Loving Rachel A Familys Journal From Grief:

Loving Rachel Jane Bernstein, 2024-04-22 In 1983 Jane Bernstein had everything she ever wanted a healthy four year old daughter Charlotte a happy marriage a highly praised first novel and a brand new baby Rachel But by the time Rachel was six weeks old a neuro ophthalmologist told Jane and her husband that their baby was blind Although there was some hope that Rachel might gain partial vision as she grew her condition was one that often resulted in seizure disorders and intellectual impairment So began a series of medical and emotional setbacks that were to plague Rachel and her parents and strain their marriage to the breaking point Spanning the first four years of Rachel s life Loving Rachel is a heartbreaking chronicle of a marriage and a compelling story of parental love told with searing honesty and surprising humor Loving Rachel Jane Bernstein, 1988

Disability Histories Susan Burch, Michael Rembis, 2014-12-30 The field of disability history continues to evolve rapidly In this collection Susan Burch and Michael Rembis present essays that integrate critical analysis of gender race historical context and other factors to enrich and challenge the traditional modes of interpretation still dominating the field Contributors delve into four critical areas of study within disability history family community and daily life cultural histories the relationship between disabled people and the medical field and issues of citizenship belonging and normalcy As the first collection of its kind in over a decade Disability Histories not only brings readers up to date on scholarship within the field but fosters the process of moving it beyond the U S and Western Europe by offering work on Africa South America and Asia The result is a broad range of readings that open new vistas for investigation and study while encouraging scholars at all levels to redraw the boundaries that delineate who and what is considered of historical value Informed and accessible Disability Histories is essential for classrooms engaged in all facets of disability studies within and across disciplines

The Caregiver's Tale Ann Burack-Weiss, 2006-03-14 Ann Burack Weiss explores a rich variety of published memoirs by authors who cared for ill or disabled family members Contrary to the common belief that caregiving is nothing more than a stressful situation to be endured memoirs describe a life transforming experience self discovery a reordering of one s priorities and a changed view of the world The Caregiver's Tale offers insight and comfort to individuals caring for a loved one and is a valuable resource for all health care professionals Identifying common themes Burack Weiss describes how the illness career and social meaning of cancer dementia HIV AIDS mental illness and chemical dependence affect the caregiving experience She applies the same method to an examination of family roles parents caring for ailing children couples and siblings caring for one another and adult children caring for aging parents Jamaica Kincaid Sue Miller Paul Monette Kenzaburo O and Philip Roth are among the many authors who share their caregiving stories Burack Weiss provides an annotated bibliography of the more than one hundred memoirs and an accompanying chart to help readers locate those of greatest interest to them

Disabling Domesticity Michael Rembis, 2016-12-20 Bringing together a range of authors from the multidisciplinary field of disability studies this book uses disability and the experiences of disabled people living in the United States and Canada to explore and analyze dynamic sites of human interaction in both historical and contemporary contexts to provide readers with new ways of envisioning home care and family Contributors to Disabling Domesticity focus on the varied domestic sites where intimate and interdependent human relations are formed and maintained Analyzing domesticity through the lens of disability forces readers to think in new ways about family and household forms care work an ethic of care reproductive labor gendered and generational conflicts and cooperation ageing dependence and local and global economies and political systems in part by bringing the notion of interdependence which undergirds all of the chapters in this book into the foreground Civil Disabilities Nancy J. Hirschmann, Beth Linker, 2015-02-25 An estimated one billion people around the globe live with a disability this number grows exponentially when family members friends and care providers are included Various countries and international organizations have attempted to guard against discrimination and secure basic human rights for those whose lives are affected by disability Yet despite such attempts many disabled persons in the United States and throughout the world still face exclusion from full citizenship and membership in their respective societies They are regularly denied employment housing health care access to buildings and the right to move freely in public spaces At base such discrimination reflects a tacit yet pervasive assumption that disabled persons do not belong in society Civil Disabilities challenges such norms and practices urging a reconceptualization of disability and citizenship to secure a rightful place for disabled persons in society Essays from leading scholars in a diversity of fields offer critical perspectives on current citizenship studies which still largely assume an ableist world Placing historians in conversation with anthropologists sociologists with literary critics and musicologists with political scientists this interdisciplinary volume presents a compelling case for reimagining citizenship that is more consistent inclusive and just in both theory and practice By placing disability front and center in academic and civic discourse Civil Disabilities tests the very notion of citizenship and transforms our understanding of disability and belonging Contributors Emily Abel Douglas C Baynton Susan Burch Allison C Carey Faye Ginsburg Nancy J Hirschmann Hannah Joyner Catherine Kudlick Beth Linker Alex Lubet Rayna Rapp Susan Schweik Tobin Siebers Lorella Terzi Writing Life Stories Bill Roorbach, 2008-06-17 How to Make Memories into Memoirs Ideas into Essays and Life into Literature From drawing a map of a remembered neighborhood to signing a form releasing yourself to take risks in your work Roorbach offers innovative techniques that will trigger ideas for all writers Writing Life Stories is a classic text that appears on countless creative nonfiction and composition syllabi the world over This updated 10th anniversary edition gives you the same friendly instruction and stimulating exercises along with updated information on current memoir writing trends ethics internet research and even marketing ideas You ll discover how to turn your untold life stories into vivid personal essays and riveting memoirs by learning to open up memory access emotions shape scenes from experience develop characters and research supporting details This guide will teach you to see your life more clearly and show you why real stories are often the best ones The Disabled Child Amanda Apgar, 2023-01-10 When children are born with disabilities or become disabled in childhood parents often experience bewilderment they find themselves unexpectedly in another world without a roadmap without community and without narratives to make sense of their experiences The Disabled Child Memoirs of a Normal Future tracks the narratives that have emerged from the community of parent memoirists who since the 1980s have written in resistance of their children's exclusion from culture Though the disabilities represented in the genre are diverse the memoirs share a number of remarkable similarities they are generally written by white heterosexual middle or upper middle class able-bodied parents and they depict narratives in which the disabled child overcomes barriers to a normal childhood and adulthood Apgar demonstrates that in the process of telling these stories which recuperate their children as productive members of society parental memoirists write their children into dominant cultural narratives about gender race and class By reinforcing and buying into these norms Apgar argues special needs parental memoirs reinforce ableism at the same time that they are writing against it Academic Lives Cynthia G.

Franklin, 2012-03 Since the early 1990s there has been a proliferation of memoirs by tenured humanities professors Although the memoir form has been discussed within the flourishing field of life writing academic memoirs have received little critical scrutiny Based on close readings of memoirs by such academics as Michael B. Ruby, Cathy Davidson, Jane Gallop, bell hooks, Edward Said, Eve Sedgwick, Jane Tompkins, and Marianna Torgovnick Academic Lives considers why so many professors write memoirs and what cultural capital they carry Cynthia G. Franklin finds that academic memoirs provide unparalleled ways to unmask the workings of the academy at a time when it is dealing with a range of crises including attacks on intellectual freedom, discontentment with the academic star system and budget cuts Franklin considers how academic memoirs have engaged with a core of defining concerns in the humanities: identity, politics, and the development of whiteness studies In the 1990s the impact of postcolonial studies, feminism, and concurrent anxieties about pedagogy and disability studies and the struggle to bring together discourses on the humanities and human rights The turn back toward humanism that Franklin finds in some academic memoirs is surreptitious or frankly nostalgic others however posit a wide-ranging humanism that seeks to create space for advocacy in the academic and other institutions in which we are all unequally located These memoirs are harbingers for the critical turn to explore interrelations among humanism, the humanities, and human rights struggles

Everybody Belongs Arthur Shapiro, 2003-09 The evil prosthesis of Captain Hook, the comical speech of Porky Pig, and the bumbling antics of Mr. Magoo are all examples of images in our culture which can become the basis of negative attitudes and subliminal prejudice towards persons with disabilities These attitudes influence and underlie discriminatory acts resulting in negative treatment and segregation A teacher's ability to recognize and counter such images may well determine the success of inclusion and mainstreaming programs in our schools and society Well researched and well written this book offers practical guidance as grounded in solid research to schools that are wrestling with how to mainstream children with disabilities Rachel in the World Jane Bernstein, 2010-10-01 What happens when love is no longer enough

Jane Bernstein thought that learning to accept her daughter's disabilities meant her struggles were over. But as Rachel grew up and needed more than a parent's devotion both mother and daughter were confronted with formidable obstacles. Rachel in the World which begins in Rachel's fifth year and ends when she turns twenty-two tells of their barriers and successes with the same honesty and humor that made Loving Rachel Bernstein's first memoir a classic in its field. The linked accounts in part 1 center on family issues, social services, experiences with caregivers, and Rachel herself, difficult, charming, hard to fathom, eager for her own independence. The second part of the book chronicles Bernstein's attempt to find Rachel housing at a time when over 200,000 Americans with mental retardation were on waiting lists for residential services. As Rachel prepares to leave her mother's constant protection, Bernstein invites the reader to share the frustrations and unexpected pleasures of finding a place for her daughter first in her family and then in the world. Rachel in the World Jane Bernstein, 2007-10. A mother's attempt to know the heart and mind of a daughter with mental retardation. Journal of Nursery Education, 1992. Kirkus Reviews, 1988. Adult books are categorized by genre: i.e. fiction, mystery, science fiction, nonfiction. Along with bibliographic information, the expected date of publication and the names of literary agents for individual titles are provided. Starred reviews serve several functions. In the adult section they mark potential bestsellers, major promotions, book club selections, and just very good books. In the children's section they denote books of very high quality. The unsigned reviews manage to be discerning and sometimes quite critical. Jim Kobak's Kirkus Reviews, 1988. The New York Times Index, 2004. Parent Resources on Prevention and Early Intervention of Developmental Disabilities, 1992. Do You Hear what I Hear? Janice Fialka, Karen C. Mikus, 1999. A book to be used for self-reflection, personnel preparation, and parent/professional trainings. Cover and title page. Building the Healing Partnership Patricia Taner Leff, Elaine H. Walizer, 1992. Using gripping personal stories from parents and professionals, this book conveys the day-to-day struggles and triumphs of caring for children with persisting medical needs. Compassionately addresses the inherent stresses in the relationship between caregivers, patients, and families. By honestly presenting the perspectives of parents and health care professionals, this insightful book enhances mutual understanding and guides readers toward constructive communication.
