Elizabeth Burns Coleman, Kevin White

Many Mansions A Christians Encounter With Other Faiths:

Many Mansions Harvey Cox, 1988 The Harvard Divinity School professor recounts meetings with Hindu Buddhist Jewish and Marxist men and women and what they have taught him about the relationship between Christianity and other great religious traditions of the world Many Mansions, 1992-01-31 The Harvard Divinity School professor recounts meetings with Hindu Buddhist Jewish and Marxist men and women and what they have taught him about the relationship between Christianity and other great religious traditions of the world Many Mansions? Catherine Cornille, 2010-04-01 These superb essays explore the phenomenon of individuals who identify themselves as followers of more than one religious tradition The results prove that the late Joseph Kitagawa was prescient when he cautioned that the world is Easternizing as much as it is Westernizing and that modernization is a far from adequate key to name what is happening in world religious history in our age Encountering Religious Pluralism Harold Netland, 2001-08-14 Harold Netland traces the emergence of the pluralistic ethos that challenges Christian faith and mission interacting heavily with philosopher John Hick and providing a framework for developing a comprehensive evangelical theology of religions Estranging the Familiar George Douglas Atkins, 1992 In Estranging the Familiar G Douglas Atkins addresses the often lamented state of scholarly and critical writing as he argues for a criticism that is at once theoretically informed and personal The revitalized critical writing he advocates may entail but is not limited to a return to the essay the form critical writing once took and the form that is now enjoying a resurgence of popularity and excellence Atkins contends that to reach a general audience criticism must move away from the impersonality of modern criticism and contemporary theory without embracing the old fashioned essay The venerable familiar essay may remain the basis Atkins writes but its conventional openness receptivity and capaciousness must extend to theory philosophy and the candor that seems to mark the tail end of the twentieth century In noting the timeliness if not the necessity of a return to the essay Atkins also considers our culture's parallel return to the personal When the essay combines good writing with the concerns of the personal Atkins says it becomes a form of criticism that is readable vital and potentially attractive to a large readership Atkins hopes critics will tap into the revitalized interest the essay now enjoys without ignoring the considerable insights and advances of contemporary theory He argues that despite claims to the contrary there is no inherent incompatibility between the essay and modern theory As Atkins considers various experiments in critical writing from Plato to the present notably feminist interest in the personal and autobiographical he contends that these attempts although undeniably important fall short of the desired goal when they emphasize the merely expressive and neglect the artful quality good writing can bring to personal criticism The final third of the book consists of a series of experiments in critical writing that represent the author's own attempts to bridge the gap between theory and popular criticism between an academic and a general audience In essays that illustrate the rhetorical power of the form Atkins describes the reciprocal relationship between his life experience and a reading of The Odyssey explains the role that theory has played in his personal development and chronicles his attempts to find a voice as a writer

Beyond "Holy Wars" Christoffer H. Grundmann, 2014-04-23 The 9/11 al Qaeda attacks on the U.S. in 2001 shocked the world not only because of their viciousness but also because of the disillusionment that holy wars are a phenomenon of the past Holy wars rather are a reality in today's world too threatening global peace like never before In this volume Christoffer Grundmann pleads for the cultivation of religious literacy and interreligious dialogue First he attempts to regain an adequate understanding of religion by showing the incompatibility of abstract concepts of religion with religions actually lived So Grundmann suggests perceiving religion as the lived relationship toward an Ultimate Given that interreligious dialogue is communication about diverse ways of relating to the Ultimate the religiously embedded primarily Jewish philosophy of encounter and dialogical thinking with its personalistic nature comes into focus here as uniquely suited for such communication Even though interreligious encounter implies risk Christians cannot but engage in it fearlessly says Grundmann because they trust that the risen Christ will reveal himself anew as the one he really is wherever and whenever Christians take part in dialogue with people of other faiths

In Search of the Sacred Clinton Bennett, 1996-01-01 This text traces the growth and development of two related disciplines anthropology and the study of religions Locating these disciplines within the intellectual climate of the 19th century the study considers the contributions of scholars such as James George Frazer F Max Muller Emile Durkheim Mary Douglas and Clifford Geertz within an historical framework The author argues that both anthropologists and students of religion have abandoned an objective approach in favour of personal engagement with their subjects replacing observation with conversation monologue with dialogue a text based with people based approach He reveals how each discipline has influenced the other both in terms of methodology and by the provision of data The book also explores the criticism levelled at both disciplines that they have aided colonial domination of the developing world

The Gaggling of God D. A. Carson, 2009-09-01 The Gold Medallion Award winning book that presents a persuasive case for Christ as the only way to God in light of contemporary religious pluralism A great majority of social commentators attempting to define modern Western culture land on a common characteristic pluralism This isn't unique to secular culture Many modern approaches to Christian hermeneutics or biblical interpretation have given credence to contemporary pluralism What began as a refreshing restraint and humility in modern theology has fallen more and more into irresoluteness It's no secret that the contemporary challenges to Christianity are complex and serious Yet far from simple fear mongering or cultural warmongering The Gaggling of God takes a hard look at the background and intricacy of pluralism postmodernity and hermeneutics and equips thoughtful Christians to have intelligent culturally sensitive and passionate fidelity to the gospel of Jesus Christ In his contemplative even handed approach Carson provides a structure of Christian thought capable of facing the philosophies of today and piercing their surface It invites Christians to grapple responsibly with urgent questions of biblically grounded theology spirituality and the defining lines of Christianity along with its range of challenges from without and within The Gaggling of God offers an in depth look at the big picture shows how the many ramifications of pluralism are all parts of a whole and provides a systematic Christian response

Getting Over Equality Steven D Smith, 2001-09-01 Questions of religious freedom continue to excite passionate public debate Proposals involving school prayer and the posting of the Ten Commandments in schools and courtrooms perennially spur controversy

But there is also a sense that the prevailing discourse is exhausted that no one seems to know how to think about religious freedom in a way that moves beyond our stale counterproductive thinking on this issue In Getting over Equality Steven D Smith one of the most important voices now writing about religious liberty provocatively contends that we must get over our presumption mistakenly believed to be rooted in the Constitution that all religions are equally true and virtuous and authentically American Smith puts forth an alternative view that the courts should promote an ideal of tolerance rather than equality and neutrality Examining such controversial examples as the animal sacrifice case the peyote case and the problem of aid to parochial schools Smith delineates a way for us to tolerate and respect contrary creeds without sacrificing or diluting our own beliefs and without pretending to believe in a spurious equality among the variety of diverse faiths The Universal God James E. Will,1994-01-01 How can Christians bring about peace and justice in the world when Christianity seems either to claim the absolute truth about God or to dissolve into disempowering relativism James Will seeks an answer for this crucial question in the spiritual and intellectual life of the church He challenges the traditional western idea of God as omnipotent and unchanging instead offering the theory of the universal relationality of God Writing from the perspective of process theology Will says that just as God had an impact on the world so the world has an impact on God God is related and responsive to the world In the modern world where many cultures and belief systems are in contact and often conflict with one another Will's broadening of the conception of God offers an integration of many cultures and beliefs recognizing their relatedness without reducing any of them In this way Will believes the universal God may bring love and peace to a pluralistic and often divided world In Search of Muhammad Clinton Bennett,1998-01-01 This study explores different understandings of the Prophet to understand why his name memory and example are universally revered by Muslims The Recovery of Mission Vinoth Ramachandra,2002-10-03 In recent years the term religious pluralism has come to be used not only in a descriptive sociological sense but also as theologically prescriptive Within this new paradigm traditional Christian understandings of Christ conversion evangelism and mission have been radically reinterpreted The Recovery of Mission explores the pluralist paradigm through the work of three of its most influential Asian exponents Stanley Samartha Alousius Pieris and Raimundo Panikkar subjecting each to a theological and philosophical critique On the basis of biblical patristic and contemporary theological writings Vinoth Ramachandra argues for the uniqueness and decisiveness of what God has done for us in Jesus Christ Ramachandra seeks to show that many of the valid concerns of pluralist theologians can best be met by reappropriating the missionary thrust at the heart of the gospel The book ends with suggestions challenging to pluralists and conservatives alike as to how the gospel needs to be communicated in a multifaith world Edinburgh Companion to the Arab Novel in English Nouri Gana,2015-04-17 Opening up the field of diasporic Anglo Arab literature to critical debate this companion spans from the first Arab novel in 1911 to the resurgence of the Anglo Arabic novel in the last 20 years There are chapters on authors such as Ameen Rihani Ahdaf All Under Heaven John H. Berthrong,1994-03-22 This book is a study of comparative philosophy and theology The themes are the critical issues arising from the modern interpretation of Confucian doctrine as they confront the Christian beliefs of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Interpreting Amida Galen Amstutz,1997-04-25 Examines the history of Japanese Pure Land Buddhism and how orientalist assumptions have caused the West to ignore this important tradition Religious Tolerance, Education and the Curriculum Elizabeth Burns Coleman,Kevin White,2011-10-30 The creation of a secular education system was one of the great social experiments designed to break down religious intolerance within society One element of this design was administrative involving the creation of non denominational schools and another element involved a centralised curriculum In this collection of essays political philosophers lawyers sociologists theologians and educators explore the role of state schools in promoting tolerance within 21st century multicultural religiously pluralistic societies How may different models of liberalism in the secular state have different outcomes in relation to religious tolerance in the education system Does a state education system have a role in teaching values such as tolerance and if so how is this best achieved How are epistemology and truth connected with tolerance How does the ideal of a value free secular education mask the values that the secular state teaches The essays are written from both theoretical and practical perspectives and engage with each other directly to address one of the significant issues of our day This is the fourth volume arising from a series of conferences on the theme of Negotiating the Sacred Previous volumes have included Blasphemy and Sacrilege in a Multicultural Society Blasphemy and Sacrilege in the Arts and Medicine Religion and the Body Outgrowing Church, 2nd ed. John Killinger,2019-10-23 Why are so many people drifting away from today s churches John Killinger suggests that part of the problem is that they have personally outpaced the thinking and understanding of the church so that they no longer find it adequate as a social structure for the celebration of their faith In their attempts to find Jesus and his teachings relevant within the new culture they strike out on their own or adhere to para Christian organizations that retain an allegiance to Jesus without the baggage of the traditional institution Killinger a former big steeple minister and theologian describes how he himself has been forced essentially to abandon the church in order to remain faithful to the beliefs and ideals that first drew him into it When Jesus Came to Harvard Harvey Cox,2006 Examines the stories of Jesus from a modern perspective to demonstrate how his parables and teachings can bridge the gap between the ancient and modern world to serve as contemporary guidelines for leading a moral life
