Mapping Islamic Studies Genealogy Continuity And Change:

Mapping Islamic Studies Azim Nanji, 2011-09-20 Since its founding by Jacques Waardenburg in 1971 Religion and Reason has been a leading forum for contributions on theories, theoretical issues and agendas related to the phenomenon and the study of religion. Topics include among others category formation, comparison, ethnophilosophy, hermeneutics, methodology, myth, phenomenology, philosophy of science, scientific atheism, structuralism and theories of religion. From time to time the series publishes volumes that map the state of the art and the history of the discipline. The Bloomsbury Companion to Islamic Studies Clinton Bennett, 2014-11-20 The Bloomsbury Companion to Islamic Studies is a comprehensive one-volume reference guide to Islam and study in this area. A team of leading international scholars, Muslim and non-Muslim, cover important aspects of study in the field, providing readers with a complete and accessible source of information to the wide range of methodologies and theoretical principles involved. Presenting Islam as a variegated tradition, key essays from the contributors demonstrate how it is subject to different interpretations, with no single version privileged. In this volume, Islam is treated as a lived experience, not only as a theoretical ideal or textual tradition. Featuring a series of indispensable research tools, including a substantial A-Z of key terms and concepts, chronology and a detailed list of resources, this is the essential reference guide for anyone working in Islamic Studies. Dynamic Islam Jon Armajani, 2004 Dynamic Islam analyzes the lives and works of four of the most influential liberal diaspora Muslim intellectuals of the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries: Fatima Mernissi, Leila Ahmed, Fazlur Rahman, and Mohammed Arkoun. These prolific scholars are among the first generation of Muslims writing in Western languages who have intentionally directed their works toward audiences in the West as well as the Muslim world. Jon Armajani examines the way these cutting-edge scholars have interpreted the Quran, Hadith, and Islamic history as they have constructed their visions for Islam in the modern world. Armajani vividly describes their perspectives on women and gender, veiling, Islamic revivalism, Islam and democracy, and Islamic mysticism. The volume also situates their ideas with respect to conservatively minded Western Muslims and Islamic revivalists. Islam Jacques Waardenburg, 2008-08-22 This book presents some twenty essays on different aspects of Islam in history and the present. These essays are grouped into eight larger sections. The first, The Beginnings, deals with the transition from pre-Islamic understandings and reason to an essential part of the Quranic message. The next two sections deal with Islam specifically as a religion, with its particular signs and symbols. The question of rules of interpretation in Islam and its structural features is discussed here. Sections four and five deal with ethics in Islam, including Muslim identity and human rights and certain social functions of Islam. Section six introduces some 19th and 20th-century reform movements, with special attention given to developments in Saudi Arabia and the puritan characteristics of present-day Islamic revival movements. The final two sections discuss contemporary issues: Islamization processes and policies, Islamic ideologies, the ideologization of Islam, and the political uses of religion. Throughout the book, the author shows the links between the religious and other interpretations and uses made of Islam and the contexts in which they are made The Introduction signals some important developments in Islamic studies since World War II

Muslims as Actors Jacques Waardenburg, 2012-02-13 This book deals with Islamic studies and with the question how the scholarly study of religion can contribute to the study of Islam The author advocates studying Islamic phenomena as signs and symbols interpreted and applied in diverse ways in existing traditions He stresses the role of Muslims as actors in the ongoing debate about the articulation of Islamic ways of life and construction of Islam as a religion A careful study of this debate should steer clear of political religious and ideological interests Research in this area by Muslims and non Muslim scholars alike should address the question of what Muslims have made of their Islam in specific circumstances Current political contexts have created an unhealthy climate for pursuing an open approach to Islam based on reading observing listening and reflecting Yet precisely nowadays we need to look anew at ways of Muslim thinking and acting that refer to Islam and to avoid certain schemes of interpreting Muslim realities that are no longer adequate for present day Muslim life situations Muslim recourse to Islam can be studied as human constructions of value and meaning and relations between Muslims and others can be seen in terms of human interaction without blame always falling on Islam as such

Contemporary Islamic Discourse in the Malay-Indonesian World Azhar Ibrahim, 2022-11-24 While many books have probed the role of Islam in political and social change in Southeast Asia over the past three decades few have focused on the power of the religious discourse itself in shaping this transformation Contemporary Islamic Discourse in the Malay Indonesian World captures the interplay between religion and social thought in comparative case studies from Malaysia Indonesia and Singapore Drawing on a critical sociology of knowledge and a profound understanding of historical contexts the central focus is on Muslim intellectuals who have grappled with the impact of modernity in these societies between those seeking to reform Islam's role and those who take a hardline defensive stance The discussion deals successively with the role of religious traditionalism the upsurge of dakwah revivalism and the public sphere attitudes towards democracy and pluralism and finally the ideas advanced by liberal Islam and its opponents Above all Azhar Ibrahim offers the reader a creative way of understanding the modern Islamic discourse and its relationship to the remaking of society at large Azhar Ibrahim's book cuts through the noise of much discourse on Islam and puts perspective to a vast amount of materials effectively constructing their actual social and historical meaning It should be read by all those seeking an in depth understanding of contemporary Southeast Asia even beyond the particular issues of Islam and Muslims

Shaharuddin Maaruf Academy of Malay Studies University of Malaya This book is a must read for all those interested in a critical evaluation of the force and implications of religious traditionalism conservatism and revivalism on the development of plural and democratic Muslim societies in Southeast Asia and the challenges they pose to critical voices struggling for the relevance of ethical and humanist traditions of Islam

Islam on Campus Alison Scott-Baumann,Mathew Guest,Shuruq Naguib,Sariya Cheruvallil-Contractor,Aisha Phoenix,2020-10-16 Islam on Campus explores how Islam is represented perceived and lived within higher education in Britain It is a book about the changing nature of university life and the place of religion within it Even while many universities maintain ambiguous or affirming orientations to religious institutions for reasons to do with history and ethos much western scholarship has presumed higher education to be a strongly secularizing force This framing has resulted in religion often being marginalized or ignored as a cultural irrelevance by the university sector However recent times have seen higher education increasingly drawn into political discourses that problematize religion in general and Islam in particular as an object of risk Using the largest data set yet collected in the UK this book explores university life and the ways in which ideas about Islam and Muslim identities are produced experienced perceived appropriated and objectified It asks what role universities and Muslim higher education institutions play in the production reinforcement and contestation of emerging narratives about religious difference This is a culturally nuanced treatment of universities as sites of knowledge production and contexts for the negotiation of perspectives on culture and religion among an emerging generation It demonstrates the urgent need to release Islam from its official role as the othered the feared When universities achieve this we will be able to help students of all affiliations and of none to be citizens of the campus in preparation for being citizens of the world Fifty Years in the East Farhad Daftary, 2014-12-02 I

B Tauris in association with the Institute of Ismaili Studies Few fields of Islamic studies have witnessed as much progress in modern times as Ismaili studies and in even fewer instances has the role of a single individual been as pivotal in initiating progress as that of Wladimir Ivanow 1886 1970 whose memoirs are now published here for the first time The breakthrough in modern Ismaili studies occurred mainly as a result of the recovery and study of a large number of texts relating to the field which had not been available to the earlier generations of orientalists The Persian and Arabic Ismaili manuscripts many edited and published by Ivanow reflect a rich diversity of intellectual and literary traditions Ivanow left his native Russia soon after the October Revolution of 1917 and settled in India where he was formally commissioned in 1931 by Sultan Muhammad Shah Aga Khan III the 48th Imam of the Nizari Ismailis to investigate the history and teachings of the Ismailis Henceforth Ivanow began the systematic recovery and study of texts from this tradition of Shi i Islam discovered in India the Middle East and Central Asia amongst other regions He also played a key role in the establishment of the Ismaili Society the first research institution of its kind with a major collection of Ismaili manuscripts Ivanow made these manuscripts available to other scholars thereby contributing to further progress in the field Ivanow completed his memoirs entitled Fifty Years in the East in 1968 shortly before his death This work originally written in Russian is comprised of an autobiography and vivid accounts from his travels These convey his ethnologist s interest in the archaeology of the way of life and profound curiosity for regional customs and languages The memoirs written in Tehran during Ivanow s final years have now been edited with substantial annotations by Farhad Daftary They reveal for the first time the circumstances under which modern Ismaili studies were initiated and an eyewitness account of several regions during the early decades of the twentieth century before the rapid onset of modernisation The Heritage of Soviet Oriental Studies Michael Kemper, Stephan

Conermann,2011-02-01 This book examines the Russian Soviet intellectual tradition of Oriental and Islamic studies which comprised a rich body of knowledge especially on Central Asia and the Caucasus The Soviet Oriental tradition was deeply linked to politics probably even more than other European Orientalisms It breaks new ground by providing Western and post Soviet insider views especially on the features that set Soviet Oriental studies apart from what we know about its Western counterparts for example the involvement of scholars in state supported anti Islamic agitation the early and strong integration of Orientals into the scientific institutions the spread of Oriental scholarship over the Oriental republics of the USSR and its role in the Marxist reinterpretation of the histories of these areas The authors demonstrate the declared emancipating agenda of Soviet scholarship with its rhetoric of anti colonialism and anti imperialism made Oriental studies a formidable tool for Soviet foreign policy towards the Muslim World and just like in the West the Iranian Revolution and the mujahidin resistance to the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan necessitated a thorough redefinition of Soviet Islamic studies in the early 1980s Overall the book provides a comprehensive analysis of Soviet Oriental studies exploring different aspects of writing on Islam and Muslim history societies and literatures It also shows how the legacy of Soviet Oriental studies is still alive especially in terms of interpretative frameworks and methodology after 1991 Soviet views on Islam have contributed significantly to nation building in the various post Soviet and Russian Muslim republics The Islam??l?-Sufi Sage of Pamir , Theorizing Islam Aaron W. Hughes,2014-09-11 The scholarly study of Islam has become ever more insular and apologetic Academic Islamic Studies has tried to maintain a focus on truth authenticity experience and meaning and has effectively avoided discussion of larger social cultural and ideological issues Many scholars of Islam have presented themselves to their colleagues the media and the public as the interpreters of Islam and have done so with an interpretation which tends almost universally to the liberal and egalitarian The ignorance and hostility which the Islamic faith has faced since 9 11 has partly necessitated the taking of such a position But as Theorizing Islam argues the issue remains that only one interpretation of Islam is generally being presented and as with any interpretation this has its own assumptions The aim of Theorizing Islam is to explore the potential for a fuller more honest and more sophisticated approach to both theory and methodology in the academic study of Islam Islamic Legal Revival

Christian Churches say Islam is What does the Church of England say Islam is And in the end what space is there for genuine engagement with Islam Richard Sudworth's unique study takes as its cue the question of political theology and brings this burgeoning area of debate into dialogue with Christian Muslim relations and Anglican ecclesiology The vexed subject of Christian Muslim Relations provides the presenting arena to explore what political theologies enable the Church of England to engage with the diverse public square of the twenty first century Each chapter concludes with an Anecdotes from the Field section setting themes from the chapter in the context of Richard Sudworth's own ministry within a Muslim majority parish
