where most other Athabaskan speaking peoples still live although the exact timing of the relocation is unknown it is thought to have been between 1100 and 1500 CE These early Navajo were mobile hunters and gatherers after moving to the Southwest however they adopted many of the practices of the sedentary farming Pueblo Indians near whom they settled In the early 21st century many Navajo continued to live a predominantly traditional lifestyle speaking the Navajo language practicing religion and organizing through traditional forms of social structure Navajo men and women also continued the tradition of volunteering for the armed services at a high rate perhaps as an expression of a cultural ethic that emphasizes both personal competence and community Many Navajo continue to live in the area they settled centuries ago in the early 21st century their reservation and government allotted lands in New Mexico Arizona and Utah totaled more than 24 000 square miles 64 000 square km The region is mainly arid however and generally will not support enough agriculture and livestock to provide a livelihood for all of its residents Thousands earn their living away from the Navajo country and appreciable numbers have settled on irrigated lands along the lower Colorado River and in such places as Los Angeles and Kansas City Missouri

American Indians of the Southwest Bertha P. Dutton, 1983-03 More than providing a compendium of southwestern Indian history and culture this remarkable book gives the reader an understanding of and appreciation for the unique lifeways of these peoples whose philosophy the author believes may be our one great resource for peace
