Maps And Map Makers:

Maps and Map-makers Ronald Vere Tooley, 1961 American Maps and Map Makers of the Revolution Peter J. Guthorn, 1966 This book is arranged in orderly fashion A short biography of each map maker is followed by a list of his known maps Though frequently fragmentary and based on secondary sources many of the biographical sketches appear in print here for the first time A great number of the maps are likewise newly discovered Each map is briefly described and its repository indicated The introduction gives additional valuable data Foreword Landmarks of Mapmaking Ronald Vere Tooley, Charles Bricker, 1968 Landmarks of Mapmaking Charles Bricker, Ronald Vere Tooley, 1968 Maps and Map-Makers, By R.V. Tooley Ronald Vere Tooley, 1970 The Mapmakers' Quest David Buisseret, 2003-05-22 In 1400 Europe was behind large parts of the world in its understanding of the use of maps For instance the people of China and of Japan were considerably more advanced in this respect And yet by 1600 the Europeans had come to use maps for a huge variety of tasks and were far ahead of the rest of the world in their appreciation of the power and use of cartography The Mapmakers Quest seeks to understand this development not only to tease out the strands of thought and practice which led to the use of maps but also to assess the ways in which such use affected European societies and economies Taking as a starting point the question of why there were so few maps in Europe in 1400 and so many by 1650 the book explores the reasons for this and its implications for European history It examines inter al how mapping and military technology advanced in tandem how modern states territories were mapped and borders drawn up the role of maps in shaping the urban environment and cartography's links to the new sciences Map Worlds Will C. van den Hoonaard, 2013-09-21 Map Worlds plots a journey of discovery through the world of women map makers from the golden age of cartography in the sixteenth century Low Countries to tactile maps in contemporary Brazil Author Will C van den Hoonaard examines the history of women in the profession sets out the situation of women in technical fields and cartography related organizations and outlines the challenges they face in their careers Map Worlds explores women as colourists in early times describes the major houses of cartographic production and delves into the economic function of intermarriages among cartographic houses and families It relates how in later centuries working from the margins women produced maps to record painful tribal memories or sought to remedy social injustices Much later one woman so changed the way we think about continents that the shift has been likened to the Copernican revolution Other women created order and wonder about the lunar landscape and still others turned the art and science of making maps inside out exposing the hidden unconscious and subliminal text of maps Shared by all these map makers are themes of social justice and making maps work for the betterment of humanity Landmarks of Mapmaking Charles Bricker, Ronald Vere Tooley, 1989 The Mapmakers John Noble Wilford, 2001-12-04 In his classic text two time Pulitzer Prize winner John Noble Wilford recounts the history of cartography from antiquity to the space age They are among the world's great pioneers and adventurers the mapmakers who for centuries have been expanding our knowledge of who and where we are and where we want to go From the surprisingly accurate silk maps prepared by Chinese cartographers in the second century B C to medieval mapmakers who believed they had fixed the location of paradise through to the expeditions of Columbus and Magellan John Noble Wilford chronicles the exploits of the great pioneers of mapmaking Wilford brings the story up to the present day as he shows the impact of new technologies that make it possible for cartographers to go where no one has been before from the deepest reaches of the universe where astronomers are mapping time as well as space to the inside of the human brain These modern day mapmakers join the many earlier adventurers including ancient Greek stargazers Renaissance seafarers and the explorers who mapped the American West whose achievements shape this dramatic story of human inventiveness and limitless curiosity

Mapping Time and Space Evelyn Edson,1997 Until recently medieval maps were often looked upon as quaint amusing and quite simply wrong By comparison the best examples of modern cartography appear to offer a much more accurate record of the world However as Professor Edson makes clear in this stimulating book when seeking the meaning and purpose of maps in the Middle Ages one cannot assume that they were used for the same purposes or had the same meaning as they do today In fact the differences in structure and content give us an intriguing insight into how medieval mapmakers and readers saw their world By a close study of the context in which the mapmakers produced their work it can be shown that they were often striving to present and make sense of a world picture that naturally incorporated key events from the past at the same time showing a narrative of human spiritual development from the Creation to the Last Judgment
