Megyery, 2013-12-30 The studies in this volume uncover a wide range of opinion about young people and their involvement in politics Interest Groups and Elections in Canada F. Leslie Seidle, 1991-01-01 The two studies in this book explore the nature and influence of special interest groups They consider different aspects of the question In the context of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms how can the laws intended to secure a fair electoral process be reconciled with freedom of expression Women in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 1991-01-01 Women are the most under represented social group in the elected assemblies of the worl Women everywhere constitute m ore than one half of the population and rarely are more than a handful of the political elite The studies in this volume examine women s involvement in political parties both past and present Empirical studies identify the roles Canadian women play in parties the opportunities and barriers they face and their progress toward greater representation in the political process The questions addressed in this volume include What are the major barriers to women s entry into federal politics Janine Brodie Do large numbers of women remain confined to pink collar work at the expensive of executive positions Sylvia Bashevkin What is the impact of the candidate selection process on the election of women to the House of Commons Lynda Erickson How does incumbency affect the numbe rof women elected to federal office Lisa Young What is the influence of media coverage on women in politics Gertrude Robinson and Armande Saint Jean The authors agree that the under representation of women in politics undermines the democratic credibility of our governing institutions Nonetheless they are cautiously optimistic regarding the prospects for the third generation of women entering politics How Ottawa Spends, 1997-1998 Gene Swimmer, 1997-05-15 In this volume eleven areas of government policy are analyzed including economic management deficit control trade promotion and employment national unity social policies child care elderly benefits and housing and ethics Overall Liberal policies bear a much stronger resemblance to Tory Blue philosophy than their own Red Book Aboriginal Peoples and Electoral Reform in Canada

Robert A. Milen, 1991-01-01 This volume features differing views of past present and possible future roles for Aboriginal people in the Canadian political and electoral system The studies address the issues facing Aboriginal people and the efforts to increase their involvement in the federal electoral system Robert Milen examines the development of Aboriginal political consciousness since the 1970s with attention to recent constitutional and electoral initiatives and aspirations Augie Fleras study considers the New Zealand system of guaranteed representation for the Maori and suggests how Canada might follow this example Valerie Alia studies how the media deal with Aboriginal issues basing her recommendations on interviews with Aboriginal people who offered her their views Roger Gibbins critiques the idea of guaranteed Aboriginal representation in the House of Commons

City Politics, Canada James Lightbody, 2006-01-01 City Politics Canada will both irritate and please but it should be read it raises all the important questions about urban governance in Canada Caroline Andrew Centre on Governance University of Ottawa

Ethno-Cultural Groups and Visible Minorities in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 1996-08-08 The studies in this volume examine the nature and extent of their participation in Canadian politics in both political parties and the House of Commons While these groups feel marginalized they believe strongly in the objectives of democracy and want to participate in a Canada that realizes those ideals more successfully

Election Broadcasting In Canada Frederick J. Fletcher, 1991-01-01 Election Broadcasting in Canada explores the role of media in Canadian politics David R Spencer David Hogarth Catherine M Bolan and others look at the history legal framework and difficulties in election broadcasting as well as the impact of new broadcasting services

How Ottawa Spends, 1994-95 Susan D. Phillips, 1994-06-15

Prophets, Pastors and Public Choices Roger Hutchinson, 2006-01-01 The Mackenzie Valley natural gas pipeline debate included many actors This is the first in depth study in comparative religious ethics to examine the debate with a particular focus on the role of the Canadian churches In 1974 twenty seven of the world s largest oil and natural gas companies applied for permission to build a pipeline through the Mackenzie Valley to transport Alaskan and northern Canadian gas to large southern markets Many northern native peoples opposed the proposal and called for a moratorium on major northern development projects until native land claims had been settled The mainline Canadian Christian churches supported the call for a moratorium and through the interchurch coalition Project North campaigned against the pipeline However some native peoples supported the proposal to build the pipeline and many of the pipeline s proponents were members of churches that called for a moratorium on the project This case study in comparative religious ethics though written from a pro moratorium stand attempts to clarify the debate Conflicting responses to the pipeline proposal are assessed in relation to hard facts concerning the need for northern gas in the South social scientific findings regarding the impact of the pipeline on native communities the rights of native peoples to participate in decisions affecting their lives assumptions about the way of life of non native people in the South and the role of religious convictions in public choices This thoroughly researched study reveals the inner workings and influences of the Canadian churches involved and illustrates their commitment on behalf of the northern natives opposed to the project

Beyond the Impasse Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1998 Efforts to reform the Canadian constitution have only resulted in a serious impasse fostered by demands for change from Quebec and reticence from English Canada This book looks at the potential for achieving reconciliation through a new partnership between Quebec and Canada in a series of papers that examine the stakes for both

Canada and Quebec in opting for a modified relationship that is neither the status quo nor complete separation Two papers in part 1 lay the conceptual groundwork concerning the constituent elements of partnership Papers in part 2 deal with the economic union in the context of a renewed partnership Four papers in part 3 examine issues concerning rights recognition and citizenship in a Quebec Canada partnership Part 5 broadens the discussion to the international arena and includes a comparative international scan of partnership models The final part distils the two editors separate conclusions on how to move beyond the impasse based on the studies presented
