Inventing Edward Lear Sara Lodge, 2018-11-30 Inventing Edward Lear is an exceptional valuable original study presenting new materials on aspects of Lear s life and work Jenny Uglow author of Mr Lear and The Lunar Men Edward Lear wrote some of the best loved poems in English including The Owl and the Pussycat but the father of nonsense was far more than a poet He was a naturalist a brilliant landscape painter an experimental travel writer and an accomplished composer Sara Lodge presents the fullest account yet of Lear's passionate engagement in the intellectual social and cultural life of his times. Lear had a difficult start in life. He was epileptic, asthmatic, and depressive but even as a child a consummate performer who projected himself into others' affections. He became, by John James Audubon's estimate, one of the greatest ornithological artists of the age. Queen Victoria, an admirer, chose him to be her painting teacher. He popularized the limerick, set Tennyson's verse to music, and opened fresh doors for children and adults to share fantasies of magical escape. Lodge draws on diaries, letters, and new archival sources to paint a vivid picture of Lear that explores his musical influences, his religious nonconformity, his relationship with the Pre-Raphaelite movement, and the connections between his scientific and artistic work. He invented himself as a character: awkward but funny, absurdly sympathetic. In Lodge's hands, Lear emerges as a dynamic and irreverent polymath whose conversation continues to draw us in. Inventing Edward Lear is an original and moving account of one of the most intriguing and creative of all Victorians.

Why America's Top Pundits Are Wrong Catherine Besteman, Hugh Gusterson, 2005-01-17 This absorbing collection of essays subjects such popular commentators as Thomas Friedman, Samuel Huntington, Robert Kaplan, and Dinesh D. Souza to cold, hard scrutiny and finds that their writing is often misleadingly simplistic, culturally ill-informed, and politically dangerous. Mixing critical reflection with insights from their own fieldwork, twelve distinguished anthropologists respond by offering fresh perspectives on globalization, ethnic violence, social justice, and the biological roots of behavior. They take on such topics as the collapse of Yugoslavia, the consumer practices of the American poor, American foreign policy in the Balkans, and contemporary debates over race, welfare, and violence against women. In the clear, vigorous prose of the pundits themselves, these contributors reveal the hollowness of what often passes as prevailing wisdom and passionately demonstrate the need for a humanistically complex and democratic understanding of the contemporary world. The Ideal of a Rational Morality Marcus George Singer, 2002 This is a collection of essays by moral philosopher Marcus George Singer in which the guiding theme is the concept of a morality based in reason, which is presupposed in ordinary moral contexts and provides an ideal for improving ordinary morality and correcting moral judgements.

Animals, Museum Culture and Children's Literature in Nineteenth-Century Britain Laurence Talairach, 2021-05-27 Animals, Museum Culture and Children's Literature in Nineteenth-Century Britain: Curious Beasties explores the relationship between the zoological and palaeontological specimens brought back from around the world in the long nineteenth century—be they alive, stuffed, or fossilised—and the development of children's literature at this time. Children's literature emerged as dizzying numbers of new species flooded into Britain with scientific expeditions, from giraffes and hippopotami to kangaroos, wombats, platypuses, or sloths. As the book argues, late Georgian, Victorian, and Edwardian children's writers took part in the urge for mass education and presented the world and its curious creatures to children, often borrowing from their museum culture and its objects to map out that world. This original exploration illuminates how children's literature dealt with the new ordering of the world, offering a unique viewpoint on the construction of science in the long nineteenth century      Edward Lear James Williams, James Atherton Williams, 2018 James Williams's account the first book length critical study of the poet since the 1980s sets out to re introduce Lear and to accord him his proper place as a major Victorian figure of continuing appeal and relevance and especially as a poet of beauty comedy and profound ingenuity      LIFE , 1947-05-05 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today's people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use      Haunted Landscapes Ruth Heholt, Niamh Downing, 2016-11-17 Haunted Landscapes offers a fresh and innovative approach to contemporary debates about landscape and the supernatural Landscapes are often uncanny spaces embroiled in the past associated with absence memory and nostalgia Yet experiences of haunting must in some way always belong to the present they must be felt This collection of essays opens up new and compelling areas of debate around the concepts of haunting affect and landscape Landscape studies supernatural studies haunting and memory are all rapidly growing fields of enquiry and this book synthesises ideas from several critical approaches spectral affective and spatial to provide a new route into these subjects Examining urban and rural landscapes haunted domestic spaces landscapes of trauma and borderlands this collection of essays is designed to cross disciplines and combine seemingly disparate academic approaches under the coherent locus of landscape and haunting Presenting a timely intervention in some of the most pressing scholarly debates of our time Haunted Landscapes offers an attractive array of essays that cover topics from Victorian times to the present      The Actual Jesus Tina Pippin, 2025-07-29 This book moves away from the traditional historical and theological studies of Jesus to incorporate a variety of theoretical and material approaches across centuries and diverse global cultures Through fiction and film the connections are made with contemporary issues such as borders asylum seekers farmworker activism colonialism violence misogyny civil war and nuclear proliferation with a focus on the appearances of the actual Jesus in these worlds The Jesus in this study is explored in particular connections with the stories of baptism wilderness experience ascension and apocalypse What is found is often confusing challenging surprising and disturbing like the Jesus of the gospels      Between Generations Victoria Ford Smith, 2017-08-07 Winner of the Children's Literature Association's 2019 Book Award Between Generations is a multidisciplinary volume that reframes children as powerful forces in the production of their own literature and culture by uncovering a tradition of creative collaborative partnerships between adults and children in nineteenth and early twentieth century England The intergenerational collaborations documented here provide the foundations for some of the most popular Victorian literature for children from Margaret Gatty's Aunt Judy's Tales to Robert Louis Stevenson's Treasure Island Examining the publication histories of both canonical and lesser known Golden Age texts reveals that children collaborated with adult authors as active listeners coauthors critics illustrators and even small scale publishers These literary collaborations were part of a growing interest in child agency evident in cultural social and scientific discourses of the time Between Generations puts these creative partnerships in conversation with collaborations in other fields including child study educational policy library history and toy culture Taken together these collaborations illuminate how Victorians used new critical approaches to childhood to theorize young people as viable social actors Smith s work not only recognizes Victorian children as literary collaborators but also interrogates how those creative partnerships reflect and influence adult child relationships in the world beyond books Between Generations breaks the critical impasse that understands children s literature and children themselves as products of adult desire and revises common constructions of childhood that frequently and often errantly resign the young to passivity or powerlessness Wild Animal Skins in Victorian Britain Ann C.

Colley,2016-02-11 What did the 13th Earl of Derby his twenty two year old niece Manchester s Belle Vue Zoo and even some ordinary laborers all have in common All were avid collectors and exhibitors of exotic and frequently unruly specimens In her study of Britain s craze for natural history collecting Ann C Colley makes extensive use of archival materials to examine the challenges preoccupations and disordered circumstances that attended the amassing of specimens from faraway places only vaguely known to the British public As scientific institutions sent collectors to bring back exotic animals and birds for study and classification by anatomists and zoologist it soon became apparent that collecting skins rather than live animals or birds was a relatively more manageable endeavor Colley looks at the collecting exhibiting and portraying of animal skins to show their importance as trophies of empire and representations of identity While a zoo might display skins to promote and glorify Britain s colonial achievements Colley suggests that the reality of collecting was characterized more by chaos than imperial order For example Edward Lear s commissioned illustrations of the Earl of Derby s extensive collection challenge the colonial s or collector s commanding gaze while the Victorian public demonstrated a yearning to connect with their own wildness by touching the skins of animals Colley concludes with a discussion of the metaphorical uses of wild skins by Gerard Manley Hopkins and other writers exploring the idea of skin as a locus of memory and touch where one s past can be traced in the same way that nineteenth century mapmakers charted a landscape Throughout the book Colley calls upon recent theories about the nature and function of skin and touch to structure her discussion of the Victorian fascination with wild animal skins
