Mappings Feminism The Cultural G:

Mappings Susan Stanford Friedman, 1998 In this powerful work Susan Friedman moves feminist theory out of paralyzing debates about us and them white and other first and third world and victimizers and victims Throughout Friedman adapts current cultural theory from global and transnational studies anthropology and geography to challenge modes of thought that exaggerate the boundaries of gender race ethnicity sexuality class and national origin The author promotes a transnational and heterogeneous feminism which she maintains can replace the proliferation of feminisms based on difference She argues for a feminist geopolitical literacy that goes beyond fundamentalist identity politics and absolutist poststructuralist theory and she continually focuses the reader's attention on those locations where differences are negotiated and transformed Pervading the book is a concern with narrative the way stories and cultural narratives serve as a primary mode of thinking about the politically explosive question of identity Drawing freely on modernist novels contemporary film popular fiction poetry and mass media the work features narratives of such writers and filmmakers as Gish Jen Julie Dash June Jordan James Joyce Gloria Anzaldúa Neil Jordon Virginia Woolf Mira Nair Zora Neale Hurston E M Forster and Irena Klepfisz Defending the pioneering role of academic feminists in the knowledge revolution this work draws on a wide variety of twentieth century cultural expressions to address theoretical issues in postmodern feminism

Literary Geography Lynn M. Houston, 2019-08-02 This reference investigates the role of landscape in popular works and in doing so explores the time in which they were written

Literary Geography An Encyclopedia of Real and Imagined Settings is an authoritative guide for students teachers and avid readers who seek to understand the importance of setting in interpreting works of literature including poetry By examining how authors and poets shaped their literary landscapes in such works as The Great Gatsby and Nineteen Eighty Four readers will discover historical political and cultural context hidden within the words of their favorite reads The alphabetically arranged entries provide easy access to analysis of some of the most well known and frequently assigned pieces of literature and poetry Entries begin with a brief introduction to the featured piece of literature and then answer the questions How is literary landscape used to shape the story How is the literary landscape imbued with the geographical political cultural and historical context of the author s contemporary world whether purposeful or not Pop up boxes provide quotes about literary landscapes throughout the book and an appendix takes a brief look at the places writers congregated and that inspired them A comprehensive scholarly bibliography of secondary sources pertaining to mapping physical and cultural geography ecocriticism and the role of nature in literature rounds out the work

Mapping Desire:Geog Sexuality David Bell,Gill Valentine,2003-09-02 This is the first book to explore sexualities from a geographical perspective The nature of place and notions of space are of increasing centrality to cultural and social theory Mapping Desire presents the rich and diverse world of contemporary sexuality exploring how the heterosexual body has been appropriated and resisted on the individual community and city scales The geographies presented here range across Europe America Australasia Africa the Pacific and the imaginary cutting across city and country and analysing the positions of gay men lesbians bisexuals and heterosexuals The contributors ring different interests and approaches to bear on theoretical and empirical material from a wide range of sources The book is divided into four sections cartographies identities sexualised spaces global local sexualised spaces local global sites of resistance Each section is separately introduced Beyond the bibliography an annotated guide to further reading is also provided to help the reader map their own way through the literature

Feminisms in Geography Pamela Moss,Karen Falconer Al-Hindi,2008 In this innovative reader Pamela Moss and Karen Falconer Al Hindi present a unique reflective approach to what feminist geography is and who feminist geographers are Their carefully crafted textbook invigorates feminist debates about space place and knowledges with a fine balance among teaching chapters reprints and original essays Offering an anthology that actually questions the very purpose of an anthology the editors create and then negotiate a tension between reinforcing and destabilizing scholarly authority They challenge the idea that there is one set of works that acts as the vision interpretation voice and feel of feminist geography while both reproducing key previously published works and including fresh essays from a number of feminist geographers in a single volume The first chapter frames feminism geography and knowledge as a m lange of ideas principles and practices Each of the three major sections of the volume begins with an introductory essay that places individual contributions into the overarching argument about the construction of feminist geography Each introduction is then followed by a combination of reprints and original essays that contribute both to understanding how feminist geographical knowledge is constructed differently in different places and to showing what feminist geographers do wherever they are The final chapter extends the anti anthology arguments and raises questions that feminisms in geographies have yet to address Students and scholars will find both the approach and the discussion essential for a full and nuanced understanding of feminist geography Contributions by Sybille Bauriedl Kath Browne Joos Droogleever Fortuijn Kim England Karen Falconer Al Hindi Anne Fran oise Gilbert Melissa R Gilbert Ellen Hansen Susan Hanson Audrey Kobayashi Clare Madge Michele Masucci Janice Monk Pamela Moss Ann M Oberhauser Linda Peake Geraldine Pratt Parvati Raghuram Bernadette Stiell Amy Trauger Dina Vaiou The Sangtin Writers Anupamlata Ramsheela Reshma Ansari Vibha Bajpayee Shashi Vaish Shashibala Surbala Richa Singh and Richa Nagar

Working with Affect in Feminist Readings Marianne Liljeström, Susanna Paasonen, 2010-03-08 Working with Affect in Feminist Readings Disturbing Differences explores the place and function of affect in feminist knowledge production investigating what it means to work with and through affect as well as the kinds of ethical and methodological challenges that this involves

Mapping the Legal Boundaries of Belonging René Provost, 2014 For several decades culture played a central role in challenging the liberal tradition More recently however religion has re emerged as one of the central challenges facing Western liberal societies conception of multiculturalism Mapping the Legal Boundaries of Belonging explores the complex relationship between religion and multiculturalism and the role of the state and law in the creation of boundaries The intersection between religion nationalism and other vectors of difference in Canada and Israel offer an ideal laboratory in which to examine multiculturalism in particular and the governance of diversity in general The contributors to this volume investigate concepts of religious difference and diversity and the ways in which these two states and legal systems understand and respond to them As a consequence of a purportedly secular human rights perspective they show state laws may appear to define religious identity in a way that contradicts the definition found within a particular religion Both state and religion make the same mistake if they take a court decision that emphasizes individual belief and practice as effecting a direct modification of a religious norm the court lacks the power to change the authoritative internal definition of who belongs to a particular faith Similarly in the pursuit of a particular model of social diversity the state may adopt policies that imply a particular private public distinction foreign to some religious traditions

Soaring Beyond Boundaries, 2007-01-01 Higher education systems in many countries are undergoing significant changes in response to variety of local national and international pressures Among these the shift from elitism to the provision of mass higher education increased impact of internationalization and globalization which are increasingly blurring national boundaries increased competition among universities for limited resources to support higher education sector the impact of technology and the knowledge economy and the continuing quest educational for equity Given what we already know about the position of women in the academy what is so significant about the account of women represented in this book Lessons from colleagues in Western universities provide important models for understanding some aspects of gendered identity of women scholars however a deeper understanding of educational experiences for women in countries such as China Turkey Iran Pakistan may potentially offer innovative insights to our current understanding of gender within education In this age of globalization there are common themes that transcend the experiences of women across very different social cultural economic and political contexts Therefore accounts of women scholars represented in this volume demonstrate that the experiences women scholars are not isolated incidents but global phenomena and may offer alternative approaches to problems that seem insurmountable to women at the bottom of the professional ladder Further the experiences of non Western women scholars are important because it is only through an understanding of their educational conditions that institutions can implement policies and practices to respond effectively and to create work environments that are supportive to professional aspirations of these scholars Effective policies can only be attained when there is a clear understanding of the barriers and challenges female scholars Given that gender concerns especially in non Western countries have historically occupied and to some extent continue to occupy a marginal position in the daily operations of institutions of higher education it is critical to highlight their potentially harmful effects not only on women scholars but on institutions as well Narrative Innovation and Cultural Rewriting in the Cold War Era and After M. Cornis-Pope, 2016-04-30 Narrative Innovation and Cultural Rewriting undertakes a systematic study of postmodernism's responses to the polarized ideologies of the postwar period that have held cultures hostage to a confrontation between rival ideologies abroad and a clash between champions of uniformity and disruptive others at home Considering a broad range of narrative projects and approaches from polysystemic fiction to surfiction postmodern feminism and multicultural postcolonial fiction this book highlights their solutions to ontological division real vs imaginary worldly and other worldly sociocultural oppositions of race class gender and narratological dualities imitation vs invention realism vs formalism A thorough rereading of the best experimental work published in the US since the mid 1960s reveals the fact that innovative fiction has been from the beginning concerned with redefining the relationship between history and fiction narrative and cultural articulation Stepping back from traditional polarizations innovative novelists have tried to envision an alternative history of irreducible particularities excluded middles and creative intercrossings Popular Music and Human Rights Professor Ian Peddie, 2013-01-28 Popular music has long understood that human rights if attainable at all involve a struggle without end The right to imagine an individual will the right to some form of self determination and the right to self legislation have long been at the forefront of popular music's approach to human rights In Eastern Europe where states often tried to control music the hundreds of thousands of Estonians who gathered in Tallinn between 1987 and 1991 are a part of the singing revolutions that encouraged a sense of national consciousness which had years earlier been crushed when Soviet policy declared Baltic folk music dead and ordered its replacement with mass song Examples of this nature where music has the power to enlighten to mobilize and perhaps even to change suggest that popular music's response to issues of human rights has and will continue to be profound and sustained This is the second volume published by Ashgate on popular music and human rights the first volume covered British and American music Contributors to this significant volume cover topics such as Movimento 77 Nepal's heavy metal scene music and memory in Mozambique and Swaziland hybrid metal in the muslim world folksong in Latvia popular music in the former Yugoslavia indigenous human rights in Australia V ctor Jara protest and gender in Ireland rock and roll in China and the anti rock campaigns and the Orange Revolution in Ukraine

Mapping Gendered Routes and Spaces in the Early Modern World Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2016-03-03 How did gender figure in understandings of spatial realms from the inner spaces of the body to the furthest reaches of the globe How did women situate themselves in the early modern world and how did they move through it in both real and imaginary locations How do new disciplinary and geographic connections shape the ways we think about the early modern world and the role of women and men in it These are the questions that guide this volume which includes articles by a select group of scholars from many disciplines Art History Comparative Literature English German History Landscape Architecture Music and Women's Studies Each essay reaches across fields and several are written by interdisciplinary groups of authors The essays also focus on many different places including Rome Amsterdam London and Paris and on texts and images that crossed the Atlantic and the Mediterranean or that portrayed real and imagined people who did Many essays investigate topics key to the spatial turn in various disciplines such as borders and their permeability actual and metaphorical spatial crossings travel and displacement and the built environment

Approaches to Human Geography Stuart C. Aitken, Gill Valentine, 2014-12-01 The book covers some of the traditionally most obtuse and difficult to grasp philosophical ideas that have influenced geographers geography The fact that these are presented in an inclusive and accessible manner is a key strength Many students have commented that the chapters they have read have encouraged them to read more in this field which is fantastic from a lecturer's perspective Richard White Sheffield Hallam University A new edition of the classic Approaches text for students organised in three sections which overviews and explains the history and philosophy of Human Geographies in all its applications by those who practise it Section One Philosophies Positivist Geography Humanism Feminist Geographies Marxisms Structuration Theory Human Animal Realism Postmodern Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Actor Network Theory Postcolonialism Geohumanities Technologies Section Two People Institutions and Cultures Places and Contexts Memories and Desires Understanding Place Personal and Political Becoming a Geographer Movement and Encounter Spaces and Flows Places as Thoughts Section Three Practices Mapping and Geovisualization Quantification Evidence and Positivism Geographic Information Systems Humanism Activism Feminist Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Psychoanalysis Environmental Inquiry Contested Geographies and Culture Wars Fully updated throughout and with

Encyclopedia of Human Geography Barney Warf, 2006-05-16 Human geography in the last decade has undergone a conceptual and methodological renaissance that transformed it into one of the most dynamic and innovative of the social sciences Long a borrower of ideas from other disciplines geography has become a contributor in its own right and a spatial turn is evident in disciplines as diverse as Sociology Anthropology and Literary Criticism With more than 300 entries written by an international team of leading authorities in the field the Encyclopedia of Human Geography offers a comprehensive overview of the major ideas concepts terms and approaches that characterize a notoriously diverse field This multidisciplinary volume provides cross cultural coverage of human geography as it is understood in the contemporary world and takes into account the enormous conceptual changes that have evolved since the 1970s including a variety of social constructivist approaches Key Features Examines a range of themes characterizing different schools of thought and addresses long standing topics such as urban economic and medical geography as well as contemporary topics including feminism the social dimensions of GIS and the social construction of nature Explores many of the dualities that long characterized social science nature versus society the individual versus the social the historical versus the geographical consumption versus production and breaks them down using postmodern and poststructuralist approaches Illustrates how social and spatial structures draw upon people's daily lives which in turn structures their actions Looks at how globalization has manifested differently from place to place by discussing topics such as transnational capital international trade global commodity chains global cities international financial and telecommunications systems and how the global economy is reshaping geopolitics and governance Key Themes Cartography Geographical Information Systems Economic Geography Geographic Theory and History Political Geography Social Cultural Geography Urban Geography She's So Fine:

Reflections on Whiteness, Femininity, Adolescence and Class in 1960s Music Laurie Stras, 2017-07-05 She's So Fine explores the music reception and cultural significance of 1960s girl singers and girl groups in the US and the UK Using approaches from the fields of musicology women's studies film and media studies and cultural studies this volume is the first interdisciplinary work to link close musical readings with rigorous cultural analysis in the treatment of artists such as Martha and the Vandellas The Crystals The Blossoms Brenda Lee Dusty Springfield Lulu Tina Turner and Marianne Faithfull Currently available studies of 1960s girl groups girl singers fall into one of three categories industry generated accounts of the music's production and sales sociological commentaries or omnibus chronologies discographies She's So Fine by contrast focuses on clearly defined themes via case studies of selected artists Within this analytical rather than historically comprehensive framework this book presents new research and original observations on the 60s girl group girl singer phenomenon Re-Mapping Archaeology Mark Gillings, Piraye Hacıgüzeller, Gary Lock, 2018-07-27 Maps have always been a fundamental tool in archaeological practice and their prominence and variety have increased along with a growing range of digital technologies used to collect visualise query and analyse spatial data However unlike in other disciplines the development of archaeological cartographical critique has been surprisingly slow a missed opportunity given that archaeology with its vast and multifaceted experience with space and maps can significantly contribute to the field of critical mapping Re mapping Archaeology thinks through cartographic challenges in archaeology and critiques the existing mapping traditions used in the social sciences and humanities especially since the 1990s It provides a unique archaeological perspective on cartographic theory and innovatively pulls together a wide range of mapping practices applicable to archaeology and other disciplines This volume will be suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as for established researchers in archaeology geography anthropology history landscape studies ethnology and sociology
