Many Sisters Women In Cross Cultural Perspectives:

Many Sisters Carolyn J. Matthiasson, 1974 A través de diversos estudios se aclara el hecho de que el estereotipo de mujer como universalmente sumisa y oprimida en realidad no tiene una base. En muchas sociedades las mujeres comparten iguales derechos y prestigio con los hombres. Incluso en aquellas sociedades en las que las mujeres son tratadas como inferiores a los hombres y en las que ellas se consideran en un estado inferior, las mujeres utilizan su ingenuidad para disminuir el impacto de la dominación masculina sobre ellas. La obra se organiza en varias partes según diversos tipos de sociedades.

Engendering Hong Kong Society Fanny M. Cheung, 1997 This book provides a scholarly overview of women's status in Hong Kong from a gender perspective. The contributors are associated with the Gender Research Programme at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. The chapters offer substantive analyses on the indicators of women's status including education, work, division of domestic labour, gender roles, women's movement and public policies affecting women. The historical cultural context of women's status and the cross cultural relevance of women's studies are also examined. This book embraces both longitudinal as well as cross sectional perspectives and includes both quantitative and qualitative materials. It is not only a scholarly document on Chinese women in Hong Kong but also a statement marking their changing status. Readers interested in women's issues, gender studies and Chinese studies will find this book a useful reference.

Women of Power Torild Skard, 2015-03-09 At a time when a woman Angela Merkel is arguably the most powerful leader in Europe and another Hilary Clinton continues to be at the center of the US political stage, it seems that women have broken through the glass ceiling and begun to populate the highest offices of the political world. Women of Power is a testament to that accomplishment, offering the most comprehensive overview of female presidents and prime ministers to date. Looking at over fifty countries and over seventy women leaders since 1960, Torild Skard herself an experienced politician examines how and why these women rose to the top and what their leadership has meant for women's empowerment throughout the latter half of the twentieth century. Skard examines the achievements and life stories of the world's female leaders up to the current era. She offers nuanced portraits that draw on a number of materials including many interviews that she conducted herself. All of the women discussed are organized by both chronology and geography and Skard includes a number of helpful chapters that provide an overview and assessment of how different women leaders have come to power in different regions. Overall the book provides a fascinating account of women's empowerment as it has manifested itself at the very top of the political hierarchy.

Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East, A Bibliography, Volume 1
Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East 1965-1987 Strijp, 2021-12-06 During the last two decades the number of anthropologists conducting research in the Middle East has increased considerably. Together they have produced an abundance of valuable studies, often based on prolonged periods of ethnographic fieldwork. This bibliography offers a comprehensive survey of their results published between 1965 and 1987 It refers to studies published in English French and German Geographically the bibliography covers the area from Mauritania in the West to Afghanistan in the East and from Turkey in the North to the Arab Peninsula and Northern Sudan in the South The majority of studies inserted has been written by anthropologists Besides a considerable number of studies related to anthropology but published by non anthropologists has been integrated as well The majority of the monographs and volumes has been annotated

Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East ,1992 During the last two decades the number of anthropological studies on the Middle East has increased exponentially This partially annotated bibliography offers a comprehensive survey of studies written in English French and German and covers the period from 1965 to 1987

The Allegany Senecas and Kinzua Dam Joy A. Bilharz,2002-01-01 In the late 1950s the U S Army Corps of Engineers announced its intention to construct a dam along the Allegheny River in Warren Pennsylvania The building of the Kinzua Dam was highly controversial because it flooded one third of the Allegany Reservation of the Seneca Nation of Indians Nearly six hundred Senecas were forced to abandon their homes and relocate despite a 1794 treaty that had guaranteed them those lands in perpetuity In this revealing study Joy A Bilharz examines the short and long term consequences of the relocation of the Senecas Granted unparalleled access to members of the Seneca Nation and reservation records Bilharz traces the psychological economic cultural and social effects over two generations The loss of homes and tribal lands was heart wrenching and initially threatened to undermine the foundations of social life and subsistence economy for the Senecas Over time however many Senecas have managed to adapt successfully to relocation creating new social networks invigorating their educational system and becoming more politically involved on local tribal and national levels

Routledge Library Editions: Feminist Theory Various, 2021-04-28 Routledge Library Editions Feminist Theory brings together as one set or individual volumes a series of previously out of print classics from a variety of academic imprints With titles ranging from The Liberation of Women to Feminists and State Welfare from Married to the Job to Julia Kristeva this set provides in one place a wealth of important reference sources from the diverse field of gender studies Protecting the Arctic Mark Nuttall, 2005-10-05 Protecting the Arctic explores some of the ways in which indigenous peoples have taken political action regarding Arctic environmental and sustainable development issues and investigates the involvement of indigenous peoples in international environmental policy making Nuttall illustrates how indigenous peoples make claims that their own forms of resource management not only have relevance in an Arctic regional context but provide models for the inclusion of indigenous values and environmental knowledge in the design negotiation and implementation of global environmental policy Textiles in the Pacific, 1500-1900 Debin Ma, 2017-03-02 Textiles in the Pacific 1500 1900 brings together 13 articles which include both classics and lesser known but important works related to the trade and production of textiles in the Pacific region extending from the tip of Northeast Asia to the other end of South America and Australia Collectively these articles bring out two central themes as highlighted in the introduction First there is the leading role of textiles in linking up the economies across the Pacific in the era before the 19th century rise of steam engine powered global integration Second is the crucial role of textile manufacturing and trade in the early stage of industrialization for most of the developing Pacific economies after the 19th century The volume also reflects both revolutionary shifts in paradigms and revisions of traditional consensus and seeks to present a more balanced account of global trade and market integration in the early modern period

Genocide in Cambodia and Rwanda Susan E. Cook, 2017-07-05 This volume deals with aspects of genocide in Rwanda and Cambodia that have been largely unexplored to date including the impact of regional politics and the role played by social institutions in perpetrating genocide Although the story of the Cambodian genocide of 1975 1979 and that of the Rwandan genocide of 1994 have been written about in detail most have focused on how the genocides took place what the ideas and motives were that led extremist factions to attempt to kill whole sections of their country's population and who their victims were This volume builds on our understanding of genocide in Cambodia and Rwanda by bringing new issues sources and approaches into focus The chapters in this book are grouped so that a single theme is explored in both the Cambodian and Rwandan contexts their ordering is designed to facilitate comparative analysis The first three chapters emphasize the importance of political discourse in the genocidal process Chapters 4 and 5 examine social institutions and explore their role in the genocidal process Chapters 6 and 7 describe the military trajectories of the genocidal regimes in Cambodia and Rwanda after their overthrow showing that genocide and genocidal intents as a political program do not cease the moment the massacres subside The final chapters deal with private and public efforts to memorialize the genocides in the months and years following the killing Drawing on ten years of genocide studies at Yale this excellent anthology assembles high quality new research from a variety of continents disciplines and languages It will be an important addition to ongoing research on genocide
