Manuvu Social Organization:

Manuvu' Social Organization E. Arsenio Manuel, 1973 Sacrifice and Sharing in the Philippine Highlands Thomas P. Gibson, 2021-03-10 This book is about the relationship between the Buid value system and their history of resistance to the lowland world Philippine Quarterly of Culture and Society, 2007 Environmental Invasion and Social Response Douglas M. Fraiser, 2019-01-01 As governments corporations and settlers race to take the world's forests for their own what happens to the indigenous peoples who live there Are they at the mercy of overwhelming forces destined to lose livelihood identity and respect as they are dispossessed and assimilated This account of the Dulangan Manobo an indigenous people of the Philippines whose rainforest homeland is being appropriated by loggers and settlers from the country's dominant society explores how one embattled society is changing its social organization to withstand outside forces Environmental Invasion and Social Response examines the evolution of coordinated action among the Manobo from its roots in religious response through the development of numerous civil organizations to its culmination in the emergence of indigenous land rights organizations Despite government favoritism toward loggers and settlers longstanding enemies of natural forests the Manobo have continued to develop new social structures for cooperation in pursuit of rights to their ancestral homeland The success of their efforts will play a large part in determining the forest's future destruction at the hand of outsiders or effective and sustainable management by those who have always lived there The Malay World of Southeast Asia Patricia Lim Pui Huen, 1986 Over 5 000 entries arranged in four parts Part I comprises reference and general works to provide a guide to information on Southeast Asia Part II provides the setting of space and time Part III features the people and Part IV the many facets of culture and society language ideas beliefs values institutions creative expression and social and cultural change Within each section the arrangement is geographical beginning with Southeast Asia as a whole followed by the various countries in alphabetical order Society & Culture, Songs and Gifts at the Frontier Jose S. Buenconsejo, 2013-11-26 This book investigates the particular history and social experience by a marginalized society in Mindanao Island Philippines through an analysis of the speech song and dance in spirit possession ritual Using the concepts of exchange and reciprocity Buenconsejo connects the performativity of ritual song to the formation and maintenance of sociability personhood and subjectivity Also includes maps The Lumad and Moro of Mindanao B. R. RODIL, 1993-01-01 There are two main indigenous groups in the south of the Philippines the Lumad and the Moro Together the Lumad who have retained their traditional beliefs and the Islamized Moro communities regard themselves as the original inhabitants of the greater part of the island of Mindanao and the Sulu Archipelago Both these peoples have shown themselves to be enduring in the face of Spanish and US colonization and the policies of the predominantly Christian Philippine national government The Philippines is a country with a low per capita income and a growing and land hungry population In order to solve some of these problems including a worsening energy crisis the government is attempting to exploit Mindanao's abundant natural resources but this directly conflicts with the interests of the Lumad and Moro The situation is inextricably linked with the fact that since 1972 the government has been engaged in a war of attrition with the Moro National Liberation Front MNLF who have been fighting for political control within Mindanao THE LUMAD AND MORO OF MINDANAO outlines the origins of these two peoples historical issues of land ownership and settlement programmes the effect of big business and development the campaigning strategies of the Lumad and the Moro s journey to self determination Written by Professor B R Rodil a member of the Tiruray Lumad community this is a timely and essential exploration of the situation of these two indigenous groups who have been increasingly marginalized by the central government of the Philippines Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues

Women's Common Destiny Hope Sabanpan-Yu,2009 In this first ever book length study of maternal representations in Cebuano literature Hope Sabanpan Yu reveals the confluence of indigenous and foreign cultures and convincingly connects the theory of split level maternity to the debate on motherhood in the Philippines Yu traces the history of motherhood and examines the maternal stereotypes including the important roles played by patriarchal and societal structures

Koilawan Edmund Melig Industan,2007-11 This volume is a heartwarming and enlightening book of the author s life while living as a Christian worker among the Ata Manobo tribe in the Philippines It also is an inspirational and informative book on how to live cross culturally and introduce change particularly Christianity amongst the tribe

Motivation Cosmopolitanism and Tourism Robert Shepherd,2017-12-12 Within tourism studies the cosmopolitan potentials of tourism have often been situated within a broader conversation about globalization an approach that implies that cosmopolitanism is a predictable by product of globalization and becoming more cosmopolitan should be the goal of travel And yet a fundamental value of a cosmopolitan outlook namely to not only to be at home in the world but also to experience the world in an authentic sense depends on the culturally embedded parochial and particular world views which it rejects In Cosmopolitanism and Tourism Rethinking Theory and Practice contributors take this as a starting point What does a worldly consciousness mean to people situated in different cultural landscapes and to what extent might these intersect with cosmopolitan values How is cosmopolitanism marketed in tourism and tourist related industries such as service learning and study abroad And finally what roles do social and economic class educational background gender and other factors have in cosmopolitan claims The contributors to this edited collection address these questions in a series of case studies that range from Guatemala Bolivia and Ireland to China India and Dubai For more information check out A Conversation with Robert Shepherd author of Cosmopolitanism and Tourism Rethinking Theory and Practice

Beyond the Sacred Forest Michael

R. Dove, Percy E. Sajise, Amity A. Doolittle, 2011-04-14 Scholars rethink the translation of environmental concepts between East and West particularly ideas of nature and culture what conservation might mean and how conservation policy is applied and transformed in the everyday landscapes of Southeast Asia Indigenous People and Economic Development Katia Iankova, Azizul Hassan, Rachel L'Abbe, 2016-03-22 Indigenous peoples are an intrinsic part of countries like Australia New Zealand Canada Finland USA India Russia and almost all parts of South America and Africa A considerable amount of research has been done during the twentieth century mainly by anthropologists sociologists and linguists in order to describe and document their traditional life style for the protection and safeguarding of their established knowledge skills languages and beliefs These communities are engaging and adapting rapidly to the changing circumstances partly caused by post modernisation and the process of globalization These have led them to aspire to better living standards as well as preserving their uniqueness approaches to environment close proximity to social structures and communities For at least the last two decades patterns of increased economic activity by indigenous peoples in many countries have been viewed to be significantly on the rise Indigenous People and Economic Development reveals some of the characteristics of this economic activity coloured by the unique regard and philosophy of life that indigenous people around the world have The successes difficulties and obstacles to economic development their solutions and innovative practices in business all of these elements based on research findings are discussed in this book and offer an inside view of the dynamics of the indigenous societies which are evolving in a globalised and highly interconnected contemporary world Feasts Michael Dietler, Brian Hayden, 2010-04-30 In this collection of fifteen essays archaeologists and ethnographers explore the material record of food and its consumption as social practice Forager-Traders in South and Southeast Asia Kathleen D. Morrison, Laura L. Junker, 2002-12-05 In both South and Southeast Asia many upland groups make a living in whole or part through gathering and hunting producing not only subsistence goods but commodities destined for regional and even world markets These forager traders have had an ambiguous position in ethnographic analysis variously represented as relics degraded hunter gatherers or recent upstarts Forager Traders in South and Southeast Asia adopts a multidisciplinary approach to these groups presenting a series of comparative case studies that analyse the long term histories of hunting gathering trading power relations and regional social and biological interactions in this critical region This book is a fascinating and important addition to the current revisionist debate and a unique attempt to re conceptualize our knowledge of forager traders within the surrounding context of complex polities populations and economies in South and Southeast Asia Trade and Civilisation Kristian Kristiansen, Thomas Lindkvist, Janken Myrdal, 2018-07-05 This book provides the first global analysis of the relationship between trade and civilisation from the beginning of civilisation 3000 BC until the modern era 1600 AD Encompassing the various networks including the Silk Road the Indian Ocean trade Near Eastern family traders of the Bronze Age and the Medieval Hanseatic League it examines the role of the individual merchant the products of trade the role of the state and the technical conditions for land and sea transport that created diverging systems of trade and in the development of global trade networks Trade networks however were not durable The book focuses on the establishment and decline of great trading network systems and how they related to the expansion of civilisation and to different forms of social and economic exploitation Case studies focus on local conditions as well as global networks until the sixteenth century when the whole globe was connected by trade

Ethnicity in Asia Colin Mackerras,2003-09-02 A comparative introduction to ethnicity in East and Southeast Asia since 1945 Each chapter covers a particular country looking at core issues such as ethnic minorities and groups population language culture and traditional religion

Raiding, Trading, and Feasting Laura L. Junker,1999-09-01 As early as the first millennium A D the Philippine archipelago formed the easternmost edge of a vast network of Chinese Southeast Asian Indian and Arab traders Items procured through maritime trade became key symbols of social prestige and political power for the Philippine chiefly elite Raiding Trading and Feasting presents the first comprehensive analysis of how participation in this trade related to broader changes in the political economy of these Philippine island societies By combining archaeological evidence with historical sources Laura Junker is able to offer a more nuanced examination of the nature and evolution of Philippine maritime trading chiefdoms Most importantly she demonstrates that it is the dynamic interplay between investment in the maritime luxury goods trade and other evolving aspects of local political economies rather than foreign contacts that led to the cyclical coalescence of larger and more complex chiefdoms at various times in Philippine history A broad spectrum of historical and ethnographic sources ranging from tenth century Chinese tributary trade records to turn of the century accounts of chiefly feasts of merit highlights both the diversity and commonality in evolving chiefly economic strategies within the larger political landscape of the archipelago The political ascendance of individual polities the emergence of more complex forms of social ranking and long term changes in chiefly economies are materially documented through a synthesis of archaeological research at sites dating from the Metal Age late first millennium B C to the colonial period The author draws on her archaeological fieldwork in the Tanjay River basin to investigate the long term dynamics of chiefly political economy in a single region Reaching beyond the Philippine archipelago this study contributes to the larger anthropological debate concerning ecological and cultural factors that shape political economy in chiefdoms and early states It attempts to address the question of why Philippine polities like early historic kingdoms elsewhere in Southeast Asia have a segmentary political structure in which political leaders are dependent on prestige goods exchanges personal charisma and ritual pageantry to maintain highly personalized power bases Raiding Trading and Feasting is a volume of impressive scholarship and substantial scope unmatched in the anthropological and historical literature It will be welcomed by Pacific and Asian historians and anthropologists and those interested in the theoretical issues of chiefdoms
