Loving Through Bars Children With Parents In Prison:

Loving Through Bars Cynthia Martone, 2005 Provides a close up examination of the instability and uncertainty that plague the children of prisoners in a collection of personal anecdotal accounts that chronicle their attempts to cope with the unique challenges in their lives

The Relationship Rights of Children James G. Dwyer, 2006-04-17 This book presents a sustained theoretical analysis of what rights children should possess in connection with state decision making about their personal relationships which the state does in numerous aspects of family law including paternity adoption custody and visitation termination of parental rights and grandparent visitation It examines the nature and normative foundation of adults rights in connection with relationships among themselves and then assesses the extent to which the moral principles underlying adults rights apply also to children It concludes that the law should ascribe to children rights equivalent though not identical to those which adults enjoy and this would require substantial changes in the way the legal system treats children including a reformation of the rules for establishing legal parent child relationships at birth and of the rules for deciding whether to end a parent child relationship

Grief, Loss, and Treatment for Death Row Families Sandra Joy, 2013-12-05 The families of death row inmates are rarely considered in public discourse regarding the death penalty They have largely been forgotten and their pain has not been acknowledged by the rest of society These families experience a unique grief process as they are confronted with the loss of their loved one to death row and brace themselves for the possibility of an execution Death row families are disenfranchised from their grief by the surrounding community and their mental health needs exacerbated as they struggle in isolation with the ambiguous loss that comes with the fear that the state will kill their loved one Grief Loss and Treatment for Death Row Families describes the grief that families experience from the time of their loved one's arrest through his or her execution In each chapter Sandra Joy guides the reader through the grief process experienced by the families offering clinical interventions that can be used by mental health professionals who are given the opportunity to work with these families at various stages of their grief The author conducted over seventy qualitative interviews with family members from Delaware who either currently have a loved one on death row or have survived the execution of their loved one Delaware was chosen because though it has a relatively small death row it is ranked third in the nation with its rate of per capita executions This book provides an in depth awareness of the grieving process of death row families as well as ways that professionals can intervene to assist them in healing With increased awareness and effective clinical treatment we can ensure that the families of death row inmates are forgotten no more

Critical Criminology in Canada Aaron Doyle, 2011-01-01 This book presents the work of a new generation of critical criminologists who explore the geographical institutional and political contexts of the discipline in Canada Breaking away from mainstream criminology and law and order discourses the authors offer a spectrum of theoretical approaches to criminal justice from governmentality to feminist criminology from critical realism to anarchism and they propose novel approaches to topics ranging from genocide to white collar crime By posing crucial questions and attempting to define what criminology should be this book will shape debates about crime policing and punishment for years to come The Minds of Boys Gurian

Michael,Kathy Stevens,2010-12-14 Michael Gurian s blockbuster bestseller The Wonder of Boys is the bible for mothers fathers and educators on how to understand and raise boys It has sold over 400 000 copies been translated into 17 languages and sells over 25 000 every year which is more than any other book on boys in history To follow up on this first book which launched the boy s movement he has now written this revolutionary new book which confronts what he and a lot of other parents and teachers in this country truly believe to be a boy s crisis Here are the facts Boys today are simply not learning as well as girls Boys receive 70% of the Ds and Fs given all students Boys cause 90% of classroom discipline problems 80% of all high school dropouts are boys Millions of American boys are on Ritalin and other mind bending control drugs Only 40% of college students are boys And three out of four learning disabled students are boys So what can we do Gurian has the answer in this enormously fascinating and practical book which shows parents and teachers how to help boys overcome their current classroom obstacles by helping to create the proper learning environment understand how to help boys work with their unique natural gifts nurture and expand every bit of their potential and enabling them to succeed in life the way they ought to Gurian presents a whole new way of solving the problem based on the success of his program in schools across the country the latest research and application of neuro biological research on how boys brains actually work and how they can learn very well if they re properly taught Anyone who cares about the future of our boys must read this book Encountering

Correctional Populations Kathleen A. Fox,Jodi Lane,Susan F. Turner,2018-01-09 While many studying criminology learn to examine offenders offending and its consequences few actually journey into the physical world of prisons to meet offenders face to face Created specifically for criminology students and equally useful for current researchers and practitioners this book serves as a step by step toolkit on how to humanely conduct research with populations in the correctional system The authors combined 60 years of experience allows them to provide field tested practical advice for researching youth and adults on probation on parole or incarceration The book guides readers through practical concerns such as gaining access and building rapport with offenders and those who monitor them the types of correctional data that can be collected informed consent process and research ethics and the logistics of doing research Through personal stories what if scenarios and case studies as well as examples of real world tools like checklists and sample forms the authors share methods of how to overcome the obstacles that criminologists must face as they learn to work with those behind bars American Directory
