Looking for the Aliens Peter A. Hough, Jenny Randles, 1997 Centering the Margins of Anthropology's History Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2021-05 The series Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing the awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching learning and conducting anthropology The series includes critical comparative analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology Volume 14 Centering the Margins of Anthropology's History focuses on the conscious recognition of margins and suggests it is time to bring the margins to the center both in terms of a changing theoretical openness and a supporting body of scholarship if not to problematize the very dichotomy of center and margins itself The essays explore two major themes of anthropology's margins First anthropologists and historians have long sought out marginalized and forgotten ancestors arguing for their present day relevance and offering explanations for the lack of attention to their contributions to theory analysis methods and findings Second anthropologists and their historians have explored a range of genres to present their results in provocative and open ended formats This volume closes with an experimental essay that offers a dynamic multifaceted perspective that captures one of the dominant if sometimes marginalized voices in history of anthropology Steven O Murray's career developed at the institutional margins of several academic disciplines and activist discourses but his distinctive voice has been and will remain at the center of our history

Wagoner, Ignacio Brescó de Luna, Sarah H. Awad, 2017-02-01 This book offers a new approach to imagination which brings its emotional social cultural contextual and existential characteristics to the fore Fantasy and imagination are understood as the human capacity to distance oneself from the here and now situation in order to return to it with new possibilities To do this we use social cultural means e g language stories art images etc to conceive of imaginary scenarios some of which may become real Imagination is involved in every situation of our lives though to different degrees Sometimes this process can lead to concrete products e g artistic works that can be picked up and used by others for the purposes of their imagining Imagination is not seen here as an isolated cognitive faculty but as the means by which people anticipate and constructively move towards an indeterminate future It is in this process of living forward with the help of imagination that novelty appears and social change becomes possible This book offers a conceptual history of imagination an array of theoretical approaches imagination s use in psychologist s thinking and a number of new research areas Its aim is to offer a re enchantment of the concept of imagination and the discipline of psychology more generally The Encyclopedia of Alien Encounters Alan Baker, 1999 Containing over 500 entries this historical reference work provides an A Z of alien and non human encounters It details the events encounters personalities and theories that have created this field of human experience and inquiry
