Oxygen administration may be initiated for a variety of reasons

Increased metabolic demand maintenance of oxygenation while providing anesthesia supplementation during treatment of lung illnesses that affect oxygen exchange breathing difficulty carbon monoxide exposure are a few examples for its initiation

Dehydration is the common health issue in pediatric population that occurs with almost all childhood illnesses

Infants and young children are the vulnerable population to diarrheal disease and dehydration

The World Health Organization defines dehydration as a condition that results from excessive loss of body water

Dehydration is a vital cause of morbidity and mortality among children globally

Also each year nearly 760 000 children are diagnosed with diarrheal disease worldwide

Most incidents of dehydration in children are the negative impact of acute gastroenteritis

The most accurate assessment of degree of dehydration depends on the difference between the pre illness body weight within last 2 weeks and present body weight

If a 10 kg child who weighs 9.5 kg has a 500 ml water deficit and results in 5% dehydration

If the recent weight is not available we may use the history and clinical examination to predict the degree of dehydration in children
