Gender and Agrarian Reforms Susie Jacobs, 2013-05-13 The redistribution of land has profound implications for women and for gender relations however gender issues have been marginalised from both theoretical and policy discussions of agrarian reform This book presents an overview of gender and agrarian reform experiences globally Jacobs highlights case studies from Latin America Asia Africa and eastern Europe and also compares agrarian and land reforms organised along collective lines as well as along individual household lines This volume will be of interest to scholars in Geography Women s Studies and Economics

Valuing Crop Biodiversity Melinda Smale, 2005 This book examines the challenges faced by farmers trying to maintain crop biodiversity in developing and transitional economies Using a collection of empirical case studies of farmers and crop scientists across a range of agricultural economies and income levels it presents economic tools and methods for valuing and managing crop biodiversity It discusses the economic benefits of crop biodiversity for farmers and suggests ways in which crop biodiversity can be supported by national policies The book provides an indispensable tool kit for all those concerned with the development of strategies to facilitate sustainable management and conservation of crop genetic diversity for future generations

Reflecting Transformation in Post-socialist Rural Areas Maarit Heinonen, Inna

Kopoteva,2021-03-04 The rural reforms in many post soviet countries produced a number of unintended consequences The reforms were guided by ideals of romanticized society of family farmers they were to be the basis of the rural middle class together with owners of non agricultural SME s acting as guardians of democracy and common good The guidelines were set by advisers from World Bank and IMF who preferred family farms or individual farms over the collective enterprises In most countries the result was nothing like those envisaged by reformers Instead of efficient and productive family farms the result was almost complete de capitalization of agriculture and collapse of production The reform was destructive not only as far as production is concerned but more importantly to rural communities Social ties which were based on the collective farm as the main economic and social resource for local community were eroded Only from the turn of this decade some early stages have been visible of new developments in economic and social life in post socialist rural areas The result is that now more than fifteen years since the beginning of agricultural reforms the key agricultural producers in Russia Baltic countries and elsewhere are very large capitalist farms or large agricultural holding companies This anthology is based on the presentations given at the 5th Aleksanteri Conference 10 11 November 2005 in Helsinki Finland and it is devoted to the analysis of some of these issues The volume is divided into two parts in the first part the focus is on the patterns and problems of transformation of post socialist agriculture and agricultural policies while the second part is focuses mainly on efforts to revitalize rural communities and issues of local development

The Evolution of Agrarian Institutions Mieke Meurs,2001 An examination of why private farming in the transition economies of East Central Europe has not grown as quickly as expected

Europe's Green Ring Leo Granberg,Imre Kovách,2017-07-05 Around the fringe of Europe lies a green ring of countries which have followed different pathways into modernity from the industrial core of the continent and have until recently been characterized by a strong agrarian presence in their politics economy and culture This book brings together case studies from both the post socialist countries and EU member states which make up the green ring to compare experiences of rural and agricultural groups It provides a fascinating opportunity to identify similarities and contrasts in the ways in which these countries have managed their rural areas when faced with the challenges set by industrialization political integration and globalization The book focuses on agrarian transformation as de and sometimes re peasantization referring to the changing economic social cultural and political positions of farmers and food production workers It also problematizes the standard rural models and opens up discussion of the problems these models pose for the farmers of the green ring countries

When Things Become Property Thomas Sikor,Stefan Dorondel,Johannes Stahl,Phuc Xuan To,2017-04-01 Governments have conferred ownership titles to many citizens throughout the world in an effort to turn things into property Almost all elements of nature have become the target of property laws from the classic preoccupation with land to more ephemeral material such as air and genetic resources When Things Become Property interrogates the mixed outcomes of conferring ownership by examining postsocialist land and forest reforms in Albania Romania and Vietnam and finds that property reforms are no longer if they ever were miracle tools available to governments for refashioning economies politics or environments Revival: Food, Nature and Society

(2001) Michel Blanc, 2017-07-28 This title was first published in 2001 Focusing on the distinctive ways in which rural social economic and political life is experienced in developed societies in late modernity this striking volume draws on empirical material from a wide range of countries within and outside the EU It also incorporates comparative case studies from South Africa Australia and New Zealand The Postsocialist Agrarian Question C. M. Hann, 2003 This is an age of neo liberalism in which the advantages and virtues of private property are often taken for granted Post socialist governments have privatized and broken up state farms and socialist cooperatives However economic outcomes and the social insecurity now experienced by many rural inhabitants highlight the need for a broader anthropological analysis of property relations which go beyond changes of legal form A century after Kautsky addressed The Agrarian Question in Germany it is necessary to address a post socialist Agrarian Question throughout Central and Eastern Europe the former Soviet Union and China The studies collected here derive from the first cycle of projects carried out at the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology They are prefaced by a substantial introduction by Chris Hann Chris Hann is Director of the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology Halle Saale Combining Revealed and Stated Preference Methods to Assess the Private Value of Agrobiodiversity in

Hungarian Home Gardens Ekin Birol, Andreas Kontoleon, and Melinda Smale, Biodiversity Economics Andreas Kontoleon, Unai Pascual, Timothy Swanson, 2007-12-13 Human induced biodiversity loss is greater now than at any time in human history with extinctions occurring at rates hundreds of times higher than background extinction levels The field of biodiversity economics analyses the socio economic causes of and solutions to biodiversity loss by combining the disciplines of economics ecology and biology This field has shown a remarkable degree of transformation over the past four decades and now incorporates the analysis of the entire diversity of biological resources within the living world Biodiversity Economics presents a series of papers that show how bio economic analysis can be applied to the examination and evaluation of the problem of various forms of biodiversity loss Containing insightful bio economic research by some of prominent practitioners in the field this volume will be an essential research tool to those working on biodiversity issues in the academic policy and private sectors Leadership and Local Power in European Rural Development Imre Kovách, 2017-05-15 Contemporary processes of economic social political and cultural restructuring are having profound impacts on the form and function of rural areas within the countries of the European Union and beyond Furthermore rural development policies and programmes at EU and national levels have been critical in shaping the responses of different rural areas across Europe to these wider processes of restructuring Contrasting empirical studies of ten European countries this volume provides a comprehensive analysis of the restructuring processes and the various national regional and local rural development programmes Adopting a different national perspective in each chapter it focuses particularly on issues of power and leadership in the evolution and administration of these programmes Five broad issues are examined in each case socio economic changes in rural areas the administrative context in which rural development and political activities take place the sociological context the political control of rural development and the use of different discourses of rurality in shaping the development process

Encyclopedia of Environment and Society Paul Robbins, 2007-08-27 As befits the topic this beautifully packaged wonderfully illustrated interdisciplinary resource has more than 1200 entries written by specialists A helpful reader's guide groups topics like agriculture conservation and ecology movements and regulations politics pollution and society A resource guide chronology glossary and list of the UN's economic indicators complete the set Library Journal this important work gives a well focused snapshot of environmentalism in the early 21st Century and it will remain valuable into the future both for its content and as a yardstick to measure progress toward sustainability and conservation Summing Up Recommended Undergraduates and general readers CHOICE Booklist Editors Choice 2008 This superb interdisciplinary work should find a place on the shelves of every public and academic library that has the least bit of interest in environment issues which should mean just about all Booklist Starred Review Where does the environment leave off and society begin When expanding production and consumption drives greenhouse gas emissions that warm the planet which in turn influence the conditions of economic expansion it is unclear where the climate ends and the economy begins This fact is not new to our era however our social and natural sciences have only recently come to grips with the incredible complexity of the world described by understanding the environment and society as being of a piece As a result in the last decade there has been an unprecedented explosion of new concepts theories facts and techniques that follow from such an understanding The Encyclopedia of Environment and Society brings together multiplying issues concepts theories examples problems and policies with the goal of clearly explicating an emerging way of thinking about people and nature With more than 1 200 entries written by experts from incredibly diverse fields this innovative resource is a first step toward diving into the deep pool of emerging knowledge The five volumes of this Encyclopedia represent more than a catalogue of terms Rather they capture the spirit of the moment a fascinating time when global warming and genetic engineering represent only two of the most obvious examples of socio environmental issues Key Features Examines many new ideas about how the world works what creates the daunting problems of our time and how such issues might be addressed whether by regulation markets or new ethics Demonstrates how theories of environmental management based on market efficiency may not be easily reconciled with those that focus on population and both may certainly diverge from those centering on ethics justice or labor Offers contributions from experts in their fields of specialty including geographers political scientists chemists anthropologists medical practitioners development experts and sociologists among many others Explores the emerging socio environmental problems that we face in the next century as well as the shifting and expanding theoretical tools available for tackling these problems Covers regions of North America in greater detail but also provides a comprehensive picture that approaches as effectively as possible a cohesive global vision Key Themes Agriculture Animals Biology and Chemistry Climate Conservation and Ecology Countries Geography History Movements and Regulations Organizations People Politics Pollution Society Packed with essential and up to date information on the state of the global socio environment the Encyclopedia of Environment and Society is a time capsule of its historic moment and a record of where we stand at the start of the 21st century making it a must have resource for any library These inspiring volumes provide an opportunity for more new ways of thinking behaving and living in a more than human world

Central and South-Eastern Europe 2003 Europa Publications,2002 An in depth survey of the region presenting the latest economic and political developments It includes expert comment on issues of regional importance up to date statistics a directory of institutes and companies and political profiles

Europe Bettina Van Hoven,Tim Unwin,2016-04-15 First published in 2003 Europe lives in transition gives a voice to people living through transition opening a door for outsiders to understand how such people have lived an opportunity for one to speak and another to listen The book has been deliberately written in an accessible engaging and first hand manner Original quotes from various projects are woven together throughout the text This book focuses explicitly on the experiences of respondents and functions largely to introduce themes and speakers The principal themes are identities relationships production consumption and power Except for selected crucial theoretical and methodological discussions any academic commentary which might overshadow the words of the respondents is kept to a minimum A key aim is to engage the readers with the text by confronting them with their own preconceptions and geographical imaginations Each chapter opens with two activity sections to help readers think about the themes in broader terms for example by doing some research themselves Each chapter closes with two further activity sections for review and discussion

Women and Citizenship in Central and Eastern Europe Joanna Regulska,2017-03-02 The transformations seen in women s active citizenship in Central and Eastern Europe mirror the social political and economic transformations in the region since the fall of communism at the end of the 1980s This book challenges the universal notion of citizenship by focusing on the diversity of situations women in this region have found themselves in since the end of the 1980s looking at the challenges and struggles they have faced to assert themselves as citizens and their citizenship rights Featuring detailed case studies which demonstrate the social and political discrimination between women that still exists the book will be of interest to academics and post graduate students in women s gender studies political sociology and European studies

Balkan Border Crossings Vasilēs G. Nitsiakos,2008 This volume has been the successful outcome of the 1st Konitsa Summer School in Anthropology Ethnography and Comparative Folklore of the Balkans that took place from July 30 th to August 12 th 2006 in Konitsa Greece The structure of the book corresponds to the different academic dimensions of the whole event Our emphasis on the students participation on providing them with the opportunity to express themselves and publish their work reflects the priority we have given to the educational dimension of our task We hope this edition to be a forum for academic dialogue concerning the anthropology of the Balkans

Village China Under Socialism and Reform Huaiyin Li, 2009-03-12 Village China Under Socialism and Reform offers a comprehensive account of rural life after the communist revolution detailing villager involvement in political campaigns since the 1950s agricultural production under the collective system family farming and non agricultural economy in the reform and everyday life in the family and community Li s rich examination draws on original documents from local agricultural collectives newly accessible government archives and his own fieldwork in Qin village of Jiangsu province to highlight the continuities in rural transformation Firmly disagreeing with those who claim that recent developments in rural China represent a radical break with pre reform sociopolitical practices and patterns of production Li instead draws a clear history connecting the current situation to ecological social and institutional changes that have persisted from the collective era
