Mapping My Father:

Finding My Father's War Walter J. Eldredge, 2004-06 Here for the first time is the story of the 2nd Chemical Mortar Battalion told in the pictures and memories of the veterans themselves with the son of a mortar company commander as their voice My Father's Name Lawrence P. Jackson, 2020-03-04 An African American studies scholar traces his family lineage to a Black Virginia neighborhood in the era of Reconstruction in this historical memoir As an expectant father Lawrence P Jackson decides to go looking for his late grandfather's home in Pittsylvania County Virginia an old house by the railroad tracks in Blairs Armed with nothing but childhood memories his journey evolves into a kind of detective story as he uncovers his ancestral history through the turmoil and torment of the 19th century South After asking around in Pittsylvania County Jackson finds himself in the house of distant relations He becomes increasingly absorbed by the search for his ancestors and soon realizes how few generations an African American needs to map in order to arrive at slavery the door of no return Ultimately Jackson's dogged research leads him to his grandfather's grandfather a man who was born or sold into slavery but who when Federal troops abandoned the South in 1877 was able to buy forty acres of land In this intimate study of a black Virginia family and neighborhood Jackson vividly reconstructs moments in the lives of his father's grandfather Edward Jackson and great grandfather Granville Hundley and gives life to revealing narratives of Pittsylvania County recalling both the horror of slavery and the later struggles of postbellum freedom

Mapping My Return Salman Abu Sitta, 2025-05-20 Abu Sitta's memoir conveys a still burning sense of outrage at the injustice of the dispossession of the Palestinians and the denial of their rights a personal and collective Nakba without end Ian Black The Guardian The only memoir in English by a Palestinian Arab who grew up in the Beersheba district prior to 1948 now with a new afterword Salman Abu Sitta was just ten years old when the Nakba the mass expulsion of Palestinians in 1948 happened forcing him from his home near Beersheba Like many Palestinians of his generation this traumatic loss and his enduring desire to return would be the defining features of his life from that moment on Abu Sitta vividly evokes the vanished world of his family and home on the eve of the Nakba giving a personal and very human face to the dramatic events of 1930s and 1940s Palestine as Zionist ambitions and militarization expanded under the British mandate He chronicles his life in exile from his family's flight to Gaza his teenage years as a student in Nasser's Egypt his formative years in 1960s London his life as a family man and academic in Canada to several sojourns in Kuwait Abu Sitta's long and winding journey has taken him through many of the seismic events of the era from the 1956 Suez War to the 1991 Gulf War This rich and moving memoir is imbued throughout with a burning sense of justice and a determination to recover and document what rightfully belongs to his people given expression in his groundbreaking mapping work on his homeland Abu Sitta with warmth and wit tells his story and that of Palestine

Methodologies for Mapping a Southern African Girlhood in the Age of Aids Relebohile Moletsane, Ann Smith, Linda Chisholm, 2008-01-01 Methodologies for Mapping a Southern African Girlhood in the Age of Aids is located within the new and broader area of Girlhood Studies Girls have long been considered a rich feminist memory site for examining the genesis of women's sense of self in the developed world To date however only a few scholars have focused on Southern African girlhoods Even fewer focus on methodologies for researching girlhood This is despite the particular vulnerability of girls to gender based violence and HIV and Aids and the relative complexity of doing research with girls in diverse cultural contexts in this region Thus the book aims to take this agenda forward and to investigate a range of participatory methodological and theoretical approaches that can be adapted to study girls and girlhood in Southern Africa These methodologies which look at research with girls about girls and for girls include policy research writing fictional practice and visual arts based methods to be used as analytical tools that should and have been used to examine the lives of girls particularly in the age of HIV and Aids in Southern Africa

McPherson, Susan Rhoades Neel, 2016-08-04 In 1875 a team of cartographers geologists and scientists under the direction of Ferdinand V Hayden entered the Four Corners area for what they thought would be a calm summer's work completing a previous survey Their accomplishments would go down in history as one of the great American surveying expeditions of the nineteenth century By skillfully weaving the surveyors diary entries field notes and correspondence with newspaper accounts historians Robert S McPherson and Susan Rhoades Neel bring the Hayden Survey to life Mapping the Four Corners provides an entertaining engaging narrative of the team's experiences contextualized with a thoughtful introduction and conclusion Accompanied by the great photographer William Henry Jackson Hayden's team quickly found their trip to be more challenging than expected The travelers describe wrangling half wild pack mules trying to sleep in rain soaked blankets and making tea from muddy alkaline water Along the way they encountered diverse peoples evidence of prehistoric civilizations and spectacular scenery Hispanic villages in Colorado and New Mexico Mesa Verde Hovenweep and other Anasazi sites and the Hopi mesas Not everyone they met was glad to see them in southeastern Utah surveyors fought and escaped a band of
