A. Alekseeva,1996 Combining the theoretical perspectives of a leading Russian political scientist and an American political philosopher who have collaborated for years Capitalism with a Human Face analyzes the relation between economics and politics in Russia as it moves toward modernization Throughout the book the authors contrast Western media accounts of the Russian situation with less accessible but more relevant data gathered in Russia since 1991 They advocate a new notion of centrism for Russia one that combines democratic politics and a market economy without abandoning the social guarantees on which many Russians have long relied and without which their political and economic life is likely to remain in turmoil This will be an important work for scholars and students of social and political philosophy international relations comparative politics and economics Nations at War Daniel S. Geller,J. David Singer,1998-02-13 Nations at War provides an explanation of war in international politics grounded on data based empirical research The book classifies and synthesizes the research findings of over 500 quantitative analyses of war at the analytic level of the state dyad region and international system Because wars follow from political decisions two basic decision making models the rational and the non rational are examined in relation to the explanatory framework of the volume In addition case analyses of two wars the Iran Iraq War 1980 and World War I 1914 are provided as demonstrations of scientifically based explanations of historical events The primary structural factors responsible for the onset and seriousness of war are identified and the explanations are developed according to the scientific model of covering laws The conclusion presents a discussion of the potential for probabilistic conditional predictions of conflict within the context of war and peace studies The Economy and Political Culture in New Democracies: An Analysis of Democratic Support in Central and Eastern Europe Kristin Broderick,2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 This research examines the socio economic and cultural factors that influence the development of democracy and also explores how new democracies can be maintained and consolidated It investigates the consolidation of new democracies in Central and Eastern Europe which face the hurdle of transforming their economies The study looks at the effect of economic factors on popular support for democracy and discusses what factors influence citizen commitment to democratic regimes in Central and Eastern Europe It argues that citizen perception of well being is an important element in influencing political support Case studies cover developing democracies in Europe such as the Czech Republic or Slovakia and policy implications specifically in terms of economic policy are offered that may aid democracies in their consolidation Political Handbook of the World, 1999 Arthur S. Banks, Thomas C. Muller, 1999

Elections in Africa Dieter Nohlen, Bernard Thibaut, Michael Krennerich, 1999-07-22 Elections have always been an integral part of post independence African politics and have assumed utmost importance in the course of recent democratisation processes However comparative research on the political development in Africa lacks reliable electoral data Elections in Africa fills this gap The handbook is the only reliable source for African elections from independence to present In the first volume of this series Elections in Africa presents a country by country study of African nations that provides a comparative introduction on elections and electoral systems Each country chapter examines the history of the institutional and electoral arrangements the evolution of suffrage and current electoral provisions Precise and exhaustive data on national elections and referendums are presented comparatively The book provides a definitive and comprehensive set of data on elections and electoral systems in order to facilitate comparative research Data is presented in a systematic manner allowing for both historical and cross national comparisons Resurgent Islam and the Politics of Identity Ali A. Mazrui, 2014-10-16

One of the most important functions of religion is to serve as a basis of identity This collection of essays by Ali A Mazrui a distinguished scholar of Islam discusses how Islam differentiates Muslims from non Muslims and affects how Muslims view each other In the light of the upheaval currently occurring in the Muslim world this collection provides readers with valuable context for the challenges of modernity and multiculturalism faced by Muslims In these essays Mazrui deploys his formidable knowledge of theology history and Muslim societies to analyze the theological historical and political influences on Muslim identity In his usual style of comparative analysis Mazrui draws most frequently in these essays from examples in Africa the Middle East South Asia and Muslim communities in the West These essays delve into the complexities of Muslim identity and stratification and provide contributions to key debates on modern Islamic political ideology These essays will be of interest to readers engaged with Islam religion culture comparative politics and international relations The Dictator's Dilemma at the Ballot Box Masaaki Higashijima, 2022-06-07

Contrary to our stereotypical views dictators often introduce elections in which they refrain from employing blatant electoral fraud Why do electoral reforms happen in autocracies Do these elections destabilize autocratic rule The Dictator's Dilemma at the Ballot Box argues that strong autocrats who can garner popular support become less dependent on coercive electioneering strategies When autocrats fail to design elections properly elections backfire in the form of coups protests and the opposition's stunning election victories The book's theoretical implications are tested on a battery of cross national analyses with newly collected data on autocratic elections and in depth comparative case studies of the two Central Asian republics of Kazakhstan and Kyrgyzstan African Thought in Comparative Perspective Ali A. Mazrui, 2014-03-25 African Thought in Comparative Perspective showcases how adept Ali Mazrui the most prolific writer on Africa today is at using complex conceptual apparatuses to categorize and synthesize Africa's political and social thought This book thus offers an original interpretation of the knowledge that has been accumulated over the years and which is of timeless relevance It covers such themes as the legacy of the African liberation movements the convergence and divergence of African Islamic and Western thought nationalist ideologies in Africa the role of religion in African politics and the impact of Ancient Greek philosophy on contemporary Africa Occupational Outlook Handbook, 1994-1995 DIANE Publishing Company, 1994-05 A nationally recognized best selling reference work An easy to use comprehensive encyclopedia of today's occupations working conditions employment training other qualifications job outlook earnings related occupations sources of additional information Revised every 2 years Developing Democracy Larry Diamond, 1999-05-07 The book concludes with a hopeful view of the prospects for a fourth wave of global democratization
