

Law School Admissions Test (LSAT) Sections

Analytical Reasoning

The LSAT comprises at least one scored section of Analytical Reasoning (AR) also known as Logic Games (LG). In this section, you will have to read passages that comprise approximately 100 words. The passages will describe specific scenarios which you should go through carefully. After reading the passage/scenario, you will be asked to answer some 5 to 7 questions regarding the scenario. In total, in the Analytical Reasoning section, you will have to read four different passages and then answer the subsequent questions.

Logical Reasoning

The LSAT always has two scored Logical Reasoning (LR) sections. The LR sections require students to read a few short and argumentative passages, anywhere from 20-100 words and answer one question per passage. In total, one Logical Reasoning section has approximately 25 questions, which means around 50 questions in total for two LR sections. Test takers do not need any specialized background knowledge to answer these questions, and they cover a wide range of topics.

Reading Comprehension

The LSAT contains one scored Reading Comprehension section, with approximately 27 questions in total. This section contains four sets of reading questions, which follow a selection of reading material (up to 460 words per reading material). Each single reading material is followed by five to eight questions regarding the reading. One set of questions out of the total four contains two related shorter passages, which the LSAC calls Comparative Reading (CR).

Experimental Section

The experimental section of the LSAT is an additional (unscored) multiple-choice section. Test takers are not aware which the experimental section is because it blends, quite well, with the rest of the test. The experimental section can either be an extra Analytical Reasoning section, Logical Reasoning section, or Reading Comprehension section. In the LSAT, there will always be one AR section, one RC section, and two LR sections.

Writing Sample

Although administered separately, the LSAT writing sample is an important part of the Law School Admissions Test. The Writing Sample section of the test is not scored by the Law School Admissions Council (LSAC); however, it does get passed along to the law schools you apply to. The majority of law schools require applicants to have a writing sample in their file, and it is often an integral part of the admissions process, although not the main one.

the reading Passage topics are varied they most often include humanities science legal and social science texts However other types of passages will sometimes be included by the test writers The three lengthy passages generally reflect sophisticated writing and vocabulary and can contain unusual complexities in argument structure and viewpoint The two shorter comparative reading passages require test takers to consider the relationship of one passage to the other test takers answer questions regarding points made in one and then juxtapose these to counterpoints made in the other Test takers will also consider individual applications of principles and the principles themselves as well as generalities and specific instances in relation to passage arguments and descriptions The Writing Sample The writing sample is the essay portion of the LSAT While the writing sample is mandatory it is not graded and is therefore not a part of your LSAT score Law schools independently evaluate each applicant s LSAT writing sample after receiving the potential law student s application
