Police And Young People In Australia:

Young People and the Shaping of Public Space in Melbourne, 1870-1914 Simon Sleight, 2016-02-11 Baby booms have a long history In 1870 colonial Melbourne was perspiring juvenile humanity with an astonishing 42 per cent of the city's inhabitants aged 14 and under a demographic anomaly resulting from the gold rushes of the 1850s Within this context Simon Sleight enters the heated debate concerning the future prospects of Young Australia and the place of the colonial child within the incipient Australian nation Looking beyond those institutional sites so often assessed by historians of childhood he ranges across the outdoor city to chart the relationship between a discourse about youth youthful experience and the shaping of new urban spaces Play street work consumerism courtship gang related activities and public parades are examined using a plethora of historical sources to reveal a hitherto hidden layer of city life Capturing the voices of young people as well as those of their parents Sleight alerts us to the ways in which young people shaped the emergent metropolis by appropriating space and attempting to impress upon the city their own desires Here a dynamic youth culture flourished well before the discovery of the teenager in the mid twentieth century here young people and the city grew up together Australian Policing Philip Birch, Michael Kennedy, Erin Kruger, 2020-11-29 This edited collection brings together leading academics researchers and police personnel to provide a comprehensive body of literature that informs Australian police education training research policy and practice There is a strong history and growth in police education both in Australia and globally Recognising and reflecting on the Australian and New Zealand Policing Advisory Agency ANZPAA education and training framework the range of chapters within the book address a range of 21st century issues modern police forces face This book discusses four key themes Education training and professional practice topics include police education ethics wellbeing and leadership Organisational approaches and techniques topics include police discretion use of force investigative interviewing and forensic science Operational practices and procedures topics include police and the media emergency management cybercrime terrorism and community management Working with individuals and groups topics include mental health Indigenous communities young people hate crime domestic violence and working with victims Australian Policing Critical Issues in 21st Century Police Practice draws together theoretical and practice debates to ensure this book will be of interest to those who want to join the police those who are currently training to become a police officer and those who are currently serving This book is essential reading for all students scholars and researchers engaged with policing and the criminal justice sector Policing Practices and Vulnerable People Nicole L. Asquith, Isabelle Bartkowiak-Théron, 2021-04-20 This textbook addresses existing gaps in police research education and training and provides guidance on how to respond to and address the vulnerability that arises in policing practice It guides students through the conceptual and also the practical issues of managing vulnerability in policing with case studies and practitioners views from the UK Australia New Zealand South Africa the US Canada France and beyond to the Maldives China India Pakistan and Sri Lanka It includes key concepts views from the front line further reading and activities in each chapter Policing Practices and Vulnerable People is aimed at researchers and practitioners working with police While focussed on democratic policing practices this book includes case studies and practitioners views from a wide range of approaches including those from the Global South This book provides readers with a framework that can assist them in converting conceptual knowledge to critical ethical policing practice Social Cohesion in Australia James Jupp, John Nieuwenhuysen, Emma Dawson, 2007-09-19 Australia s reputation as a successful large scale immigrant receiving nation is well formed In the latest wave not only have millions of diverse people arrived in the post war period from 1945 to a growing high income good employment economy but the society absorbing them has remained stable and cohesive This is not to say that it has been entirely plain sailing sensitive debate isolated interethnic violence and the degree of migrant ghettoisation have been prominent though varying in intensity over time But overall the planned program of immigration and settlement by Australia s governments over the years has been successful This volume examines key elements of the means by which social cohesion can be constructively sought in Australia With contributions from some of Australia s leading experts in this field this book addresses the key concern what are the threats to Australia s social cohesion and how can they be countered Australia's Children's Courts Today and Tomorrow Rosemary Sheehan, Allan Borowski, 2013-04-05 The Children s Court is one of society s most important social institutions At the same time it is steeped in controversy This is in large measure due to the persistence and complexity of the problems with which it deals namely juvenile crime and child abuse and neglect Despite the importance of the Children s Court as a means of holding young people accountable for their anti social behaviour and parents for the care of their children it has not been the subject of close study Certainly it has not been previously studied nationally This book an edited collection is based on the findings of study that spanned the six States and two Territories of Australia The study sought to examine the current challenges faced by the Children s Court and to identify desirable and feasible directions for reform in each State and Territory A further unique feature of this study is that it canvassed the views of judges and magistrates who preside over this court Youth and Crime John Muncie, SAGE Publications Ltd, 2021-03-03 The most comprehensive and authoritative textbook on youth crime and youth justice Extensively updated to reflect changes in the youth justice system and contemporary debates around youth crime this fifth edition of Youth and Crime Includes new chapters on developmental and life course theories and punitive justice strategies Has been significantly expanded with new sections on the politicisation of youth crime knife crime and gangs child refugees climate justice child on child homicide and localised criminal exploitation Features increased coverage of policing strategies including sections on policing public space and rethinking youth justice Complete with a new two colour design chapter outlines summary boxes study questions further reading lists useful website lists and a glossary this textbook expertly guides students through their studies in youth and crime Policing Citizens P.A.J. Waddington, 2002-11-01 This analysis of policing throughout the modern world demonstrates how many of the contentious issues surrounding the police in recent years from paramilitarism to community policing have their origins in the fundamentals of the police role The author argues that this results from a fundamental tension within this role In liberal democratic societies police are custodians of the state s monopoly of legitimate force yet they also wield authority over citizens who have their own set of rights

Working with Youth Violence Tamara Blakemore,Louise Rak,Chris Krogh,Shaun McCarthy,Graeme Stuart,2023-12-01 Relevant for experienced and emerging social work and human service practitioners alike this book explores the uniquely challenging yet seemingly ubiquitous issue of youth violence It provides an authentic and accessible discussion of the theories and evidence that inform practice with youth violence alongside the voices of practitioners and the young people they work with These voices are drawn from work with the Name Narrate Navigate NNN program for youth violence NNN provides a trauma informed culturally safe preventive intervention for young people who use and experience violence and specialist training for the workers who support them The program embraces creative methods as a bridge between contemporary evidence on trauma and violence and Aboriginal healing practice The dual focus of the program is informed and interconnected by action research involving Aboriginal Elders and community members practitioners and key service stakeholders including young people with a lived experience of violence This book is ideal for use in professional cross disciplinary programs such as criminology sociology social work and psychology across post secondary vocational and university sectors

The Habitat of Australia's Aboriginal Languages Gerhard Leitner,Ian G. Malcolm,2008-08-22 The languages of Aboriginal Australians have attracted a considerable amount of interest among scholars from such diverse fields as linguistics political studies archaeology or social history As a result there is a large number of studies on a variety of issues to do with Aboriginal Australian languages and the social contexts in which they are used There is however no integrative reader that is easily accessible to the non specialist in any of the areas concerned The collection edited by Leitner and Malcolm fills this gap Looking at Aborigines and Torres Strait Islanders and their changing habitats from pre colonial times to the present the book covers languages from a structural and functional linguistic perspective moves on to the issue of cultural maintenance and then turns to language policy planning and the educational and legal dimensions Among the many themes discussed are the social and linguistic history of language contact after 1788 including the Macassans the demographic base of indigenous languages traditional indigenous languages results of language contact such as the modification of traditional languages and the rise of contact languages pidgins creoles esp Kriol Torres Strait Creole and Aboriginal English the impact of the Aboriginal languages on mainstream Australian English maintenance shift revival and documentation of indigenous and contact languages language planning language in education language in the media language in the law courts The contributors are leading experts in their fields The book can serve as a reader for university courses but also as a state of the art work and resource for specialists like applied linguists or educational planners

The Police and Young People in Australia Rob White,Christine Alder,1994-03-31 The relationship between the police and young people in Australia is a topic of growing concern in Australian society While people are concerned about juvenile crime worries have also been expressed about police harassment and violence directed at young people This book first published in 1994 provides a sustained analysis of police youth relations offering new insights into how young people are policed Some specific areas addressed include the legal framework of police youth interaction in Australia the rights of young people the policing of Aboriginal youth the relationship between the police and young women and ethnic and community policing and likely future directions in policy Written by a team of the leading people in the field this book makes an important contribution to debate on a critical issue The Police and Young People in Australia shows the implications that contemporary police methods and practices have on the exercise of basic legal rights in Australian society Race, Gender, and Class in Criminology Martin D. Schwartz, Dragan Milovanovic, 2019-07-18 First published in 2000 This series is dedicated to creative scholarly work in criminal justice and criminology Moreover we ask the authors to emphasize readability In this anthology Martin Schwartz and Dragan Milovanovic have managed to produce a work that is a combination of both They also did this in the face of difficulties presented by a variety of theoretical perspectives and methodologies The subject matter of this anthology race gender and class is a critical one for criminology Youth Justice and Penalty in Comparative Context Barry Goldson, Chris Cunneen, Sophie Russell, David Brown, Eileen Baldry, Melanie Schwartz, Damon Briggs, 2020-10-29 This book represents the first major analysis of Anglo Australian youth justice and penalty to be published and it makes significant theoretical and empirical contributions to the wider field of comparative criminology By exploring trends in law policy and practice over a forty year period the book critically surveys the moving images of youth justice regimes and penal cultures the principal drivers of reform the core outcomes of such processes and the overall implications for theory building It addresses a wide range of questions including How has the temporal and spatial patterning of youth justice and penalty evolved since the early 1980s to the present time What impacts have legislative and policy reforms imposed upon processes of criminalisation sentencing practices and the use of penal detention for children and young people How do we comprehend both the diverse ways in which public representations of young offenders are shaped structured and disseminated and the varied conflicting and contradictory effects of such representations To what extent do international human rights standards influence law policy and practice in the realms of youth justice and penalty To what extent are youth justice systems implicated in the production and reproduction of social injustices How and to what degree are youth justice systems and penal cultures internationalised nationalised regionalised or localised The book is essential reading for researchers students and tutors in criminology criminal justice law social policy sociology and youth studies Police-Citizen Relations in Nigeria Oluwagbenga Michael Akinlabi, 2022-04-21 This book offers an historical and contemporary analysis of policing and police citizen relations in Nigeria to understand why people co operate or don t with the police It examines police legitimacy and the validity of procedural justice theory in a post colonial African context where corruption brutality and lack of accountability are not uncommon to find more refined and alternative answers to the question of why people co operate or don t with the police The history of policing in Nigeria is explored first and then procedural justice theory is tested through an extensive cross sectional survey of the public One of the core findings is that citizens co operation with the police is driven less by legitimacy but more by effectiveness considerations and dull compulsion a concept akin to legal cynicism This study represents one of the first attempts to test and understand dull compulsion and its relevance in this context Overall it develops the field by illustrating that that there are significant variations between contexts when addressing the influence of perceived procedural justice policing on perceptions of police legitimacy and it explains the implications for policy makers

Youth, Globalization, and the Law Sudhir Alladi Venkatesh, Ronald Kassimir, 2006-12-13 This book addresses the impact of globalization on the lives of youth focusing on the role of legal institutions and discourses As practices and ideas travel the globe such as the promotion and transmission of zero tolerance and retributive justice programs the near ubiquitous acceptance of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and the transnational migration of street gangs the legal arena is being transformed The essays in this book offer case studies and in depth analyses spanning diverse settings including courts and prisons inner city streets international human rights initiatives newspaper offices local youth organizations and the United Nations Drawing on everyday social practices each chapter adds clarity to our current understanding of the ways in which ideas and practices in different parts of the world can affect youth in one particular locale International encyclopedia of adolescence Jeffrey Jensen Arnett, 2007 Publisher description Crime in Rural Australia Elaine Barclay, 2007 Crime in Rural Australia brings together leading academics who examine the major dimensions of crime and justice in rural and regional Australia The Routledge Handbook of Global Perspectives on Homelessness, Law & Policy Chris Bevan, 2024-06-06 This handbook provides a comprehensive global survey and assessment of the law and policy relating to homelessness prevention Homelessness is regarded internationally as one of the most pressing issues facing humanity and one of the greatest social challenges of our times This has been further amplified as a result of the Covid 19 pandemic Across the globe there is an enormous divergence in both experiences of and responses to homelessness from governments and state actors This handbook examines how different jurisdictions from across all five continents of the world have encountered framed and responded to homelessness Written by expert scholars and leaders in their field the book engages in a multidisciplinary and comparative analysis of homelessness as an issue of acute social concern Understandings of homelessness are geographically culturally and historically situated making analysis of each jurisdiction s approach by a national expert deeply insightful The collection examines legal and extra legal policy interventions targeted at reducing or preventing homelessness from across the globe Drawing on diverse perspectives differing cultures and welfare regimes it thus constitutes a timely evaluation of current approaches to homelessness internationally This book will appeal to students and scholars of homelessness sociology social policy anthropology and urban sociology as well as international and national policymakers

Conflict, Politics and Crime

Chris Cunneen, 2020-07-28 Aboriginal people are grossly over represented before the courts and in our gaols Despite numerous inquiries State and Federal and the considerable funds spent trying to understand this phenomenon nothing has changed Indigenous people continue to be apprehended sentenced incarcerated and die in gaols One part of this depressing and seemingly inexorable process is the behaviour of police Drawing on research from across Australia Chris Cunneen focuses on how police and Aboriginal people interact in urban and rural environments He explores police history and police culture the nature of Aboriginal offending and the prevalence of over policing the use of police discretion the particular circumstances of Aboriginal youth and Aboriginal women the experience of community policing and the key police responses to Aboriginal issues He traces the pressures on both sides of the equation brought by new political demands In exploring these issues Conflict Politics and Crime argues that changing the nature of contemporary relations between Aboriginal people and the police is a key to altering Aboriginal over representation in the criminal justice system and a step towards the advancement of human rights
