Entering the Picture Jill Fields, 2012-02-27 In 1970 Judy Chicago and fifteen students founded the groundbreaking Feminist Art Program FAP at Fresno State Drawing upon the consciousness raising techniques of the women's liberation movement they created shocking new art forms depicting female experiences Collaborative work and performance art including the famous Cunt Cheerleaders were program hallmarks Moving to Los Angeles the FAP produced the first major feminist art installation Womanhouse 1972 Augmented by thirty seven illustrations and color plates this interdisciplinary collection of essays by artists and scholars many of whom were eye witnesses to landmark events relates how feminists produced vibrant bodies of art in Fresno and other locales where similar collaborations flourished Articles on topics such as African American artists in New York and Los Angeles San Francisco's Las Mujeres Muralistas and Asian American Women Artists Association and exhibitions in Taiwan and Italy showcase the artistic trajectories that destabilized traditional theories and practices and reshaped the art world An engaging editor's introduction explains how feminist art emerged within the powerful women's movement that transformed America Entering the Picture is an exciting collection about the provocative contributions of feminists to American art Transforming Universities in the Midst of Global Crisis Richard Hil, Kristen Lyons, Fern Thompsett, 2021-12-22 This book calls into question the colonial and neoliberal university presenting alternative models of higher education that can more effectively respond to today's intersecting social economic environmental and political crises The authors argue that universities should be driven by a different set of core values one that promotes the common good over private or commercial interests individualism and market fundamentalism Presenting a broad range of educational initiatives from around the world that reflect life affirming regenerative and relational practices Indigenous intellectual sovereignty and principles of social and ecological justice the authors contend that pathways toward transforming higher education already exist within and without the university This task say the authors is urgent and necessary if universities and other institutions are to hold relevance in a rapidly changing global environment This book makes a unique contribution to critiques of the modern neoliberal university by looking for alternatives within and beyond traditional institutions of higher education In doing so the authors dismantle the longstanding ivory tower image of the university instead resituating education within broader social and ecological communities Transforming Universities in the Midst of Global Crisis is aimed at all those who have a direct or indirect interest and stake in universities from the general reader to futurists ecologists as well as students academics administrators managers policy makers and politicians

Contemporary Design Education in Australia Lisa Scharoun,Deanna Meth,Philip Crowther,Dean Brough,Lindy Osborne Burton,Muge Fialho Leandro Alves Teixeira,2023-09-04 This book offers a range of approaches to teaching higher education design students to learn to design collaboratively and creatively through transdisciplinary multidisciplinary cross disciplinary and interdisciplinary learning experiences It highlights that the premise of traditional disciplinary silos does little to advance the competencies needed for contemporary design and non linear career paths It makes the point that higher education should respond to the impacts of a changing society including fluctuating market demands economic variations uncertainties and globalization Chapters highlight approaches that address this changing landscape to meet student industry and societal needs and reflect a range of design education contexts in which the authors have taught with a focus on experiences at the Queensland University of Technology Australia but also including collaborations and comparative discussions elsewhere in Australia and globally spanning Europe Asia the Middle East and the United States The book is positioned not as a definitive theoretical model for transdisciplinary design education but instead as a collective of chapters in which many forms of learning are explored through overarching themes of curriculum design and experiential and authentic learning and collaboration transforming professional identities and design cultures

Gendering Landscape Art Steven Adams,Anna Gruetzner Robins,2000 While gender has been the subject of extensive critical inquiry the debate has focused primarily on the human particularly the female body The spaces bodies occupy and the ways in which those spaces are depicted in landscape art has not however been subject to investigation This book is the first sustained attempt to fill this gap in art history

Black Males and Racism Terence D. Fitzgerald,2015-10-23 Behind the twenty first century curtain of colorblind public sentiment lies an often ignored reality shared by many African American males racism continues to thrive and often drastically affects their lives Fitzgerald draws on his extensive interviews of black males to reveal the experiences of racism that continue in public schools and in American higher education Using empirical data and the methods of sociological research Fitzgerald analyzes how the persistent effects of white supremacy in education have threatened the psychological and economic welfare of black males The effects often last well into adulthood Unraveling the subtle and overt mechanisms of institutional social control leads Fitzgerald to proposals to reduce structural racism and improve the lives of African American youth

Racing While Black Leonard T. Miller, 2011-01-04

Starting a NASCAR team is hard work. Starting a NASCAR team as an African American is even harder. These are just a few of the lessons learned by Leonard T. Miller during his decade and a half of running an auto racing program. Fueled by more than the desire to win, Miller made it his goal to create opportunities for black drivers in the vastly white Southern world of NASCAR. Racing While Black chronicles the travails of selling marketing plans to skeptics and scraping by on the thinnest of budgets, as well as the triumphs of speeding to victory and changing the way racing fans view skin color. With his father, former drag racer and longtime team owner Leonard W. Miller, along for the ride, Miller journeys from the short tracks of the Carolinas to the boardrooms of the Big Three automakers to find out that his toughest race may be winning over the human race.

New Approaches to Family Practice Nancy R. Vosler, 1996-09-27

How do economic stresses on the family, such as dual earner parents, unemployment, and poverty, affect the human service professional's assessment of the families he or she serves? The field of family sociology is now providing a wealth of empirical, relevant knowledge on the impact of macroeconomic issues on the families most frequently helped by social workers. New Approaches to Family Practice takes current research driven by the family systems theoretical framework and applies it to human services direct practice with families in three specific areas: employed work and family, work and family, unemployment and poverty. To illustrate the linkages from research to practice, the book presents chapters on the theory and research in each of the three target areas, each followed by a chapter on application and tools for direct practice in that area. Individual chapters include case studies, assessment tools, multilevel interventions and evaluations, and strategies for social change. In addition to being a rich resource for the human services professional who works with families, this book is ideal for courses in social work with the family, social work and human services, family studies, and clinical counseling psychology.

Magic City Burgin Mathews, 2023-11-28

Magic City is the story of one of American music's essential, unsung places: Birmingham, Alabama, birthplace of a distinctive and influential jazz heritage. In a telling replete with colorful characters, iconic artists, and unheralded masters, Burgin Mathews reveals how Birmingham was the cradle and training ground for such luminaries as big band leader Erskine Hawkins, cosmic outsider Sun Ra, and a long list of sidemen, soloists, and arrangers.
