Exclusion from and Within School Alison Kearney,2011-11-19 As societies become more diverse so too must they become more inclusive In inclusive societies all members regardless of their ethnicity religion socio economic status ability or disability are valued and free to participate and there is equity of access and reward Schools have a powerful role to play in creating inclusive societies and this begins with the notion of inclusive schools schools were all children belong where all children have a place and where difference is a natural part of what it is to be a human being Based on this understanding many countries around the world are moving towards more inclusive education systems However working against inclusive education are forces of exclusion factors that act to exclude and marginalize minority students from participation and learning at school Therefore in order to progress the principles and practices of inclusive education an examination of the construct of exclusion is critical Important questions to be interrogated if inclusive education is to be a reality are What is exclusion Why does it occur How can it be reduced and eliminated This book critically examines the construct of exclusion exploring how disabled students experience exclusion both from and within school and suggesting reasons why this occurs Finally key foci for change are proposed as platforms for interrogating reducing and eliminating the forces of exclusion
