MIRIAM HILDA KENYON DONATELLO

Four individuals in whose fortunes we should be glad to interest the reader happened to be standing in one of the saloons of the sculpture gallery in the Capitol at Rome It was that room the first after ascending the staircase in the centre of which reclines the noble and most pathetic figure of the Dying Gladiator just sinking into his death swoon Around the walls stand the Antinous the Amazon the Lycian Apollo the Juno all famous productions of antique sculpture and still shining in the undiminished majesty and beauty of their ideal life although the marble that embodies them is yellow with time and perhaps corroded by the damp earth in which they lay buried for centuries Here likewise is seen a symbol as apt at this moment as it was two thousand years ago of the Human Soul with its choice of Innocence or Evil close at hand in the pretty figure of a child clasping a dove to her bosom but assaulted by a snake From one of the windows of this saloon we may see a flight of broad stone steps descending alongside the antique and massive foundation of the Capitol towards the battered triumphal arch of Septimius Severus right below Farther on the eye skirts along the edge of the desolate Forum where Roman washerwomen hang out their linen to the sun passing over a shapeless confusion of modern edifices piled rudely up with ancient brick and stone and over the domes of Christian churches built on the old pavements of heathen temples and supported by the very pillars that once upheld them At a distance beyond yet but a little way considering how much history is heaped into the intervening space rises the great sweep of the Coliseum with the blue sky brightening through its upper tier of arches Far off the view is shut in by the Alban Mountains looking just the same amid all this decay and change as when Romulus gazed thitherward over his half finished wall

The Marble Faun Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2019-07-15 The fragility and the durability of human life and art dominate this story of American expatriates in Italy in the mid nineteenth century Befriended by Donatello a young Italian with the classical grace of the Marble Faun Miriam Hilda and Kenyon find their pursuit of art taking a sinister turn as Miriam's unhappy past precipitates the present into tragedy Hawthorne's International Novel dramatizes the confrontation of the Old World and the New and the uncertain relationship between the authentic and the fake in life as in art The author's evocative descriptions of classic sites made The Marble Faun a favourite guidebook to Rome for Victorian tourists but this richly ambiguous symbolic romance is also the story of a murder and a parable of the Fall of Man As the characters find their civilized existence disrupted by the awful consequences of impulse Hawthorne leads his readers to question the value of Art and Culture and addresses the great evolutionary debate which was beginning to shake Victorian society

The Marble Faun, The Romance of Monte Beni - Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2014-06-01 The Marble Faun The Romance of Monte Beni was the last of the four major romances by Nathaniel Hawthorne It was written on the eve of the American Civil War and set in a fantastical Italy and tells about three Americans encountering evil in Rome Nathaniel Hawthorne was an American novelist writing centers on New England many featuring moral allegories with a Puritan inspiration and centering on the inherent evil and sin of humanity

The Marble Faun Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2020-10-15 It was in June that the sculptor Kenyon arrived on horseback at the gate of an ancient country house which from some of its features might almost be called a castle situated in a part of Tuscany somewhat remote from the ordinary track of tourists Thither we must now accompany him and endeavor to make our story flow onward like a streamlet past a gray tower that rises on the hillside overlooking a spacious valley which is set in the grand framework of the Apennines The sculptor had left Rome with the retreating tide of foreign residents For as summer approaches the Niobe of Nations is made to bewail anew and doubtless with sincerity the loss of that large part of her population which she derives from other lands and on whom depends much of whatever remnant of prosperity she still enjoys Rome at this season is pervaded and overhung with atmospheric terrors and insulated within a charmed and deadly circle The crowd of wandering tourists betake themselves to Switzerland to the Rhine or from this central home of the world to their native homes in England or America which they are apt thenceforward to look upon as provincial after once having yielded to the spell of the Eternal City The artist who contemplates an indefinite succession of winters in this home of art though his first thought was merely to improve himself by a brief visit goes forth in the summer time to sketch scenery and costume among the Tuscan hills and pour if he can the purple air of Italy over his canvas
