Mao Harper Torchbooks:

China: From Permanent Revolution to Counter-Revolution John Peter Roberts, 2018-11-12 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the revolutionary history of China from the early 20th century to the present era of crisis aided by a wealth of research which cuts across the many historical distortions both of bourgeois academia and of the Chinese Communist Party This book answers the questions What was the class composition and class nature of the Chinese Communist Party when it took power in 1949 What forces pushed the Mao regime despite its explicitly class collaborationist strategy to take measures which were objectively socialist and to establish the Chinese workers state The Chinese Revolution was a practical test of both Trotsky's theory of permanent revolution and Mao's theory of uninterrupted revolution by stages Which theory matched reality The degeneration of the Chinese People's Republic to capitalism has been a second rigorous practical test of Trotsky's analyses Has his prognosis that without a political revolution to overthrow the regime a Stalinist bureaucratic state would return to capitalism been proved correct

Rethinking Mao Nick Knight, 2007-04-16 Rethinking Mao offers an innovative perspective on the thought of Mao Zedong the major architect of the Chinese Revolution and leader of the People's Republic of China until his death in 1976 Utilizing a number of recently discovered documents written by Mao Nick Knight rethinks Mao by subjecting a number of controversial themes to fresh scrutiny This book provides a sophisticated analysis of Mao's views on the role of the peasants and working class in the Chinese revolution his theoretical attempt to make Marxism appropriate to Chinese conditions and his understanding of the Chinese road to socialism Knight includes a discussion of the theoretical difficulties in interpreting Mao's thought Rethinking Mao represents a challenge to many of the conventional accounts of Mao and his thoughts This book will appeal to scholars and students of Chinese history and politics as well as the history of Marxism in China

Mao's Crusade Alfred L. Chan, 2001-06-07 During 1957 and 1958 Mao was seized by a vision that the Chinese economy could develop rapidly in leaps and bounds by relying on intuition and mass spontaneity As a consequence he single handedly launched a colossal mobilization campaign called the Great Leap Forward which featured many radical policy innovations including the people's communes This book is the first in depth and original study of policy formulation and implementation during the Leap to link the roles of Mao the central leaders the ministries and the province of Guangdong Rejecting the theory that the Leap was an outcome of bureaucratic politics and competition the study establishes beyond doubt the supreme and dominant position of Mao in initiating and commanding the Leap Alfred L Chan goes further than propounding a Mao dominant model by documenting the strategic and tactical moves made by Mao in order to neutralize all opposition and to carry the day He also discusses in detail the policy roles and input of other top leaders on whom the improvising Mao relied to feed his imagination and to flesh out his policies In the chapters on the implementation of the Leap Dr Chan explores how the ministries of Metallurgy and Agriculture were transformed from bureaucratic agencies into agents of mobilization and how impossible targets forced them to keep up appearances by focussing on the rituals of mass mobilization Similarly other chapters on Guangdong show the simultaneously fervent ritualistic and desperate attempts to implement every hunch and intuition emanating from the centre Exhaustive research using new material made available in the post Mao era as well as archives from the 1950s and 1960s has yielded novel and original insights into the leader Mao central decision making and policy implementation in the communist hierarchy The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1980 Love and Struggle in Mao's Thought Raymond L. Whitehead,1977 Orientalism in Sinology Adrian Chan,2009 This begins with a close examination of the intellectual production of Christian missionaries to the Middle Kingdom in the 16th and 17th centuries and the creation of Sinology The critique describes the problem of Chinese cosmogonies Confucian thought moral improvement and non Deistic teaching to the first Western scholars to reach China It then goes on to discuss the disaster of overarching development theories on China and the misappropriation of Chinese events by Marxists and non Marxists alike Marxism in the Chinese Revolution Arif Dirlik,2005-06-07 Representing a lifetime of research and writing by noted historian Arif Dirlik the essays collected here explore developments in Chinese socialism and the issues that have occupied historians of the Chinese revolution for the past three decades Dirlik engages Chinese socialism critically but with sympathy for the aspirations of revolutionaries who found the hope of social political and cultural liberation in Communist alternatives to capitalism and the intellectual inspiration to realize their hopes in Marxist theory The book s historical approach to Marxist theory emphasizes its global relevance while avoiding dogmatic and Eurocentric limitations These incisive essays range from the origins of socialism in the early twentieth century through the victory of the Communists in mid century to the virtual abandonment by century s end of any pretense to a socialist revolutionary project by the leadership of the Chinese Communist Party All that remains of the revolution in historical hindsight are memories of its failures and misdeeds but Dirlik retains a critical perspective not just toward the past but also toward the ideological hegemonies of the present Taken together his writings reaffirm the centrality of the revolution to modern Chinese history They also illuminate the fundamental importance of Marxism to grasping the flaws of capitalist modernity despite the fact that in the end the socialist response was unable to transcend the social and ideological horizons of capitalism Chinese Reportage Charles A. Laughlin,2002-10-11 Explores the origins of Chinese reportage journalism in the 1930s 40s and 50s and develops an understanding of the aesthetics that governed the creation of this literature Sociology of China Timothy J.  and praxis of Marxism as it has developed in China from its earliest beginnings to current debates This is the first systematic full length analysis of the development and nature of Marxist ideology in China Adrian Chan challenges established scholarship in both the West and China which continues to be overshadowed by Cold War dogma and party orthodoxy respectively It has long been argued that Chinese Marxism was merely an offshoot of Soviet thought blended with ill defined traditional Chinese ideas Using previously neglected Chinese sources including newspapers political journals and communist party documents Chan refutes this Showing how the first Chinese revolutionaries were directly influenced by the writings of Marx Chinese Marxism argues that Bolshevism was a secondary influence on Chinese communist thought Mao himself drew upon Marxian themes in the creation of party orthodoxy In doing so he signalled his differences from Lenin and Stalin on
