Police Militarization Frederick W. Turner II, Bryanna Fox, 2018-12-11 This Brief examines the militarization of law enforcement in the United States through the lens of the stakeholders primarily responsible for implementing funding and enacting the practice Largely a result of policies such as the war on drugs war on terror and the 1033 program there has been a gradual but dramatic rise in the use of military grade weapons equipment and tactics used by police agencies across the United States This Brief examines the level of support for various aspects of police militarization by lawmakers police executives and local police officers and how their opinions may differ based upon their current position or demographic features using a series of analyses and propensity score matching techniques This Brief also provides an overview of some of the key policy changes responsible for police militarization and provides insights into the views held by policymakers and law enforcement on various aspects of the practice The results indicate that while many responsible for this shift are in favor of paramilitary procurement programs there are differing opinions on key issues such as oversight and use of military grade weapons equipment and paramilitary tactics This work will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice particularly those with an interest in policing studies as well as related fields such as public policy public administration emergency management and sociology

American Colonial Spaces in the Philippines Scott Kirsch, 2023-02-15 American Colonial Spaces in the Philippines tells the story of U S colonialists who attempted in the first decades of the twentieth century to build an enduring American empire in the Philippines through the production of space From concrete interventions in infrastructure urban planning and built environments to more abstract projects of mapping and territorialization the book traces the efforts of U S Insular Government agents to make space for empire in the Philippines through forms of territory map landscape and road and how these spaces were understood as solutions to problems of colonial rule Through the lens of space the book offers an original history of a highly transformative but largely misunderstood or forgotten imperial moment when the Philippine archipelago made up of thousands of islands and an ethnically and religiously diverse population of more than seven million became the unlikely primary setting for U S experimentation with formal colonial governance Telling that story around key figures including Cameron Forbes Daniel Burnham Dean Worcester and William Howard Taft the book provides distinctive chapters dedicated to spaces of territory sovereignty maps knowledge landscape aesthetics and roads circulation suggesting new and integrative historical geographical approaches This book will be of interest to students of Cultural Historical and Political Geography American History American Studies Philippine Studies Southeast Asia Philippines Asian Studies as well as general readers interested in these areas The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a
