awakening that would undo the West's economic and cultural order. This is also the desire of course of what is called terrorism. As the authority of writers and artists recedes, it is criminals and terrorists. Lentricchia and McAuliffe suggest who inherit this romantic destructive tradition. Moving freely between the realms of high and popular culture and fictional and actual criminals, the authors describe a web of impulses that catches an unnerving spirit. Lentricchia and McAuliffe's unorthodox approach pairs Dostoevsky's Crime and Punishment with Martin Scorsese's King of Comedy and connects the real-life Unabomber to the surrealist Joseph Cornell and to the hero of Bret Easton Ellis's bestselling novel American Psycho. They evoke a desperate culture of art through thematic dialogues among authors and filmmakers as varied as Don DeLillo, Joseph Conrad, Francis Ford Coppola, Jean Genet, Frederick Douglass, Hermann Melville, and J. M. Synge among others. And they conclude provocatively with an imagined conversation between Heinrich von Kleist and Mohamed Atta. The result is a brilliant and unflinching reckoning with the perilous proximity of the impulse to create transgressive art and the impulse to commit violence.

Plotting Terror Margaret Scanlan, 2001. Scanlan, English, Indiana University South Bend, considers several novels about terrorists and considers what they say about the role of the writer in modern society and politics. She examines the figure of the writer as a rival or a mirror of the terrorist, tracing the development of this relationship from its Romantic origins to the age of the Unabomber. The works of DeLillo, Rushdie, McNamee, Mary McCarthy, Lessing, Coetzee, Durrenmat, Roth, Robert Stone, Volodine, and Conrad are specifically considered. c. Book News Inc.

Postmodern Sublime Joseph Tabbi, 1995. Focusing on works by Norman Mailer, Thomas Pynchon, Joseph McElroy, and Don DeLillo, Joseph Tabbi finds that a simultaneous attraction to and repulsion from technology has produced a powerful new mode of modern writing: the technological sublime.

Terrorism and Temporality in the Works of Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo James Gourley, 2013-06-06. Terrorism and Temporality in the Works of Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo starts from a simple premise: that the events of the 11th of September 2001 must have had a major effect on two New York residents and two of the seminal authors of American letters, Pynchon and DeLillo. By examining implicit and explicit allusion to these events in their work, it becomes apparent that both consider 9/11 a crucial event and that it has profoundly impacted their work. From this important point, the volume focuses on the major change identifiable in both authors' work: a change in the perception and conception of time. This is not, however, a simple change after 2001. It allows at the same time a re-examination of both authors work and the acknowledgment of time as a crucial concept to both authors throughout their careers Engaging with several theories of time and their reiteration and examination in both authors work this volume contributes both to the understanding of literary time and to the work of Pynchon and DeLillo Transnational America Russell Duncan, Clara Juncker, 2004 This is an interdisciplinary analysis of the interaction between today's globalisation and Americanisation Transnationalism involves a loosening of boundaries a deterritorialisation of the nation state and higher degrees of interconnectedness among cultures and peoples across the globe As people make transnational voyages and live lives of flexible citizenship in two or more cultures they adhere to a new type of nationalism that creates an exclusionist discourse and builds the Other as conservative defenders of cruder territorial loyalties This transnational solidarity a new communitarianism beyond the loyalties to any one place or ethnic group threatens the old order with its conceptions that assimilation and integration will remake the foreigner into a particular national citizen The authors address the complex issues of globalisation American mythology Christian proselytising modern slavery conspiracy theory apocalyptic terrorism Vietnam stories international feminism changing gender roles resurgent regionalism and the changing definitions of place

The Literary Bent James D. Bloom, 1997-02 What is literature in these postmodern postcanonical times And if a small number of works being written today are literary what distinguishes them from those many others that are not The store managers who shelve books in separate literature and fiction sections clearly have something in mind but they're not talking James Bloom has his own ideas and he is With zest and conviction Bloom argues that traditional aspirations to literariness persist in the poetry and fiction of writers such as Robert Stone Jane Smiley Salman Rushdie Toni Morrison Adrienne Rich and Robert Pinsky All in their various ways exhibit a critical and playful awareness of their literary antecedents display and resist the seductions of eloquence arouse and discipline their readers curiosity Bloom deftly shows how their writings negotiate with the nonliterary media that dominate our culture even as the cultural capital of canonical authors like Shakespeare and Keats is put to work on the pages of mail order catalogs and the New York Times on network television and in the products of the Disney conglomerate Interactions Between Iranian and American Literatures Naghmeh Esmaeilpour, 2024-05-14 Introducing narrative mobility as a new approach in comparative studies of Iran and the US this book reinterprets the politics and aesthetics of relations between the nations through an analysis of Iranian and American authors The book focuses specifically on three authors Simin Daneshvar Shahriar Mandanipour and Don DeLillo who each employ narrative mobility to rethink intercultural negotiation addressing parallel issues in America and Iran from different but complementary perspectives The book analyzes the employment of parallel narrational techniques presenting physically and virtually mobile characters who embody their respective countries as they move from one culture to another The strange affinity between Iran and the US is ultimately revealed by viewing literary works as a contact zone through which the complicated relations and shared history of the two nations can be renegotiated On a more theoretical level the book reflects on the role of literature in particular the novel as a transnational medium as a bridge between nations in a period of globalization With its focus on cross cultural connections the book will be of interest to anyone studying or researching comparative literature US Iran relations and cultural studies generally Paradigms of Paranoia Samuel Chase Coale, 2019-05-14 An examination of the American fascination with conspiracy and the distrust it sows The recent popularity of The DaVinci Code and The Matrix trilogy exemplifies the fascination Americans have with conspiracy driven subjects Though scholars have suggested that in modern times the JFK assassination initiated an industry of conspiracy i e Vietnam and the Pentagon Papers Area 51 Iran Contra Affair Samuel Chase Coale reminds us in this book that conspiracy is foundational in American culture from the apocalyptic Biblical narratives in early Calvinist households to the fear of Mormon Catholic Jewish and immigrant populations in the 19th century Coale argues that contemporary culture a landscape characterized by doubt ambiguity fragmentation information overload and mistrust has fostered a radical skepticism so pervasive that the tendency to envision or construct conspiracies often provides the best explanation for the chaos that surrounds us Conspiracy as embodied in narrative form provides a fertile field for explorations of the anxiety lying at the heart of the postmodern experience Thomas Pynchon s The Crying of Lot 49 Don DeLillo s Underworld Toni Morrison s Jazz and Paradise Joan Didion s Democracy Tim O'Brien s In the Lake of the Woods and Paul Auster s New York City Trilogy are some of the texts Coale examines for their representations of isolated individuals at the center of massive anonymous master plots that lay beyond their control These narratives remind us that our historical sense of national identity has often been based on the demonizing of others and that American fiction arose and still flourishes with apocalyptic visions Don DeLillo Peter Boxall, 2006-04-18 One of the few available books of criticism on the topic this monograph presents the fullest account to date of Don DeLillo s writing situating his oeuvre within a wider analysis of the condition of contemporary fiction and dealing with his entire work in relation to contemporary political and economic concerns for the first time Providing a lucid and nuanced reading of DeLillo s ambivalent engagement with American and European culture as well as with modernism and postmodernism and globalization and terrorism this fascinating volume interrogates the critical and aesthetic capacities of fiction in what is an age of global capitalism and US cultural imperialism American Literature and Immediacy Heike Schaefer, 2020-01-16 Demonstrates that the quest for immediacy or experiences of direct connection and presence has propelled the development of American literature and media culture The Motor Boat Francis P. Priol, 1907

Don DeLillo David Cowart, 2012-08-15 Don DeLillo author of twelve novels and winner of the National Book Award the PEN Faulkner Award the William Dean Howells Medal and the Jerusalem Prize has begun to rival Thomas Pynchon as the definitive postmodern novelist Always thought provoking and occasionally controversial DeLillo has become the voice of the bimillennial moment Charting DeLillo s emergence as a contemporary novelist of major stature David Cowart discusses each of DeLillo s twelve novels including his most recent work The Body Artist 2001 Rejecting the idea that DeLillo lacks affinities across the cultural spectrum Cowart argues that DeLillo's work invites comparison with that of wide range of antecedents including Dunbar Whitman Wittgenstein Heidegger Freud Lacan Derrida Hemingway Joyce Rilke and Eliot At the same time Cowart explores the ways in which DeLillo's art anticipates parallels and contests ideas that have become the common currency of poststructuralist theory The major site of DeLillo's engagement with postmodernism Cowart argues is language which DeLillo represents as more mysterious numinous even than current theory allows For DeLillo language remains what Cowart calls the ground of all making Don DeLillo The Physics of Language is a provocative investigation of the most compelling issues of contemporary fiction American Studies as Transnational Practice Yuan Shu, Donald E.

Pease, 2015-12-22 This wide ranging collection brings together an eclectic group of scholars to reflect upon the transnational configurations of the field of American studies and how these have affected its localizations epistemological perspectives ecological imaginaries and politics of translation The volume elaborates on the causes of the transnational paradigm shift in American studies and describes the material changes that this new paradigm has effected during the past two decades The contributors hail from a variety of postcolonial transoceanic hemispheric and post national positions and sensibilities enabling them to theorize a crossroads of cultures explanation of transnational American studies that moves beyond the multicultural studies model Offering a rich and rewarding mix of essays and case studies this collection will satisfy a broad range of students and scholars The Fiction of Postmodernity Stephen Baker, 2000-06-07

The Fiction of Postmodernity is a significant and accessible study of the relation of postmodern fiction to theories of the postmodern Contemporary works of fiction by novelists such as Don DeLillo Toni Morrison Salman Rushdie Thomas Pynchon and Martin Amis are viewed in relation to critiques of the culture industry analyses of the postmodern condition and theories of simulacra The work of influential theorists of the postmodern such as Theodor Adorno Jean Fran ois Lyotard Fredric Jameson and Jean Baudrillard is explained and compared The book offers descriptions of the postmodern from both the Marxist critical tradition and from the perspective of postmarxism Key features in both these definitions are explained in relation to modernist and postmodern works of fiction Issues relating to the postmodern representation of history and the development of a postmodern politics are also addressed in relation to works of contemporary fiction Muse in the Machine Mark Conroy, 2004

A writer who simply panders to the public is seldom taken for an artist An artist who cannot publish is seldom granted a career This dilemma the subject of Muse in the Machine has been home to many authors of serious fiction since the eighteenth century But it is especially pointed for American writers since the United States never fostered a sustainable elite culture readership Its writers have always been reliant on mass publicity's machinery to survive and when they depict that machinery they also depict that reliance and the desire to transcend its banal formulas This book looks at artist tales from Henry James to don DeLillo's Mao II but also engages more indirect expressions of this tension between Romantic individualism and commercial requirements in Nathanael West Vladimir Nabokov and Thomas Pynchon It covers the twentieth century but its focus is not another rehearsal of media theory or word versus image Rather it aims to show how various novels about publicity culture also enact their authors own dramas how they both need and try to critique the machine In subject as well as approach this study questions the current impasse between those who say that the aesthetic aspires to its own pure realm and those who insist that it partakes of everyday practicality Both sides are right this book examines the consequences of that reality BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
