledge and experience to the design and implementation of new methodological approaches.
