Hopkinson,[Anonymus AC01401231],1995 A Manual for Teaching English in China Bill Burkett,2009-05 Come with us now to the first day of class to teach English in China Both students and teacher s hearts pound with anticipation as students file into the room chatting and pretending not to notice the foreign teacher standing behind his desk But they can t help glancing at him anyway for a first look Laughter mingles with the sound of books and chairs clanking together A buzzer sounds in the hall and Bill Burkett affectionately known in China by his students as Mr Bill begins A Manual for Teaching

English in China takes us from the first day's buzzer through the first weeks, months and semesters of teaching English in China, sharing numerous stories, laughs, interesting facts and many effective ways of teaching ESL. A Manual for Teaching English in China is packed with Bill Burkett's practical ideas, methods and teaching techniques that can actually be used to teach ESL anywhere. Bill Burkett recently returned from a seven-year stint of teaching English in the universities and training schools of Henan, China. An internationally renowned public speaker, Burkett has lived in 46 nations in the last 43 years. He developed a strong interest in linguistics, which was fueled by his close association with interpreters. In Chinese classrooms where he taught English, he conducted active research, experimenting and taking student polls. He concentrated on eliminating speech impediments and strong accents. His education experiences and research shaped his philosophy of teaching English as a Second Language and formed the basis of his first ESL book, A Manual for Teaching English in China. Following the manual is Secrets to Better English, which reveals a proven method of teaching ESL without accent. Although Burkett's doctorate is in philosophy, his love is making a difference in his students' lives by teaching diction and the skills of speech.

The Moral Metaphor System Ning Yu, 2022. This book uses conceptual metaphor theory to explore moral metaphors in English and Chinese. Ning Yu sheds light on the metaphorical nature of moral cognition and how it is systematically manifested in language and explores the potential commonalities that define moral cognition and the differences that characterize distinct cultures.

Multimodal Approaches to Chinese-English Translation and Interpreting Meifang Zhang, Dezheng (William) Feng, 2020-12-29. Nowadays discourse analysis deals with not only texts but also paratexts and images, so do translation and interpreting studies. Therefore, the concept of multimodality has become an increasingly important topic in the subject areas of linguistics, discourse analysis and translation studies. However, up to now, not much research has been done systematically on multimodal factors in translation and interpreting, and even less in exploring research models or methodologies for multimodal analysis in translation and interpreting. This book aims to introduce and apply different theories of the multimodal discourse analysis to the study of translations with case studies on Chinese classics such as the Monkey King, Mulan and The Art of War, as well as on interpretations of up-to-date issues including the Chinese Belt and Road Initiatives and Macao tourism. The chapters reflect the first attempts to apply multimodal approaches to translation and interpreting with a special focus on Chinese-English translations and interpreting. They provide new understandings of transformations in the multimodal translation process and useful reference models for researchers who are interested in doing research of a similar kind, especially for those who are interested in looking into translations related to Chinese language, literature and culture.
