The Lost City of Solomon and Sheba Robin Brown,2003 In the heart of south central Africa there are remains of monuments ruined cities temples forts irrigation terraces reminiscent of the classic civilizations of the Egyptians and Phoenicians The most recent aerial surveys suggest there could be more than 15 000 derelict stone structures each complex associated with abandoned gold mines In this work Robin Brown Lowe explores the early origins of the mines which funded the largest stone building civilization south of the pyramids His interpretation demonstrates strong links to the mighty civilizations of ancient north Africa and proposes that the zimbabwe culture s gold sustained the gold hungry

History Today ,2003 Forgeries of Memory and Meaning Cedric J. Robinson,2012-09-01 Cedric J Robinson offers a new understanding of race in America through his analysis of theater and film of the early twentieth century He argues that economic political and cultural forces present in the eras of silent film and the early talkies firmly entrenched limited representations of African Americans Robinson grounds his study in contexts that illuminate the parallel growth of racial beliefs and capitalism beginning with Shakespearean England and the development of international trade He demonstrates how the needs of American commerce determined the construction of successive racial regimes that were publicized in the theater and in motion pictures particularly through plantation and jungle films In addition to providing new depth and complexity to the history of black representation Robinson examines black resistance to these practices Whereas D W Griffith appropriated black minstrelsy and romanticized a national myth of origins Robinson argues that Oscar Micheaux transcended uplift films to create explicitly political critiques of the American national myth Robinson's analysis marks a new way of approaching the intellectual political and media racism present in the beginnings of American narrative cinema Eternity
